

BRITISH AT GENEVA OFFER NEW CRUISER SCHEME TO GIBSON

Plenary Session May Not Be Held Today as a Consequence.

IS MODIFIED FORM OF EARLIER PROGRAM

Americans Ready to Speak Frankly if the Parley Should Collapse.

DIVERGING PRINCIPLES CAUSE OF DISSENSION

English, U. S. Delegates Hold, Not Willing to Meet Needs of Others.

Geneva, Switzerland, July 10 (A.P.). It is generally expected that the plenary session of the tripartite naval conference, set for tomorrow, will be postponed.

W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the British admiralty, has written to Hugh S. Gibson, chief of the American delegation, detailing a new British cruiser-building plan, on which an agreement might be effected. The British state that the plan was considered at a session of the technical experts, but that America rejected it. It now is readvanced in modified form.

Mr. Gibson has replied, asking for further information and intimating that since the British had asked for Monday's plenary session it was incumbent on them to say whether it should be held.

The Associated Press learns on reliable authority that the British cabinet has examined the situation created by developments in the naval conference and that the return to England of W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the British admiralty, for consultation with his fellow ministers should not be dismissed as an impossibility.

The Associated Press correspondent understands an equally good authority that all three delegations at Geneva—British, American and Japanese—are prepared for the possibility of an early rupture of the conference, with the British determined that if the break comes they will exert every effort to demonstrate before the world that the British are not to be blamed.

U. S. Will Speak Out.

As for the Americans, they seem so convinced of the reasonableness of their conference attitude that they will have no hesitation in speaking out frankly, and without mincing words, in the event of a possible though undesired collapse of the negotiations.

It is believed that Hugh S. Gibson, head of the American delegation, has been invested with complete authority to deal with the situation as he sees best. If he can negotiate a treaty which Americans would regard as involving limitation and not expansion, he is authorized to expend every effort in achieving that end. If, however, he finds that all measures of conciliation fail, then he is authorized to use his judgment and decide whether any gain can be attained by pursuing the negotiations.

Should this break eventuate—and there is still some hope of averting it—it is likely that Mr. Gibson will speak out plainly and in public. The readiness of the British to accept a figure of 465,000 merely represents what they would accept up to 1936, for it is understood the British estimate their needs by 1942 at about 600,000 tons.

British Accuse America.

The British maintain that the United States, by seeking a treaty which would give it the right to build a large number of 10,000-ton cruisers, a type which Great Britain herself does not require, is so "eating up" the total tonnage that not enough tons are left for Great Britain to distribute into a large number of smaller cruisers, which the British insist are vital for that country's geographical and economic needs.

The American delegation appears determined to accept no higher total figure in cruisers for the United States and Great Britain than 400,000 tons. This is the maximum and it seems doubtful if the Japanese will think of considering it, as they still are fighting for maintenance of the American original minimum proposal of 250,000 tons for the United States and Great Britain.

Great Britain's endeavors are being concentrated on an attempt to have the Americans agree to build small sized cruisers. As one American put it: "They are trying to force upon us a limitation of cruiser characteristics instead of limitation of cruiser tonnage."

Counting cruisers of the Omaha class and the 10,000-tonners, two of which are in process of construction, and six of which have been authorized by Congress, the effective fighting strength of the American Navy will be about 150,000 tons.

Practically all other cruisers must be replaced, and if the British estimate of 465,000 tons were accepted it would involve future building expenditure for the American people of about half a billion dollars.

The Americans say they can not in-dorse such a project and point out

Irvington Miss, Aged 7 Spurns John D.'s Dime

Tarrytown, N. Y., July 10 (A.P.).—A young lady today refused to accept one of John D. Rockefeller's famous dimes.

The young lady was Miss "Pattie" Randall, aged seven, of Irvington, granddaughter of Robert A. Patterson, a neighbor of Mr. Rockefeller here.

The offering of the dime came at the conclusion of services in the second Reformed Protestant Dutch Church, "Pattie" was poised on the seat of a pew.

"Well, well," said Mr. Rockefeller, looking at her as he reached into his pocket and drew forth a shiny dime. He pressed it gently into her hand, but she scorned it with great dignity.

"I am sorry, I can't take it," she replied.

Mr. Rockefeller quietly put it back among the other dimes.

WASHINGTON-MARYLAND INCOME RETURNS GAIN

Tax Receipts Show Increase of $4,805,151 Over Previous Year.

TOTAL IS $50,709,186

Combined income tax returns for Maryland and the District of Columbia jumped $4,805,151.64 during the last fiscal year above receipts for 1926, while total internal revenue returns for the territory climbed to $50,709,186.42, according to a Treasury Department statement yesterday, based on collectors' telegraphic reports.

The $58,381,614.77 miscellaneous tax returns for Virginia is $53,314,660.11 greater than the combined miscellaneous receipts for the District and Maryland together, although the $20,778,470.08 income tax figure is $24,863,761.68 lower. Combined total internal revenue receipts for the two States and the District are $129,869,271.27, according to the report.

Income tax receipts for Maryland and the District totaled $45,642,231.76, and miscellaneous taxes, $5,066,954.66, according to the statement. Total income tax returns for the fiscal year of 1926 in this territory amounted to but $40,837,080.12, the Treasury figures show.

An increase of $29,995,817.67 developed in National internal revenue receipts for the fiscal year ended June 30, over the year preceding. At the same time, miscellaneous taxes decreased $216,031,255.41, the income tax increase of $245,728,873.08 more than making up the difference in the total receipts. These amounted to $2,865,695,509.86, as compared with $2,835,999,692.19 the year before.

Vanderbilt, Jr., Said To Be Seeking Divorce

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—The New York Times says it has confirmed reports that Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., son of Gen. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, has gone to Reno, Nev., where he will seek a divorce from Mrs. Rachel Littleton Vanderbilt.

The Vanderbilts were married April 29, 1920, at St. Thomas' Church here. Vanderbilt established a chain of tabloid newspapers in several cities through the West which failed when his father withdrew financial support. For the past year he has been a member of the staff of a New York newspaper.

Buried 2 Days, Miner Is Dug Out Alive

Chisholm, Minn., July 10 (A.P.).—Buried under tons of ore and earth for two days and believed dead, Nick Bozenich was found alive tonight in the Bruce mine by fellow workers who had been digging for his body 46 hours.

Bozenich was unhurt, although very tired from having to remain standing. A fall of earth on one of the underground levels Friday caught Bozenich, but a number of heavy timbers formed a shelter for him.

ARMY DIRIGIBLE HITS HIGH-TENSION WIRE

Col. Paegelow and Two Aids Have Narrow Escape in the TF-1.

St. Louis, Mo., July 10 (A.P.).—Lieut. John A. Paegelow, commandant at Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., and two aids, Lieut. K. S. Baxter and Corp. H. T. Robinson, narrowly escaped death tonight when the TF-1 nonrigid Army dirigible crashed into a 33,000-volt high-tension wire 1 1/4 miles north of Kirkwood, a suburb. None of the three occupants of the dirigible was injured.

Lieut. Col. Paegelow and his two aids were out cruising when motor trouble caused a forced landing of the ship in a field. After repairing the motor, the dirigible again took the air and immediately crashed into the high-tension wire. Sparks flew in all directions as the metal parts of the ship came in contact with the wire, an upright support on a post rose a hole in the dirigible, forcing it down to earth again.

The ship was badly damaged, but Col. Paegelow said it could be repaired.

POLICEMAN KILLS YOUTH IN FLEEING CAR AFTER CHASE

Failure to Obey Order to Stop Results in Fatal Shooting.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN FROM DOCTOR'S HOME

Two Others, Who Were in Machine, Say Liquor Was Purchased.

Larry Hall, 20 years old, of 751 Morton street northwest, was shot and killed almost instantly shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning by Patrolman B. R. Campbell, of the Tenth precinct.

Climaxed by a thrilling chase for almost a mile on the narrow Harewood road between the Soldiers home and Catholic University grounds, the shooting occurred near the east entrance to the home.

Campbell was riding in the sidecar of a motorcycle driven by Patrolman William S. Buchanan. Hall was driving the automobile when the shots were fired. Francis Irving Davis, 20 years old, 749 Park road northwest and Everett White, 30 years old, 5909 Silgo Mill road northwest, occupants of the automobile, were taken into custody by police and held at the Tenth precinct. A fourth occupant of the pursued car escaped.

Driving 50 Miles an Hour.

The police vehicle was cruising in the vicinity of Michigan avenue and Harewood road northeast, when the automobile whizzed into the road from the avenue at a speed of more than 50 miles an hour, according to the police version. Buchanan and Campbell immediately gave chase.

At a speed of 60 miles an hour, the automobile raced down the narrow roadway, the police say, and was drawn further and further away from the motorcycle. After a half mile had been traveled, the police declare, the automobile slowed down and an occupant leaped from the front seat fleeing into the university grounds. It was at this juncture that the motorcycle drew near the car.

Commands to stop the automobile were continually shouted by the patrolmen, but were unheeded. As the automobile was nearing the east entrance to the home, the motorcycle drew along side and again the commands were given.

In answer the car swerved to the side of the road and was crowding the motorcycle into the iron fence, surrounding the home grounds, when Campbell drew his revolver and pulled the trigger twice. The automobile careened a short distance and crashed into the fence.

Two Stupefied in Seat.

Blood streaming from the back of his head, Hall was found unconscious at the driver's seat. The second bullet had penetrated the rear window of the car and lodged in the back of his head. The other bullet was embedded in the body of the car. Davis, a white, stupefied, were in the rear seat. A passing automobile took the wounded youth to Garfield hospital, where Dr. J. J. St. Thomas' Church here.

Alabama Bill Asks Penalty for Masking

Montgomery, Ala., July 10 (A.P.).—As an outgrowth of the two recent brutal killings in Alabama, a bill has been prepared by State Senator Travis Williams, of Franklin County, for introduction Tuesday to make it a misdemeanor to appear on the streets in Alabama masked. The penalty would be a fine of not less than $100 and a chain gang sentence not exceeding a year.

The measure would provide that in case any criminal law was violated by a masked person the offender would be guilty of a felony punishable upon conviction by a sentence of not less than 5 nor more than 20 years in the State penitentiary.

WAYNE B. WHEELER IS IN GOOD HEALTH

Reports That Antislavery Counsel Was Ill Are Held Erroneous.

Reports that Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Antislavery League, was critically ill yesterday, were found to be erroneous last night when Associated Press dispatches reported him resting in good health at his summer home at Point Isabel, on Lake Michigan.

Two days of inquiry had failed to reveal the whereabouts of the Antislavery League attorney, and last night local officials of the league flatly refused to divulge his location, although they declared themselves cognizant of them.

According to the Associated Press dispatch, which quotes the Rev. R. N. Holsapple, superintendent of the Michigan Antislavery League, Mr. Wheeler recently followed an annual custom of submitting to examinations at a Battle Creek, Mich., sanitarium, and was pronounced in good health. He left the sanitarium late in June.

Index to Today's Issue.

- Pages
1—Irish Minister Assassinated.
New British Arms Proposal.
Capital Police Kill Youth.
Liner Strikes in Iceberg.
District Income Tax Gains.
16 Hurt in Traffic Crashes.
Mills' Brother Is Grilled.
2—Coolidge Awaits Farm Talk.
Ford Settlement Due Today.
Slayer Dismisses Women.
3—Byrd Victim of Ptolemaie.
Hundreds Die in Saxony Flood.
Fall of Poincaré Is Foreseen.
4—Magazine Features.
5—At the Local Theaters.
Women's Party Plans Drive.
Fixed Aid Session Opposed.
6—Editorial.
7—Society.
Soldiers' Records on Graves.
8—Airplane Brake Invented.
9—10—Finance News.
11—12—Sports.
13—The Post's Comics.
14—The Post's Comics.
Radio News and Programs.
15—Classified Advertising.
16—Crashes on Fourteenth Street.
Many Hear Accused Pastor.
Men Burned in Fire.
Hibernians on Outing.

LINER STRIKES ICEBERG; SLIDES OFF. UNINJURED

Montcalm's Passengers Don Lifebelts and Boats Are Made Ready by Crew.

HELD 44 HOURS IN FLOES

Glasgow, Scotland, July 10 (A.P.).—The Canadian Pacific Steamer Montcalm, two days out from Montreal, ran into an iceberg, but eventually came off without much damage, though she was delayed 44 hours in the ice field.

The Montcalm had a close escape when on July 9, after passing several small bergs in the strait of Belle Isle, the ship suddenly slid onto a submerged ledge of a big berg and canted steeply. It had been foggy for many hours, and the Montcalm consequently was proceeding slowly, with a keen lookout. But the tall iceberg appeared to rise suddenly out of the mist.

It was 2:30 in the afternoon and many of the passengers were on deck. Others hurried up, feeling the shock. They were ordered to don life belts. Lifeboats were swung out and crews stood ready to launch them.

In the meantime the Montcalm, righted herself and slid off the ledge. An examination showed that one propeller blade was gone, but otherwise only the paint was scraped.

The fog continued for two days and the ship was unable to proceed. Other vessels were similarly held up and sirens were heard on all sides.

Eventually the fog lifted and the Montcalm, although somewhat crippled, was able to proceed at reduced speed.

Mexico to List Firms Selling to "Enemies"

Mexico City, July 10 (A.P.).—The Mexican foreign office has sent circular letters to Mexican consuls abroad instructing them to report the names of foreign firms dealing with "enemies of the Calles government."

The information is sought in order to place an embargo on the properties in Mexico of the guilty firms and to boycott them.

Illness of Her Dog Brings Actress Fine

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Martha Mason, stage dancer, was fined $5 for leaving her car on a street seven hours. Her excuse was that her darling chow puppy chewed a cigarette stub and became frightfully ill.

Coolidges in Dakota Lodge Recall Death of Their Son

Serene Stillness in the Valley of Western Home Remindful of Sorrow of Three Years Ago; Hear Youthful Preacher Tell of God in Nature.

Rapid City, S. Dak., July 10 (A.P.). A stillness from a poignant memory settled over the summer White House today as President and Mrs. Coolidge, alone in their quiet retreat in the mountains, contemplated the sorrow that came to them three years ago in the death of their son, Calvin.

They went to church, as usual, at Hermosa and listened to a sermon from the youthful Rolf Lum on how God speaks a lesson through nature and they must have been reminded that had their son lived he would have been, both in years and stature, not unlike the boy who spoke to them.

When the services were over, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge hurried back to the State game lodge and after luncheon spent the major portion of the day in seclusion.

God's beauty in nature of which they had been told earlier in the day by the youthful Lum, cast its solitude about them. Into the valley of the summer White House came a breeze fragrant with pine tempered by a rising temperature. It rustled dying needles and birch leaves which carpet the mountain trails from the lodge and it shook the tops of the trees into dropping a pine cone or two over the shingled roof of the home.

Occasionally an automobile came by, filled with tourists craning necks to

BROTHER OF MILLS GRILLED BY POLICE IN ROCKVILLE CASE

Leads Obtained Expected to Result in Arrest of Slayer Soon.

COLORED EMPLOYE ALSO IS QUESTIONED

Friction Among Groups Results in Protests by Citizens; Duplication Charged.

Early this morning authorities of Rockville grilled a member of the family of Edward L. Mills, wealthy farmer of Hunting Hill, and developed leads which are expected to lead, within a few hours, to the arrest of the slayer of the prosperous agriculturist.

State's Attorney Robert Peter and Detective Lieut. James A. Manning shortly after midnight went to the farm of Ezekiah Mills, brother of the slain man, and after a few preliminary questions, took him to Rockville where he was subjected to a thorough examination.

Ezekiah Mills was questioned together with a colored employee who works on his farm, Clifford Dorsey. Mills was grilled as to his relations with his brother, and the colored farm hand was questioned as to statements which he has made to the effect that he saw the slayer leave the Mills farm Thursday morning shortly after the murder.

Following the examination at the Rockville Courthouse, Ezekiah Mills was allowed to return to the farm where his wife is expected soon to give birth to a child.

Mills said that he had a "very good idea as to the identity of his brother's slayer." Ezekiah added that there were four other persons who shared his beliefs. State's Attorney Peter and Detective Manning will question these four others this morning.

Dorsey, when questioned on the day of the murder by county officers as to whether he had seen any stranger in the vicinity of the Mills farm after the slaying of Edward Mills, according to county police, declared "No."

Last night, however, Dorsey told State's Attorney Peter and Lieut. Manning that he had seen a man at two minutes past 6 o'clock running across the farm of his employer, crossing to the arns-town pike shortly after the murder was committed.

Dorsey also declared last night that he heard shots fired and a woman's

5 Killed, Many Hurt In Clash Near Bagdad

Bagdad, Turkey, July 10 (A.P.).—Two soldiers and three civilians were killed and a number on both sides were wounded today in a clash between Mohammedans and a detachment of the Iraqi army.

A hundred thousand Mohammedans had gathered to take part in the pious lamentations at the famous Shiah Mosque of Kadhimain, a few miles outside of Bagdad. The occasion was the annual passion play commemorating the death 1,200 years ago of Hosain, who is venerated as a martyr.

The origin of the trouble is obscure, but the crowd, angered by some real or imaginary affront, attacked the soldiers, who were unarmed.

Six Trainmen Injured By 48 Runaway Cars

Macon, Mo., July 10 (A. P.).—Six persons, including two trainmen, were injured early today when westbound Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train No. 17 struck 48 freight cars, which were running wild a mile east of here.

Engineer David Williams, Brookfield, suffered a fractured left leg which may have to be amputated and severe body bruises, and Fireman Charles H. Rose, also of Brookfield, was severely scalped. The others were not badly injured.

AMERICAN ROTARIANS IN TWO AIR MISHAPS

None Hurt When Paris-London Plane Is Forced Down Twice.

London, July 10 (A.P.).—American Rotarians who have been touring Europe after the Rotary international convention at Ostend, had a dangerous and thrilling experience yesterday when traveling by air liner from Paris to Croydon, with a transatlantic aspirant, Capt. McIntosh, as pilot.

The liner had to make a forced descent on a hillside at Brasted, near Sevenoaks, Kent, owing to mist and shortage of fuel. The pilot earlier in the day had been forced to land at Berck, in France, to repair a leak. No one was hurt in either mishap, and after they were safely on the ground all of them said they enjoyed the experience.

The passengers included Mrs. Eugene Newsom, Durham, N. C.; Mrs. Helen Street, Oklahoma City, and Mrs. S. W. Cooper, Miss Francis Overman and Miss Ethel Harvey, of Wichita, Kans.

ASSASSINS KILL O'HIGGINS FREE STATE 'STRONG MAN'; CRISIS AT DUBLIN IS SEEN

Long List of Assassinations In Irish Struggle Is Recalled

(Associated Press.)

The assassination of Kevin O'Higgins recalls a long series of similar crimes having to do with Ireland between 1919 and 1922.

Counted among the victims are Michael Collins, General Sir Henry Wilson, Thomas MacDonagh, Lord Mayor of Cork, the Lord Mayor and former Lord Mayor of Limerick; Miss Barrington, daughter of Sir Charles Barrington; Frank Brooke, members of the privy council; Alan Bell, a magistrate; Maj. Nelson, Brig. Gen. Adamson and many others appointed to enforce the law of the realm.

The death of Mr. O'Higgins brings added grief to Gov. Gen. Healy, whose wife died last Friday.

Michael Collins was chief of the provisional Free State government when on August 22, 1922, he was shot dead from ambush at Bandon, County Cork, on the eve of his marriage. He was 31 years old.

Ten days before this occurred the death of President Arthur Griffith of the Dail Eireann. Kevin O'Higgins then was minister of economic affairs. William T. Cosgrave took the helm, succeeding Collins.

Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, mil-

tary adviser of the Ulster government, was shot and killed in front of his London residence June 22, 1922. Joseph O'Sullivan, a former soldier, and Reginald Dunn, members of the Irish Republican army, were captured red-handed and hanged at Wandsworth Prison, August 10.

Brig. Gen. Adamson, commanding the Athlone brigade of the Irish Republican army, was slain by irregulars at Athlone, April 25, 1922.

W. J. Twaddell, member of the Ulster parliament, was shot and killed in Belfast, in May, 1922.

Kevin's father, Dr. Thomas O'Higgins, coroner of Queens County, was shot dead by armed men in Dublin, February 11, 1923. He was Tim Healy's brother-in-law and 70 years old.

Thomas MacDonagh, lord mayor of Cork, was shot and killed by masked men in March, 1920.

Miss Barrington was killed in ambush in May, 1921.

Frank Brooke, P. C., a unionist and railway director, was killed in Dublin in July, 1920.

Magistrate Bell was dragged from a crowded street car and shot dead in March, 1920.

TRAIN KILLS ELEPHANT; OTHERS ARE STAMPEDED

Half-Dozen Persons Hurt at Aurora, Ill.; Animals' Trainer Loses Life.

PASSENGERS IN A PANIC

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—A circus elephant and its trainer were killed, half a dozen persons injured and six other elephants of the Hagenbach-Wallace circus were thrown into a wild stampede early today when a heavily loaded Chicago, Aurora & Elgin passenger train crashed into the herd of elephants as they were being taken from the circus grounds at Aurora, Ill.

One of the elephants was knocked to the ground, crushing its trainer, Andrea Stuckwell, Springfield, Ill., under it, when the train struck the jungle beast. Three of the elephants, red lanterns waving from their tails, threw their riders and stampeded through the streets of Aurora with scores of circus employees in wild pursuit while auto-

CONTINUED ON PAGE 16, COLUMN 8

5 Killed, Many Hurt In Clash Near Bagdad

Bagdad, Turkey, July 10 (A.P.).—Two soldiers and three civilians were killed and a number on both sides were wounded today in a clash between Mohammedans and a detachment of the Iraqi army.

A hundred thousand Mohammedans had gathered to take part in the pious lamentations at the famous Shiah Mosque of Kadhimain, a few miles outside of Bagdad. The occasion was the annual passion play commemorating the death 1,200 years ago of Hosain, who is venerated as a martyr.

The origin of the trouble is obscure, but the crowd, angered by some real or imaginary affront, attacked the soldiers, who were unarmed.

Six Trainmen Injured By 48 Runaway Cars

Macon, Mo., July 10 (A. P.).—Six persons, including two trainmen, were injured early today when westbound Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train No. 17 struck 48 freight cars, which were running wild a mile east of here.

Engineer David Williams, Brookfield, suffered a fractured left leg which may have to be amputated and severe body bruises, and Fireman Charles H. Rose, also of Brookfield, was severely scalped. The others were not badly injured.

AMERICAN ROTARIANS IN TWO AIR MISHAPS

None Hurt When Paris-London Plane Is Forced Down Twice.

London, July 10 (A.P.).—American Rotarians who have been touring Europe after the Rotary international convention at Ostend, had a dangerous and thrilling experience yesterday when traveling by air liner from Paris to Croydon, with a transatlantic aspirant, Capt. McIntosh, as pilot.

The liner had to make a forced descent on a hillside at Brasted, near Sevenoaks, Kent, owing to mist and shortage of fuel. The pilot earlier in the day had been forced to land at Berck, in France, to repair a leak. No one was hurt in either mishap, and after they were safely on the ground all of them said they enjoyed the experience.

The passengers included Mrs. Eugene Newsom, Durham, N. C.; Mrs. Helen Street, Oklahoma City, and Mrs. S. W. Cooper, Miss Francis Overman and Miss Ethel Harvey, of Wichita, Kans.

18 INJURED IN SUNDAY AUTO TRAFFIC MISHAPS

Girl, 6, Suffers Spinal Injury in Crash; Four Badly Hurt in Park Accident.

MAN LOSES TIP OF NOSE

Eight persons were seriously hurt and ten others suffered minor injuries in accidents due to heavy Sunday traffic on Washington streets and nearby Maryland highways.

Six-year-old Dorothy Cunningham, 2109 F street northwest, received a spinal injury when the automobile, in which she was riding, crashed with another car near the Lincoln Memorial.

She was treated at Emergency Hospital. According to police, the automobile was operated by her father, Richard H. Cunningham. The other car was said to have been driven by Mrs. Irene G. Brice, 2120 G street northwest.

Hurled through the windshield of an automobile when it crashed into a pillar of the railroad viaduct at Second and H streets northeast, Harry Lang, 21 years old, of Essex, Md., suffered cuts and bruises on the face and body. He was treated at Casualty Hospital. The automobile was driven by Alfred Miller, 18 years old, of Essex, who received minor injuries.

Mrs. Mary L. Miller, 36 years old, of Baltimore, Md., is in a serious condition at Garfield Hospital, and three others persons are suffering from hurts received when the automobile in which they were passengers crashed into a

CONTINUED ON PAGE 16, COLUMN 5

Boat's Dog Mascot Saves Life of Man

Fernandina, Fla., July 10 (A.P.).—Prince, an English setter, his hair singed off and his body burned in places, has risen from the lowly ranks of a mascot on an obscure shrimp boat to heights of fame, having saved a life today.

Samuel K. Jones, Walker Crews and Prince were returning from a fishing expedition aboard the boat when a gasoline tank exploded, wrecking the craft.

Jones, badly burned, struck

COODGE AWAITING RESULT OF ST. PAUL FARM PARLEY TODAY

Outcome Likely to Show Future of McNary-Haugen Measure Fight.

SESSION TO BE MADE UP OF SUPPORTERS OF BILL

President to Picnic With 5,000 Agriculturists From Four States.

(By CARLISLE BARGERON, Staff Correspondent of the Post.)

Rapid City, S. Dak., July 10.—The summer White House has its accessories arranged for a reception of the doings at the big farm conference at St. Paul tomorrow. Five States are to be represented and on the outcome of the meeting most likely will depend whether there is to be another real fight in behalf of the McNary-Haugen bill.

The meeting is made up almost wholly of McNary-Haugenites, such as the House and Senate authors of the bill themselves, Senator Watson of Indiana, Senator Caraway of Arkansas and Representative Kinchloe of Kentucky and others.

In so far as the immediate vicinity of the summer White House is concerned, it is hard to find any one who ever believed in the McNary-Haugen bill, and those who have come here and talked with the President, including former supporters of the measure, have expressed confidence that a compromise would be acceptable.

But the indications are that the St. Paul meeting is not for any purpose other than to show the President that it is not believed that any compromise to be on his mind. Apparently, the President is not to be represented there, as was first reported. James F. Reid, member of the Minnesota agricultural equality commission, and who was reported as coming here to obtain the President's views on the bill, has shown up. The President made it known, in fact, that he had never heard the suggestion that Mr. Reid should come.

It would seem that the President's conferences with farm leaders are rather slow in getting started. He has been out here nearly four weeks, but none of the Western farm leaders has put in appearance. Not only is this taken to mean that the President has not yet got around to inviting any of them, but also that none of them has thought it worth while to indicate to the President that he would like to come.

Word has been received, for that matter, that none of those most active in the McNary-Haugen fight intends coming here. Senator McNary, Representative Haugen, of Iowa, and Representative Dickinson, of the same State, have responded to private inquiries as to whether they were coming here by saying that they did not wish to intrude upon the President's vacation. Mr. Dickinson has been making a steady campaign in behalf of the farm bill speaking in this vein recently before the South Dakota Legislature.

It is wholly within the realm of possibility, if not probability, that the St. Paul meeting may endorse somebody for President, or at least resurrect the Louden or Darrow boom, which, the hot Western Prairie sun seems to have dried up lately.

The President plans to go over and picnic with about 5,000 farmers from four States at Ardmore, about 150 miles from here, Saturday, and his friends say that at the meeting he will do any harm the St. Paul conference may do.

In the meantime he plans to go ahead, taking time to give a party to the 7-year-old son of a farmer given to him as a birthday present, are becoming fast friends and the President is taking almost daily rides with his friends. He went again to the little church at Hermosa this morning.

Everett Starnes, his secretary, is expected to break away from the President's side about August 1 and go on his vacation. His work will be taken over by the President's personal secretary, E. T. Clark. There have been reports that Mr. Sanders planned to resign, but they have been met with emphatic denials in official quarters.

Star, N. C., Physician Killed at Crossing

Star, N. C., July 10 (A.P.).—Dr. E. Lee Dameron, 35, prominent local physician was killed instantly last night when his automobile was struck by the Norfolk and Western train at a crossing in the heart of town. His 5-year-old son was probably fatally hurt. Dr. Dameron had left his home in answer to the call of a patient. The crossing was obstructed by several freight cars on a siding. The car was demolished.

Famous Gary Mansion To Be Open to Public

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—The Elbert H. Gary mansion here, said to be one of the finest residences in New York, will be open for public inspection for a week before it is demolished to make room for an apartment building. It was announced today. Proceeds from an admission charge will be contributed to charity.

A massive pair of bronze doors, one of the features of the mansion, has been presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The mural decorations and staircases are said to be of rare beauty, and the entire interior construction is of a character unusual in private residences.

PACKARD GOOD USED CARS

ARMON Phaeton like new—excellent two-tone finish quiet motor, nearly new tires. Car shows no sign of wear.

$1,250

PACKARD 177 KALORAMA ROAD

Win Rogers Says Ford Has His Old Customers Back

Special to The Washington Post. Hollywood, Calif., July 10.—It doesn't make much difference now whether Mr. Ford ever announces the specifications of his new car. They can be built like an ox cart and they will sell. He has all his old customers back again.

Yours, WILL ROGERS. P. S.—Lasky announced a 10 per cent cut in movie stars' salaries; that reminded the Government of cutting, so that there would be a small 100 per cent cut in Lasky's theater building program.

MISS KYL'S BETROTHAL TO COUNT SPIRO BROKEN

Bandmaster's Daughter Had Flouted $100,000 Offer by Planning Marriage.

WANTS AMERICAN MATE

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—Marie Kyril, younger daughter of Bohumir Kyril, bandmaster of the Chicago Orchestra, announced today she had flouted her father's $100,000 offer and became engaged to a young Greek scholar, has changed her mind. The Chicago Herald and Examiner said tonight.

The bandmaster exacted a promise from his two daughters, Marie and Josephine, both talented musicians, that they would not wed before they were 30 years old and promised each of them $100,000 on fulfillment. That was in 1924 and in 1924 Josephine forfeited her chance for $100,000 when she married a Greek.

Last September Marie announced that she would marry Count Spiro Hadji-Kyrillos, a Greek scholar. The newspaper said Miss Kyril had been married at Lexington, Ky., where she is visiting her father, now conducting there, that she would not marry him when he arrived.

"I won't say anything about whether I'll marry within the next five years," she was quoted as saying, "but it won't be long before I will be married. I don't know if I will marry him or not."

25 Seized by Russia On Charge of Spying

Moscow, Russia, July 10 (A.P.).—The arrest of 25 persons at Leningrad is announced by Tass, the official Soviet news agency, in connection with the recent discovery of a large spy ring. It is alleged that this organization is directed by an agent of the American government.

The men arrested include a number of former naval and military officers.

Marital Unhappiness Ends Tie, Says Judge

Reno, Nev., July 10 (A.P.).—When unhappiness leaves a marriage union, the union is already destroyed and dissolved by a power greater than this court," decreed Judge George A. Bartlett yesterday when he granted a divorce to George A. Schastey, former New York and San Francisco architect.

Mr. Schastey had contested the divorce on the grounds that man could not usurp divine law by breaking the bonds of wedlock.

CROWN PRINCE PAYS DEAD COUSIN HONOR

Walks Behind Hearse at the Funeral of Prince Friedrich Siegmund.

(Special Cable Dispatch.) Berlin, July 10.—In the red glow of torches along the fences of the estate where he played as a child, through the forest and the gardens, the crown prince walked behind the hearse of his dead cousin, Prince Friedrich Siegmund.

The funeral was the most impressive ceremony since the passing of the grandeur of the Hohenzollerns. Their coat of arms shown in gold and silver on the black velvet caparison of the six horses drawing the velvet-covered hearse. Right behind it came the former crown prince. When the road through the forest was too narrow for the carriages to follow the hearse, the former crown prince helped the widow of his cousin follow the hearse, while the crown prince rode on a horse.

ELECTRIC TRAIN HITS HERD OF ELEPHANTS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

mobiles hurried for cover. The animals were recaptured after a two-hour chase. After plowing through the wreckage, the train struck and wrecked a heavy circus wagon and smashed in the front end of the first car of the electric train. "Careful" Gardner, superintendent of the elephants for the circus suffered a concussion of the brain when the train struck the elephant he was riding and his wife, riding alone of them, was thrown from her perch by the terror-stricken beast.

Two other circus employees, Fred Wells and Edmund Wells, both of Loganport, Ind., were severely injured, and two passengers of the electric train, Elmer Johnson and Iver Carlson, both of Aurora, were hurt.

Passengers of the train, as well as the elephants were thrown into a panic. The passengers rushed for the doors as the windows were shattered and the front of the train collapsed under the trumpeting of the terrified and stampeding beasts outside added to the din. By a strange coincidence the Hagenback-Wallace circus was on its way to Chicago to observe memorial services for 38 fellow-citizens killed in the disastrous circus-train wreck near Hammond, Ind., in June, 1918.

To day 400 performers rode to Woodlawn Cemetery here to pay their respects to the memory of their departed comrades in the shadow of the five great granite elephants composing the monument to the dead circus employees erected by the Showmen's League of America.

MURDER CUTS UP 2 WOMEN; WRAPS PIECES IN BODIES

One Package Left on Church Lawn; Another Found Back of Theater.

FRAGMENTS OF BODIES IN CELLAR OF HOME

Man's Body, Hacked in Six Parts, Discovered by New York Plumber.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, July 10.—Fragments of the bodies of two women were found today in Battery Park, half hidden in a man, carved into six sections, was unearthed in the cellar of a Manhattan tenement.

This trail of incredibly ghastly crime was discovered while police were searching for other parts of the body of a woman whose legs were found early Saturday in Battery Park, half hidden in a clump of bushes. Cramped in an ash barrel and practically torn to shreds, parts of bodies of women were found by detectives in the cellar of several Prospect place, Brooklyn. The cellar had been flooded. One of the bodies was pieced together, except for part of the right side, the body was identified as that of Miss Sarah Elizabeth Brownell, 28, owner of the house.

The other grisly find, only partly assembled and with the head missing, is believed to be the body of Mrs. Alfred Bennett, of 16 Lincoln place, Brooklyn, who sold the Prospect place house to the police last May for $10,000. The body was found in connection with the crime. Ludwig Halverson Lee, 38, a Norwegian sailor, who boarded in the house, was charged with murder, while his roommate, Christian Jensen, 28, and Otto Nielsen, of Brooklyn, were held as material witnesses.

Sailor Denies Knowledge. Hidden in the ceiling of Miss Brownell's apartment, Inspector John Sullivan announced, was a blood-stained shirt which some one had tried to wash.

The sailor, questioned by Inspector John D. Coughlin, Capt. Arthur Carey, chief of the homicide squad, and District Attorney Charles Dodd, of Kings County, asked to see his story, that he had not seen Mrs. Bennett since July 4, and that he knows nothing about the series of tragedies.

Evidence of this series of tragedies began to appear in the morning. At 10:30 a. m. Amode Copetelli, superintendent of the Flatbush police station, found a package, wrapped in brown paper, in the rear of 135 Park place, accompanied by his helper, to tidy up the place.

They found an oblong package, with a faded bedspread on the outside, lying against the wall near the door. When they tore open the spread, an undershirt and a layer of brown wrapping paper they saw the chopped-up remains of a woman's body. In the package were a left arm, a hand and shoulder, part of a neck and part of a breast. The ring finger on the hand had been amputated. The bundle was taken to Brooklyn police headquarters.

Package Near Church. Another find was made early in the day on the lawn of St. Augustine's Catholic Church, only a few feet from the Brownell home. Edward Meyer, 17, of Brooklyn, discovered a package with brown wrappings under the hedge. The package was opened and it rolled the upper left thigh of a woman, with a small piece of torn flesh.

Under the paper a blanket had been used by the slayer to sop up the blood. The odor of decomposing flesh led the detectives into the cellar. The Brownell house, where boarders were taken. Neighbors said they had seen men leaving the house with packages, and the detectives started to investigate. Lee was evasive in his answers, and he was taken to headquarters with the package.

Inspector Sullivan said, "I said to him, 'Is that Mrs. Bennett?' and I inquired for the package. He said he believed it was hers. He didn't answer. And we showed him the shirt we found in the room, and another shirt in the washroom, and asked him if they were his. He said yes, but he couldn't account for the blood."

Portions Still Missing. Assistant Medical Examiners R. J. Auerbach and Thomas A. Gonzales, placed the body parts in separate boxes. Several hours' work announced that there are still missing one hand, two legs, two thighs, one forearm and hand, and one other hand.

Clutched in the hand of the woman who is believed to be Mrs. Bennett was a small black hair. Lee's hair is black.

Mrs. Emma Lohman, a neighbor, told police she was talking with Mrs. Bennett on Saturday night when she entered the boarding house upon which she held a mortgage.

She said she saw Mrs. Bennett, who was worried last night, when she failed to return home, but believed she would be in before midnight. The theory has been advanced that the legs of the woman found in Battery Park Saturday morning may have been those of Miss Brownell. Police quizzed Lee and Jensen for hours tonight.

Late today a detachment of police, carrying picks, axes and shovels, arrived at the murder scene. They brought a pump to dry out the flooded cellar and began work at once to dig in the floor and to tear down parts of walls in the hope of finding some parts of the bodies, which still are missing.

Man Cut to Pieces. The decomposed body of a man, chopped into six pieces, was found in the cellar of a rear tenement at 70 Willett street, Manhattan, today.

The parts of the body, neatly tied in two bundles, were discovered shortly after 12 o'clock by George Swartz, a plumber, who had been employed to fix the water pipes.

In one burly bag was found the decapitated trunk of a man, 20 feet away beside an old stove, were found the head, arms and legs from the knees down. The thighs could not be located. A medical examiner, Dr. Thomas A. Gonzales, said the victim had been dead several months.

Man Held in Assault on Woman. Charged with assault, Lawrence Lee, colored, was arrested at the Fourth Precinct yesterday following a fight with Lula Ford, colored, 20, who lived in their home, 307 Third street, south of West. Lee, police say, struck the woman over the head with a blunt instrument. She was taken to Emergency Hospital and treated for severe head injuries, which are not believed to be serious.

SIT AGAINST FORD, SAPRO TRAYS, MAY BE SETTLED TODAY

Given to Understand That Details Would All Be Adjusted by Noon.

IS FULLY SATISFIED WITH APOLOGIES MADE

Perlman, Representative of Jewry, Holds Auto Man Should Drop Aids.

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—Aaron Sapiro, retiring hotelier from western Canada, said he thought that a settlement out of court of his million dollar libel suit against Henry Ford would be "virtually concluded" tomorrow.

I went over what appear to be final details of settlement with William H. Gallagher, my attorney at Detroit, while I was in Winnipeg," Mr. Sapiro said, "and I understood that these details would be disposed of by tomorrow noon."

Mr. Sapiro expressed complete satisfaction with the Ford statement that all attacks against the Jewish people will be discontinued forthwith by the Dearborn Independent. I do not think that previous to this action would have been taken.

The results seemed to have been forthcoming," said the Chicago attorney, who was one of the objects of attack in the articles which are the basis of his suit. "That I have managed to get Mr. Ford to realize what was being published in the Dearborn Independent, I do not think that previous to this action would have been taken."

Would Dismiss Aids. New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Nathan D. Perlman, who with Louis Marshall represented American Jewry in conferences with Henry Ford's representatives prior to the Detroit manufacturer's repudiation of the anti-Jewish campaign of the Dearborn Independent, said today he believed Ford should dismiss E. G. Leibold, his general secretary for seven years and vice president of the Dearborn Publishing Co., and W. J. Cameron, editor of the paper.

Perlman said he believed Ford sincere in his disclaimer responsibility for the attacks. "I cannot conceive that he would retain about him the men who have done so much wrong to our race and who have put Ford in such a bad light before the public," he said.

"The dismissal of these men would mean that nobody who entertains such views as those which occurred in the courtroom last Friday morning, or assistance in carrying on such a vicious, destructive propaganda."

The conferences began May 20, he said, after David had telephoned that he wished to see him. He said both sides agreed to a preliminary agreement that the manufacturer should not only apologize but also should dismiss Cameron and Leibold. However, he said, the agreement extended only to the apology.

ARMY HAWAIIAN FLIERS TO ARRIVE TOMORROW

Planes and Boats to Tender Ovation to Maitland and Hegenberger.

San Francisco, July 10 (By A. P.).—Every airplane at Crissy Field and an armada of yachts, tugs, speedboats and motor cruisers will greet the Hawaiian fliers, who will arrive tomorrow on the Golden Gate Tuesday to pay honor to Lieutenants Lester J. Maitland and Albert Hegenberger on their return from the successful Gate-Honolulu flight.

Rivalry settled by the ruling of Maj. Gen. MacArthur, who gave the Hawaiian fliers, who had been in the air for 24 hours, the honor of the first to land. The Hawaiian fliers, who had been in the air for 24 hours, the honor of the first to land.

Mrs. Maitland and Mrs. Hegenberger will greet the fliers, who have journeyed across the continent to meet their husbands. Maitland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maitland, of Burlingame, Calif., and the family group, which will have a brief moment with the aviators before they are carried away for the public functions.

The Hawaiian fliers, who have journeyed across the continent to meet their husbands. Maitland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maitland, of Burlingame, Calif., and the family group, which will have a brief moment with the aviators before they are carried away for the public functions.

25,000 GREET TOUR AIRPLANES AT OMAHA

Stinson Adds to His Lead; Hamilton Monoplane Is Forced Down.

Omaha, Neb., July 10 (A.P.).—While 25,000 persons cheered, 13 planes of the National Reliability Tour landed here today without mishap. They added to the dedication of the Municipal Air Field. The 60 occupants of the planes participated in the dedicatory ceremonies.

Edward A. Stinson, piloting a Whirlwind-motored monoplane of his own design, added a few more points to his lead in the scoring by the Tulsa-Wichita leg of the 4,000-mile journey. Stinson is more than 1,240 points ahead of H. O. Mumme, piloting a Mercury biplane, who is now second.

Until today, Randolph G. Page, piloting a Hamilton monoplane, was second, but at 2:20 p. m. he was forced down by a broken valve. The forced landing described as perfect, was made on a field of corn. The engine was repaired late and the monoplane joined the other 12 contestants at Omaha.

The planes left Tulsa at 9:20 o'clock this morning, stopping at Wichita. Mumme was not a member of the Red army, said the instruction, "must join the ranks of the Soviet Union and be ready to rise to the defense of the country."

Death of X-Ray Users In Next 10 Years Seen

State College, Pa., July 10 (A.P.).—Deaths of various martyrs to the X-ray are expected within ten years by Dr. Angel St. John, of New York, who has been attending the meetings of the Institute of Chemistry. They are men who took chances during the war in order to treat wounded soldiers.

2-Story Plunge Kills May Lorraine, Actress

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Mrs. John White, an actress, known on the stage as May Lorraine, was killed early today when she fell from a window of her second-story apartment.

She was believed to have fallen asleep while sitting in the window awaiting the return of her husband, stage manager of a theater in Perth Amboy, N. J.

Auto Kills Survivor Of Chinese Turmoil

Guilford, Conn., July 10 (A.P.).—Having survived turmoils in China, where he was a missionary for 33 years, the Rev. Charles E. Ewing was killed in an automobile accident three weeks after his return home.

COURT RULE TO TIGHTEN IN TRIAL OF BIRGER

Prisoners' Relatives Likely to Be Excluded From Inside the Rail.

Benton, Ill., July 10 (A.P.).—A tightening in the conduct of the murder trial of Charlie Birger, southern Illinois gang chief, and his two former associates, Art Newman and Ray Hyland, promises to be one of the developments in the case tomorrow when it is resumed before Circuit Judge C. H. Miller after a week-end recess.

The gangsters, who are on trial for the slaying of Mayor Joe Adams, of West City, thus far have been allowed the freedom of conduct common to almost any defendant in a criminal proceeding.

Sheriff James A. Pritchard, however, has indicated that the space inside the rail in the courtroom hereafter will be reserved for the defendant's counsel, newspaper men and court attaches. This may mean that relatives of the gangsters will not be permitted to sit with the three accused men.

State's Attorney Roy Martin has been known to be unfavorable to the presence of the Birger and Newman families in the courtroom, but Birger's two children by a former marriage, scarcely an hour has passed during the trial but the gang chief has been seen with his children, fondling and kissing them in what the defense has called the "role" of a fond father and husband.

While this has not been done in the presence of persons who are expected to sit on the jury, it was pointed out today that a new venire of 50 men will be called tomorrow for selection of a jury will be resumed.

Only 7 of the original panel of 28 persons have been tentatively held for further duty. Most of those who are believed to have no chance to sit in judgment on the case of Birger and his former associates.

The Birger case, which occurred in the courtroom last Friday morning, when Birger and Newman applied typical gang epithets to each other, probably will not happen again soon, court attaches say, unless the fire of the two gangsters transcends the strict admonitions of their counsel that they must cease talking with each other.

STRATON SAYS SPLIT IS DUE TO CLIMBERS

Church Dissension Is Laid to Dictatorial Group He "Rebuked for Sins."

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Social climbers whom he has rebuked "for their worldliness," were blamed by Dr. John Ross Stratton, in a sermon before the church for the dissension in Calvary Baptist Church which reached an open break in the resignation of five deacons three weeks ago.

Dr. Stratton said he had inherited his troubles at Calvary Church from his predecessors and that the same group of deacons, who had turned out to resign and had "cut off the head of another."

"The same noisy minority," he declared, "had tried to make me resign. When they failed to dictate what I should preach and how I should lead the church, they turned viciously on me and tried to destroy me for no other reason than that I had faithfully rebuked their own worldliness and sin."

Dr. Stratton closed his sermon with an appeal to the five deacons who had resigned to return to the church.

YOUTHS SEIZE PLANT; GET $13,000 IN LOOT

Six Bandits Occupy Place for Five Hours; Hold Watchman Prisoner.

Chicago, July 10 (A.P.).—Six youthful but expert burglars, who took charge of the plant of the Automatic Electric Co., manufacturers of telephone equipment here, spent five hours opening a safe and fled with $60,000 in platinum, gold and silver, and $7,000 in cash and securities.

While four of the cracksmen looted the safe, two companions forced the watchman, John Moll, to continue his rounds and report on 25 call boxes in four buildings under the watch of the police. Moll resigned from his post after reporting the robbery to the police.

Belief that the robbery was an inside job was expressed by Joseph P. Hauck, treasurer of the company.

REDS WARNED WAR IS CLOSE AT HAND

Defense Week Opens With Orders for All Workers to Learn the Rifle.

Moscow, July 10 (A.P.).—Heralding the beginning of defense week today, President Rykoff, of the council of commissars, who also is chairman of labor and defense, called upon the citizens to the citizens of the imminence of war and the necessity for preparedness. His published instructions declared that the Soviet Union is a general organ of defense, must double its ranks during the week.

BOARD TO CONSIDER ZONE COMMISSION

Trade Body Secretary Sees Need for Commission as an Industrial Aid.

CITIZENS START DRIVE FOR WATER CONTRACTS

Cherrydale Baptist Church to Hold Picnic Tomorrow at Great Falls.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST, Clarendon, Va. Tel. Clar. 500.

Consideration of the appointment of the zoning commission will be taken up by the board of supervisors at their meeting to be held at the county courthouse today.

Until this commission is appointed and a survey is made of the county in accordance with the provisions of the law which became effective April 1, of this year, it is almost impossible for the committees from the Chamber of Commerce, looking to the development of Arlington County from an industrial standpoint, to function," declared Milford Witts, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, last night.

With the rapid progress being made in the laying of the mains for the Arlington County water system, a concerted drive by all special committees from the citizens' associations having in charge the obtaining of signatures of property owners to water contracts calling for the laying of laterals in front of their property will be carried out this week.

Of the 20 miles of mains to be laid, it is understood that there are now more than 7 miles of pipe in the ground and assurance is given that by the end of September the entire 20 miles will have been laid.

Mrs. Marie Bergeson, has been elected president of the auxiliary to the Bon Air Fire Association. Other officers elected are: Mrs. Bernice Dorsey, vice president; Mrs. F. Freeland Chew, secretary; and Mrs. Thelma Faunce, treasurer.

The meeting of the Bon Air Citizens Association will be held tonight in the Firemen's Hall at 8 o'clock. President F. Freeland Chew will preside.

Plans have been completed for the annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Cherrydale Baptist Church which will be held tomorrow at Great Falls. There will be a special train leaving from the Cherrydale station for the Old Dominion Railway at 9:30 a. m.

According to H. Stewart Potter, general chairman in charge of arrangements, provisions have been made for more than 400 persons. Other members of the committee are: W. I. Keiter, L. W. Holland, Richard Yardley, A. B. Bains, E. Owen, Dr. M. W. Hester, W. C. Kirby, Mrs. Harry Beasley and Mrs. J. W. Barrett.

Woman Dies, Man Hurt As Auto Turns Over

Burlington, N. C., July 10 (A.P.).—The body of a woman about 32 years old, said to be Miss Doris Johnson, of Cary, lies in a local undertaking establishment; John M. Houck, of Cary, is in a hospital here and S. Cline, of Raleigh, is in a hospital here as a result of an automobile accident near here.

Efforts to get in touch with relatives of the young woman had been unsuccessful as of yesterday morning. She had been in Cary only three weeks and they could not give much information about her. The party was en route to Greensboro when the accident occurred. The car struck a wet place on the hard surface, skidded and went over a foot or more into the air, and several times, according to Houck and Cline.

COAST GUARDS SHOOT AT 3 WHO AID THEM

Crew of Captured Boat Gets Revenue Craft Out of Weeds, Then Flees.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 10 (A.P.).—U. S. Coast Guardsmen, in a strict sense with their ideas of duty, tonight shot at three men who only a few minutes before had gone to their aid in the Niagara River when their boat became entangled in weeds in what is known as Black Rock Channel.

Just as the revenue boat had overtaken a foot motorboat, which was carrying a contraband ale across the river from Canada to the United States, it became caught and the crew of the boat was called upon for aid. After a brief conference the runners extricated the Government boat and towed it to the shore. There the prisoners dashed for liberty and hid in the bushes, which drew the fire of the Coast Guardsmen. The fugitives, however, escaped.

Wife of ## O'HIGGINS DECLARED FOREMOST MEMBER OF DUBLIN CABINET

Leader, During His Control, Called Possible Mussolini of Ireland.

YOUNG OFFICIAL ACTIVE IN HEATED CAMPAIGNS

He and Associates Forced De Valera to Resort to Political Strategy.

Special to The Washington Post.

New York, July 10.—Kevin O'Higgins, who had but recently passed his thirty-fifth birthday, was one of the group of young men who have controlled the Irish Free State since the ratification of the treaty with Great Britain on January 7, 1922.

He was regarded as the most forceful member of President Cosgrave's cabinet. At one time, when the conduct of government was in his hands during Cosgrave's illness, Vice President O'Higgins was spoken of as the possible Mussolini of Ireland. The enmity which has always been felt for him by the members of the Republican army and the adherents of De Valera crippled the extent of his power, however.

Like most of the group of men—his average age was 30—who have exercised control of the Free State, his attitude toward Great Britain was conservative, and evoked the animosity of those who refused to accept the Free State treaty as binding.

Called Sinn Féinners Curs.

In the elections of last month, in which Mr. O'Higgins' party lost much of its strength in the Dail, the vice president campaigned actively and belligerently. In speeches he aroused Sinn Féin sympathizers by declaring, "We have drawn your fangs, you curs," and when he was reproached as a "murderer" because of the 77 executions under Free State rule, declared the government stood ready to execute as many more.

Despite the recent reverses at the polls, he and his associates during the five years of their sway succeeded in reducing the antagonism of De Valera and Sinn Féin opponents of the Free State from a position of armed attack to political strategy. Vice President O'Higgins was the staunchest adherent of the "no peace" policy when the government set out to suppress De Valera and the "irregulars" in 1923.

This attitude, however, did not prevent his refusal to prosecute the leaders of the revolt within the army at that time. The army mutinyers had such popular sympathy that it was believed the Cosgrave government could not survive their punishment.

Aroused Defense Minister.

His attitude aroused Gen. Mulcahy, the minister of defense, who declared the government was sponsoring mutiny in the army, and thenceforth became an outspoken enemy to the vice president. Mr. O'Higgins weathered the incident and Gen. Mulcahy resigned.

Mr. O'Higgins worked strenuously to assert the supremacy of the civil over the military power in the days of upheaval preceding and following the signing of the Free State treaty. Paradoxically, early in his career he had been associated with the Sinn Féin and the Irish Republican Brotherhood, but announced that he had severed relations with both when the treaty with Great Britain was signed.

He led the Irish delegation to the League of Nations assembly in 1923, and was upon the platform when the signing of the Canadian delegates, that the English delegates there were forbidden to speak for the other commonwealths of the empire and each was given its own voice at Geneva.

Attacked by De Valera.

It was Mr. O'Higgins, as minister of justice, who in May, 1926, asserted the legal rights of the Free State to exclude Charles Edward Russell when he tried to land in Ireland from New York. De Valera delivered an attack on the tactics of the minister of justice because of the incident.

Two years ago Mr. O'Higgins was made a barrister without taking the examinations, and was educated at Clonowes, St. Patrick's College, Carlow, and the National University of Ireland.

U. S. Indians' Music
Popular in Mayfair

London, July 10 (A.P.).—Concerts by American Indians are a popular part of private entertainments of Mayfair society. The Countess Luttwitz started the fashion recently when she gave a dance in her home, the Chesham Place, and offered an Indian dance as a feature of the entertainment.

On-Ke-Non-Ton, an Indian chieftain, sang four songs, which were followed by primitive American Indian music with tom-tom accompaniment. Since then the "heavily big chief" has had "heavily big" demand for his services.

Three of One Family
Drown in Ohio River

Bellevue, Ohio, July 10 (A.P.).—Mrs. E. E. Theurich, 36 years old, her infant daughter and Mrs. William Scott Bell, 50, all of Wheeling, W. Va., drowned in the Ohio River at Point Pleasant, Belmont County, today when the Theurich automobile ran off a ferry into the river.

Mr. Theurich, driver of the car; Mr. and Mrs. Bell and a 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Theurich were rescued.

Porosyle
Tissue Weight
3-piece
Suits Customized
at Rochester
$70.00

Goldheim's
APPROXIMATELY
1409 H STREET

ASSASSINATED

Kevin O'Higgins, Minister in Free State, Slain

Continued from Page 1.

searched all automobiles. They examined numerous houses and garages but no trace of the assassins was found.

A meeting of the Free State cabinet was held this evening to take action in what is considered a serious situation. O'Higgins was regarded as the "strong man" of the government. During the recent election campaign he toured the country, speaking in nearly every county in favor of government candidates.

Kevin O'Higgins began his career as an attorney at law in 1910-11. He was arrested and held in Belfast prison. On his release he was appointed by Eamon de Valera, the Republican leader, as assistant to William T. Cosgrave, in the local government board set up by the Sinn Féiners. But he supported the treaty of December, 1921, and was made minister of justice in 1922.

As Minister of Justice O'Higgins was largely responsible for the administration of the law during 1922-23, when 77 irregulars were executed.

In the recent change in the cabinet of the law during 1922-23, when 77 irregulars were executed.

He was appointed minister of justice and in the latter capacity went to Geneva to the league conference, returning to Dublin last Friday.

Attempt to Kill O'Higgins
And Cosgrave Is Recalled

London, July 10 (A.P.).—The West-minster Gazette's Dublin correspondent recalls the attempt on Kevin O'Higgins and President Cosgrave last May when they were crossing O'Connell street after addressing a meeting at which they had been hissed by the Republicans.

A smoke bomb was hurled, but Brig. Gen. Duly, who was walking with them, caught the bomb in his hand and prevented an explosion.

One of the O'Higgins' inflexible will serves to characterize the man. He was the close friend of Rory O'Connor, who was executed in 1922 as leader of the Four Courts rising. The O'Higgins pressure was brought to bear on O'Higgins to have O'Connor reprieved, but sitting up a whole night deliberating, the minister of justice decided that this was incompatible with his office.

When, after the execution, O'Connor's name was read, it was found that he had left everything of which he was possessed to the O'Higgins family. Kevin O'Higgins nearly collapsed on learning this.

Republican Responsibility
For the Killing Is Denied

London, July 10 (A.P.).—The Daily Mail's Dublin correspondent says that the adjutant general of the Republican army has issued a statement in which he has declared that the Republican army council and headquarters staff, declaring emphatically that they have no knowledge of the shooting of O'Higgins and Cosgrave, and that they repudiate responsibility for the shooting.

"We feel certain," says the statement, "that the responsibility for the shooting of O'Higgins and Cosgrave does not lie with the Republican army council, and that it will not involve any of our volunteers."

SENATOR PAUL DUPUY,
FRENCH EDITOR, DIES

Head of Petit Parisien, He Raised Circulation to 2,000,000 Copies.

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—Senator Paul Dupuy, director of Petit Parisien, died today after a short illness. Besides being a prominent politician, he was one of the foremost journalists of France. He was born in Paris in 1878.

Through his American wife, who was Miss Helen Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Browne, of New York, Senator Dupuy acquired a great interest in American affairs, especially. He was a member of the Calhoun mission to negotiate terms with the United States Government for funding the French war debt.

The Petit Parisien, the senator's Paris newspaper, was founded by his father, Jean Dupuy, and under his direction reached the million point in circulation. After the son succeeded to its direction the circulation passed the 2,000,000 mark in ten years, establishing a world's record.

Another publication with which he had remarkable success is the illustrated Daili Illustration, which in ten years has been sunk in the venture when Senator Dupuy took hold of it ten years ago. With Mme. Dupuy having a voice in the direction of it, the newspaper became a paying proposition in two years.

Cosgrave Proclamation Tells Irish to Carry On

Dublin, Ireland, July 10 (A.P.).—President Cosgrave issued the following statement tonight:

"Kevin O'Higgins was shot down this morning on the way to mass. The vice president of the executive council has been struck down by the hand of the assassin.

"In this hour of national loss and national mourning, mindful of the steadfast heroic figure, the Irish people will not falter.

"Kevin O'Higgins in his dauntless courage and unflinching determination has trodden the path blazed by Michael Collins and Arthur Griffith even unto death. Another great defender of the nation has passed away.

"The Irish people may rest assured that the assassin's bullet will not succeed in terrorizing this country. There are and will be men unshaken by the noble example of the late vice president, and, profiting by his labors, ready to step into his place and maintain his high tradition of devotion to the welfare and safety of the nation."

AVIATOR BYRD, LL, TAKES WREATH TO WAR CEMETERY

Defeat on Electoral Reform
Bill Likely to Topple Union
Government.

HERRIOT VOTE OPPOSES PROPOSAL BY PREMIER

Overthrow of Cabinet on the Issue of Salaries During Week Was Seen.

(Special Cable Dispatch.)

Paris, July 10.—Premier Poincaré's national union government, which since last August has dragged France from the slough of despond and placed it on financial terra firma, appears to be tottering to its fall tonight.

Under the determined sniping of the old cartel groups, the ministry has been losing prestige rapidly, and what appears to be an inevitable defeat this evening on the question of salaries of state functionaries, it was explained, will bring it down. But an unexpected flurry over a technicality in the chamber of deputies last night threatens even an earlier demise.

During a stormy debate on the electoral reform issue, the government ministers were asked to make before the session, M. Marin, M. Ardieu, M. Feller, and M. Bokanowski voted for the government. M. Herriot, the only other minister present, voted against it.

Marin Is Infuriated.

So as in the fatal month July last year when the franc seemed to be tottering to perdition, M. Herriot, radical socialist, leader of the opposition, is accused of playing Judas and betraying the cabinet. Sensing that it is due to fall anyway this week, M. Herriot is said to have told the radicals that they might as well give it a death blow at once.

As a result of the cabinet crisis, is infuriated by M. Herriot's disloyalty, and the correspondent learns that he intends to resign. The entire ministry's resignation would follow immediately.

Premier Poincaré, however, hopes to give the cabinet a new lease of life, which he counts on to turn the country's wrath against the man responsible for disturbing the welcome equilibrium of the past eleven months. The grim old Lorrain will undoubtedly be called on by President Doumergue to form a new cabinet, from which he wishes to drop M. Barthou, M. Perrier and M. Bokanowski, all of whom have fallen under the cartels' guns in the past year or so.

Would Spell Ruin.

M. Marin's withdrawal would spell ruin for the national union and Premier Poincaré would be forced to form a concentration government, excluding the extreme right as well as the extreme left—socialists and communists, who never were part of the union cabinet.

If the ministry, which was hailed as the "cabinet of national safety," survives this body blow, it is bound to founder next week when Premier Poincaré promises to try to block the granting of the functional salaries of teachers, postmen and railway workers, for a 450,000,000 franc ($18,000,000) increase in salaries, retroactive from January 1, 1927.

Prison Counterfeiting
Ring Believed Broken

Nashville, Tenn., July 10 (A.P.).—Warden A. McCorkle, of the Tennessee State Penitentiary, today announced tonight that he believed he had nipped in the bud activities of a counterfeiting ring which he revealed had been operating in the prison. He said that only 870 had been realized by the counterfeiters. Several $1 bills had been raised to $5.

The warden announced that a convict had been found to have several "raised" notes after he attempted to pass one of them at the prison commissary.

Berlin Sunday Is Blue
Without Ocean Fliers

Berlin, July 10 (A.P.).—A Sunday may be counted as blue unless some of the great liners are in port. According to the cartoonist of "Der Blaue Montag" (Blue Monday), the comic section of the "Montag Morgen."

The cartoonist depicts four men with their families sitting in the grass by an aerodrome and playing cards. The expression on their faces is clearly one of boredom. One of the car sharks breaks the silence by saying disgustedly, "Already the second week of the ocean flier has arrived." The caption of the cartoon is, "A Quiet Sunday."

FOREIGN FARM BOND ISSUES ON MARKET

Two German Offerings, Totaling
$34,000,000, Included
in Today's List.

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Two foreign agricultural bond issues totaling $34,000,000 are included in the list of new offerings scheduled for tomorrow. The largest of these is the $30,000,000 Central Bank for Agriculture (Germany) farm bond secured 6 percent, sinking fund gold bonds, offered by a syndicate headed by National City Co. at prices to yield about 6.36 percent. The purpose of the issue is to provide funds to increase the productivity of German agriculture.

Blair & Co. and associated bankers will offer an issue of $4,000,000 of German Government 6 percent mortgage bonds, proceeds of which will be used to grant farmers loans secured by first mortgages on agricultural properties.

Havoc by Tempest
In Northern Italy

Rome, July 10 (A.P.).—The furious storm in Saxony which caused so much damage yesterday extended along the Alps and Apennines, being particularly destructive in north and central Italy. The tempest was so violent last night that Signor Balbo, undersecretary for aviation, who was flying from Vienna to Rome, was prevented from crossing the Apennines and was obliged to land at the airfield of Ferrara.

COMMANDER BYRD, LL, TAKES WREATH TO WAR CEMETERY

Aviator Exhibits Symptoms of Plomaine Poisoning;
Has Wakeful Night.

AMERICAN IS RECEIVED BY PRINCE OF WALES

Crew of the America Plan Surprise Visit Today to Ver-Sur-Mer.

Rouen, France, July 10 (A.P.).—The continual round of festivities finally has begun to tell on the America's crew. Commander Richard Byrd had virtually a sleepless night at Le Touquet because his tired system failed to assimilate something he ate, probably at the municipal banquet last night. His symptoms were close to those of plomaine poisoning, but he was up again early this morning, seemingly bright and happy.

He was received by the Prince of Wales and had a short conversation. The meeting between the two was most cordial. The prince recalled the fact that he had had occasion to congratulate the American on his North Pole flight and asked him many questions about his proposed voyage to the South Pole.

Others Rest Poorly.

The others of the America's crew also passed a wakeful night, without visible effects today. The whole party proceeded to the war cemetery this afternoon at Le Touquet, accompanied by the local authorities and patriotic societies to lay wreaths on the graves of the allied soldiers who died in the hospital at that place in the war.

After the ceremony at the cemetery Commander Byrd boarded a motor car with an old classmate at Annopolis, B. Howard, and drove with him through Rouen to Cabourg, where he will spend the night with his friend. H. A. Gibbons, representative of Rodman Wana-maker, sponsor of the transatlantic expedition, will follow Byrd to Cabourg.

Plan Surprise Visit.

Tomorrow the people of Ver-Sur-Mer, who gave the allied soldiers a hospital on the morning of their dramatic descent into the Atlantic near the Ver-Sur-Mer Lighthouse, will have an opportunity to greet the aviators and their families. The aviators will make a surprise call on the villagers and will improve the occasion not only to thank the people for their kindness and generosity, but to return the clothing loaned to them on that historic occasion.

The party then will proceed to Cherbourg to prepare for sailing on the Le-Virgatus Tuesday.

Angoon Is Reached
By Van Lear Black

Angoon, India, July 10 (A.P.).—Van Lear Black of Baltimore arrived here today, flying from Bangkok.

He is returning to Amsterdam after a flight from that city to the Dutch East Indies.

Lindbergh's Landing
Is Claimed by Dugny

Paris, July 10 (A.P.).—Dugny, claiming the honor of receiving Lindbergh on his soil, protests against the world-wide glory going to Le Bourget, a neighboring community.

Dugny, maps show, really has within its legal limits the ground where the man from the west came down. Le Bourget, however, is within its jurisdiction part of the airfield at the south end where the military hangars are. It was because this army field was used for the landing of Lindbergh that the name Le Bourget was given the entire aerodrome, nearly a mile long.

Smith flew to Santa Monica yesterday and returned today to test his navigation instruments. He was accompanied by E. C. Bronte, of San Francisco, as navigator.

Levine Aero Contract
Not Signed by Woman

London, July 10 (A.P.).—Thea Rasche, Germany's aviation aviator, announced tonight that she had not signed a contract with Charles A. Levine, but will sail for the United States Tuesday on the Leviathan.

She is on an independent expedition and will give exhibitions of stunt flying in North and South America, while arranging for a machine in which to fly from New York to Europe.

Pickpocket Robs Philadelphia Doctor.

While riding on a Capital Traction Co. car in Fourteenth street, between Newton street and Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Lewis C. Cope, of Philadelphia Pa., was robbed of a wallet containing $75 by a pickpocket. Dr. Cope said that he did not notice anything suspicious about any of the passengers on the car.

Levine Aero Contract
Not Signed by Woman

London, July 10 (A.P.).—Thea Rasche, Germany's aviation aviator, announced tonight that she had not signed a contract with Charles A. Levine, but will sail for the United States Tuesday on the Leviathan.

She is on an independent expedition and will give exhibitions of stunt flying in North and South America, while arranging for a machine in which to fly from New York to Europe.

Pickpocket Robs Philadelphia Doctor.

While riding on a Capital Traction Co. car in Fourteenth street, between Newton street and Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Lewis C. Cope, of Philadelphia Pa., was robbed of a wallet containing $75 by a pickpocket. Dr. Cope said that he did not notice anything suspicious about any of the passengers on the car.

Levine Aero Contract
Not Signed by Woman

London, July 10 (A.P.).—Thea Rasche, Germany's aviation aviator, announced tonight that she had not signed a contract with Charles A. Levine, but will sail for the United States Tuesday on the Leviathan.

She is on an independent expedition and will give exhibitions of stunt flying in North and South America, while arranging for a machine in which to fly from New York to Europe.

Pickpocket Robs Philadelphia Doctor.

While riding on a Capital Traction Co. car in Fourteenth street, between Newton street and Pennsylvania avenue, Dr. Lewis C. Cope, of Philadelphia Pa., was robbed of a wallet containing $75 by a pickpocket. Dr. Cope said that he did not notice anything suspicious about any of the passengers on the car.

Son Saves His Father By Accurate Fish Cast

Ruskin, Fla., July 10 (A.P.).—Ability to make an accurate 100-foot cast with an artificial bass ball enabled Horace Holloway to rescue his father from drowning in Little Manatee River.

The rescue story was told here today.

Horace and his father, Daniel Holloway, were fishing, the youth from an island and his father from a boat anchored 100 feet off shore. The father, in attempting to raise anchor, upset the boat.

The elder Holloway lost consciousness and was in imminent danger of drowning. Horace, unable to swim, and no help nearby, made a cast with his rod and line and missed. He whipped the line out again, the hook this time catching in his father's clothing. He then drew his father to the boat. He soon regained consciousness.

LEVINE'S RETURN FLIGHT
IN FEW WEEKS, HE SAYS

American and Wife Lunch With Cobhams; Visited by Representatives.

TRIP TO PARIS TOMORROW

London, July 10 (A.P.).—Charles A. Levine, the American who accompanied Clarence D. Chamberlin on the New York-to-Germany flight, says he plans to make the return flight from Paris with Maurice Drouhin, the celebrated French ace, as pilot within a few weeks, depending upon the weather.

Mr. Levine considers the first part of August as most suitable for beginning the flight because a full moon and the conditions of the winds at that time will be more favorable. He said John Carls would leave New York Tuesday on the Mauretania with mechanical replacements necessary to equip the Columbia for the return flight.

Drouhin has flown 4,000 hours with between 350,000 and 400,000 miles to his credit. During the war he trained hundreds of aviators, including many Americans.

Fraulent Thea Rasche, famous German woman aviator, arrived at Croydon Field today in her own plane. She was met by Mrs. Elliott Lynn, England's best-known woman flier.

Thea Rasche has had a luncheon today with Sir Alan J. Cobham, noted British aviator, and Lady Cobham. The Americans also received calls from Representative Sol Bloom, of New York; William R. Wood, of Indiana, and John N. Sandlin, of Louisiana.

Paris Tuesday. The former said he expected to sign Fraulent Rasche to a contract in time for her to sail on the Leviathan Tuesday.

Greek Officials Seek Loan From Mussolini

Rome, July 10 (A.P.).—M. Michalakopoulos, the Greek foreign minister, and M. Kaphandaris, Greek minister of finance, arrived here today, wishing to meet Premier Mussolini personally as a sign of cordial friendship between the two countries. They desired to enlist the assistance of Italy for a Greek national loan, aimed at stabilizing the currency.

The belief is held here that the visit of the Greek statesmen will help to smooth out old misunderstandings which strengthened the ties between Greece and Italy, which have many common interests.

Worst in Half Century.

Berlin, July 10 (A.P.).—The disaster in Saxony is described by meteorologists as the worst of the kind suffered by Germany in the last half century.

Experts attribute the catastrophic phenomenon to the unusual heat wave prevailing in Germany in the last few days, while, simultaneously, extensive areas of low atmospheric pressure in the southwest caused the formation of atmospheric eddies, where the east-ward heat and the westerly cold air met.

Wind spouts and subsequent cloud-bursts were especially violent over the valleys where the rapidly heated air saturated with moisture came into contact with the cold air from above.

"Butter and Egg Man"
Star Dies in Hospital

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Gregory Kelly, 32 years old, whose sudden illness in Pittsburgh last February ended the tour of "The Butter and Egg Man," of which he was the star, died late last night in a New York hospital.

He was accounted one of the best-known of juvenile actors on the American stage. His widow, Ruth Kelly, is starring in "Saturday's Children."

Gen. Pangalos is to face charges of improper conduct while in power. He assumed the dictatorship of Greece in January, 1926, and subsequently became president. He was ousted by Gen. Kondylis in August of the same year, and immediately was sent to the island of Crete for detention. In November, 1926, Gen. Pangalos was taken to Athens for examination into the charges against him, but it was reported that he would not reply to the questions unless he was set at liberty.

Gen. Pangalos was returned to the island of Crete, the chamber of deputies right and journeyed in his robes of office to the Royal Albert Dock to lend official importance to the port of London as a landing and embarkation port for passengers. He was piped aboard the liner Andros, last of five new vessels in the London-South American service, with all the official ceremony given to an admiral of the fleet.

London Lord Mayor
Is Also an Admiral

London, July 10 (A.P.).—The Lord Mayor of London, Sir Rowland Blades, while looking through some dusty old records, discovered that he is also an admiral.

He immediately assumed the ancient robes of "Admiral of the Port," and immediately was sent to the island of Crete for detention. In November, 1926, Gen. Pangalos was taken to Athens for examination into the charges against him, but it was reported that he would not reply to the questions unless he was set at liberty.

Gen. Pangalos was returned to the island of Crete, the chamber of deputies right and journeyed in his robes of office to the Royal Albert Dock to lend official importance to the port of London as a landing and embarkation port for passengers. He was piped aboard the liner Andros, last of five new vessels in the London-South American service, with all the official ceremony given to an admiral of the fleet.

Dr. Abernethy Pleads
For Aid Against Vice

Philadelphia, July 10 (A.P.).—Dedicating their lives to Christian service, more than 300 young men and women today pledged themselves to carry on the work of the church as the annual convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America held its closing session.

A call for volunteers to serve in the various branches of the church was issued by the Rev. Dr. W. S. Abernethy, Washington. Christian workers are needed to fight crime and vice throughout America. Dr. Abernethy told the volunteers that they are needed, he said, to see that the laws and the Constitution of the country are upheld. About 10,000 delegates attended the convention.

Quick results are secured at miniature coat with Post Cleaned. Ad- only 3 cents per word, minimum charge of 45 cents.

93 REPORTED DEAD IN SINGLE DISTRICT OF FLOODED SAXONY

Hundreds Are Believed
Drowned by Cloudbursts
Over Entire Area.

HALF OF POPULAR SPA POPULATION HOMELESS

Disaster Is Laid to Unusual Heat Wave Prevailing in Germany.

Dresden, Saxony, July 10 (A.P.).—A vast area in Saxony is deep under water; hundreds of persons are believed to have perished and incalculable damage has been done by the floods which followed cloudbursts on Saturday. So great was the sweep of the waters that they came down the valley at a height of from 5 to 7 feet, carrying all before them.

Official figures on the catastrophe issued by the Bergeshubel municipality place the known dead at 93 in that district alone, but this is not thought to be the full extent of the casualties, as many of the inhabitants are still missing.

Half the population of this popular spa is homeless and only a small grocery store is left to supply the survivors with the necessities of life. The town's main street is virtually demolished and many bodies repose in the ruins of the church and the Turner hall.

Many Drown in Beds.

Bergeshubel is one of the greatest sufferers in the disaster, the effects of which are assuming such dimensions that 450 additional emergency workers were recruited from the surrounding townships to aid in the salvage.

The suddenness of the disaster, which occurred in the middle of the night, is illustrated by the fact that three men engaged in a game of cards at Glashutte were surprised and instantly drowned by a gigantic wave. Most of the victims were drowned in their beds, or swept away still alive by the rushing torrent.

The inhabitants assert that all the bridges between Bergeshubel, Glashutte and Lauenstein, where the catastrophe originated, have been destroyed, though it is difficult, because of lack of telegraph and telephone communication, as well as the frantic state of the entire populace, to confirm these reports. It is not yet possible to estimate even approximately the loss of life in the flooded areas, as the roads have been turned into lakes and marshes.

Camp Kitchens Established.

Federal troops with camp kitchens are being rushed to the inundated districts, where food supplies are being requisitioned from the neighboring country.

For once harmony prevails between Republican and Nationalist ("Steel Helmet") organizations, which hurried to the flooded districts, where the two factions are cooperating to alleviate the suffering.

Worst in Half Century.

Berlin, July 10 (A.P.).—The disaster in Saxony is described by meteorologists as the worst of the kind suffered by Germany in the last half century.

Experts attribute the catastrophic phenomenon to the unusual heat wave prevailing in Germany in the last few days, while, simultaneously, extensive areas of low atmospheric pressure in the southwest caused the formation of atmospheric eddies, where the east-ward heat and the westerly cold air met.

Magazine Page of Fashions and Features

HEARTS' HAVEN

With Illustrations by Armstrong Sperry
By MILDRED BARBOUR.
(Copyright, 1927.)

CHAPTER LXV.

Lean Days

CHRISTINE, in a blue-checked gingham gown, with her sleeves rolled above her elbows, ran down the slope of the little clearing in the woods, a tin pail swinging on one arm.

At the foot of the slope, among the pines, a waterfall gurgled musically as it splashed over smooth, clean rocks to a deep spring below.

As Christine dipped her pail into its crystal-clear depths, she noted that purple star flowers had opened their petals in the rich, wet earth beside the tumbling water. The sky was very blue, the sun shone warmly and the pungent scent of the pines filled the air.

Spring had come again, and it seemed as if the whole mountain side opened as the whole mountain side opened as the whole mountain side opened.

Christine drew a deep breath of satisfaction. It was good to have the warmth of spring, after the bleak snows of winter on that remote mountain side.

She went back up the slope with the pail on her arm. Under the shade of a pine, where the brown needles were thickest, close to the little shack of log and plaster, Lewis lay stretched in a deck chair, a rug thrown across his knees.

Three months in the mountains, with food and sunlight and air, had wrought much improvement. He was far less gaunt; his pallor had given way to the warm tan of one who is almost constantly in the open; his eyes no longer burned—they held the light of hope.

He watched Christine as she came up the slope in the bright sunlight, a slim, youthful figure in her simple gingham gown. But the sight of the pail made him wince, as always.

"For the thousandth time—it's a shame, Chris," he said, as she stopped beside him. "If I had the strength of a flea, I'd carry that pail for you."

"Foolish boy—to mind so much," she laughed. "Didn't the doctor tell you over and over again that you mustn't lift anything heavier than a glass of water?"

She set down her pail and perched herself on the foot of his chair.

"It's heavenly today," she sighed happily. "From now on, the weather is going to be beautiful. You will enjoy being out of doors. Poor Lew, you were certainly going to stick it, when there was snow over everything and the mercury was 15 below!"

"You were the one who was game, Chris. What did I do but lie on our little veranda, all wrapped up in rugs and blankets, with a hot-water bottle at my feet. It was you who eluded to keep the fire burning and cook the meals and do the laundry and go to town for provisions and teach Louise her lessons. In odd moments, you wrote the stuff that I let for food and medicine and a doctor. Chris, there may be angels in heaven, but there also is one here on earth right now, and she's sitting at the foot of my humble couch!"

She laughed and patted his cheek, noting with joy that it was losing some of its gauntness.

"Nonsense! I've enjoyed it. So has Louise. Poor kiddie, she never had a chance to play out of doors in clean, beautiful snow before. Next winter, of course, she'll have to go to school again, but I don't think she's missed much this year. I got her teacher to give me an outline before she left New York, and I've followed it carefully. The school here isn't bad at all, and I'll add to the curriculum with my small store of knowledge. May the Lord be good, she added wistfully. "I'll be able to send her away to school. All of which reminds me that there is a magazine editor in New York probably frowning at the mouth at this minute and wondering when I'm going to send him that story."

She got up and, making him a gay gesture, went into the house. A minute later she was back with a bottle and teaspoon.

"Cocktail time!" she announced, and poured out a sticky brown liquid which he swallowed obediently, making a wry face. "Anything else, Lew, before I begin to pound the old machine?"

"Nothing!" he declared. "I'm as happy and comfortable as a cat under the kitchen stove."

His gaze followed her as she sauntered back to the house. It was full of love and adoration.

Christine entered the living room of their shack. It had a huge open fireplace and the ceiling was beamed. In the windows bloomed scarlet geraniums. The furnishings were very simple—a table, a couch, several deep chairs, worn volumes and Christine's typewriter.

Then there was Lewis' bedroom and the one occupied by Christine and her daughter. The tiny kitchen where Christine prepared the meals and washed and ironed for her little family, completing the dwelling.

Everything about the place was meager, poor—but Christine had invested it with what charm she could, and the result was restful both to the eye and the heart.

As she sat at her typewriter beside the window that looked out across the clearing to the tall mountain peaks, tall white with snow, Christine contemplated her handiwork and saw that it was good. Peace had entered her soul. It was more than three months since she had found Lewis in his dingy boarding house, waiting for her to free him in order that he could crawl off to some charitable institution and end his days in loneliness.

That Spring afternoon she had her great inspiration.

She could scarcely remember the details of the weeks during which she had searched for a haven in the pine woods of upper New York. It was all so jumbled and frantic, and she was so driven by the urge of necessity that the ache in her own heart—the agony of putting Vane out of her life—was mercifully soothed.

Lewis had had a little money—enough to pay his railway fare and six months' rent on the little shack. Christine, with her writing—she had finally bullied the first editor of her acquaintance into giving her an order for another magazine series—was able to pay for their food, the simple furnishings, and medicine for Lewis. She wrote feverishly, selling an article here, a "pot-boiler" there. Hack stuff, but salable.

But on that spring afternoon, while she sat at her typewriter, staring out into the sunshine, her fingers strangely idle on the keys, she had her great inspiration.

At the time she didn't regard it in the light of an inspiration. It slipped so unobtrusively into her heart and brain. The dramatic instinct of the professional story teller would have led her to expect something comparable to the rolling away of a great mist before a dazzling vista, or the lifting of a bright curtain upon a scene that took form slowly as the lights gained and the shadows receded.

As a matter of fact, Christine merely slipped a new sheet of paper into her machine and began to write rapidly, smiling a little over the thing that grew under her fingers. It was just a diversion—a relief from hack work, she told herself.

(Continued tomorrow.)

BEAUTY AND YOU

By VIOLA PARIS

VARIOUS QUESTIONS

DEAR MISS PARIS—I will kindly suggest some exercises for me that will help to straighten my shoulders, as I am very round-shouldered.

2. What should I use to remove hair from the face, particularly about the mouth?

3. My face flushes very easily; how can I control this? It is so embarrassing at times.

4. Do you think a permanent wave is injurious to the hair? A. C. Answer: No. Raise both arms straight before you, palms in. With your arms kept at shoulder level, fling your arms as far in back of you as possible. Do this at least fifteen times.

(b) Raise the right arm high above your head and with your finger swing it in a complete circle. Repeat with the left arm and then swing both arms simultaneously.

You must also learn to stand and sit "tall." Whenever you think about your shoulders, make a conscious effort to straighten them and then keep them there.

2. Electrolysis is satisfactory for the removal of superfluous hair. But, before such an operation is started, the patient should be very sure of the reliability of her operator. Often, simply bleaching the hair gives satisfactory results. Equal parts of fresh lemon-juice, hydrogen peroxide and spirits of ammonia should be dabbed on the growth once a day and allowed to dry.

3. I understand that you blush easily. The control, as you realize, is almost entirely within yourself. It entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness. Entails steadier nerves and less self-consciousness.

WIVES OF TOMORROW

By FRANCES McDONALD
A Mother Deceived

DEAR Miss McDonald: I have been reading your good advice to so many young and old, that I have decided to come to you also in my hour of worry. My daughter, who is quite an attractive girl, has become rather friendly with her boss. At different times I have spoken to her about it, that it was not right for her to allow him to take her out to lunch (once a week), but she assured me that there was nothing wrong, that his wife knew about it, and they were nothing but pals. In fact, that his wife is glad that she (my daughter) is helpful to him in his purchases, etc., as his wife can not come to New York very often, having two children. Besides, my daughter assured me repeatedly that she could take care of herself. Well, I did believe her. Nine months ago she left her employment to start college. She told me her boss and his wife would gladly help her out if she needed any money. So far she has accepted a small loan, but he gave it to her in cash, not check, which made me think, I could not say anything, as I had no proof that it was not all O. K., and feared my daughter would be provoked if I doubted her again, as has been on former occasions. At present he is away on a trip, and about every three weeks a card comes to the house, just general greetings, but I have the feeling that this was just a bluff, and letters were addressed to her school. Well, I have been watching for proof to confront her, and found what I had suspected, several letters. I read them and worse than I ever had dared to think. You may say that I had no right to read her letters, but, Miss McDonald, how else could I ever have found out the real truth, and my child is too dear to me, I had to know. I am just frantic about the affair. I am not able to do my work, nor collect my thoughts. It seems this world holds nothing for me any more. I don't care to live, but she needs me after all. At present she is away, but expects to return in a couple of days, and he is abroad, might not return until September or October. My daughter is not one of the easy going, light kind, rather sensible, very ambitious, handy in everything, makes her own dresses, loves to make pretty things for her room, and is a very bright girl in general, knows how to take care of herself.

Please help me in my grief, and tell me what to do; shall I tell her that I read her letters? I know it will create a terrible scene; or shall I wait until he returns, and go to him? Thanking you for your kind answer.

Sincerely,
WORRIED MOTHER.

By all means wait until the man returns. Then go to him. If he is any less than a villain he will surely heed your plea—which by the way should not be so much a plea as a demand. Tell him that you will not tolerate his tactics, and ask him exactly what his behavior may mean. Personally, of course, in your situation I would have the family lawyer call upon him. But that is merely because I consider a man of his stamp so far outside the pale of decent personal conduct. He has evidently found your daughter weak beyond his expectations, and it is not likely he will relinquish his hold until he tires of her, by which time he will probably have broken her heart and crushed her spirit. As it is, he has taught her to lie, to deceive, has broken down the barriers of her self-respect; and will not stop until her complete demoralization becomes disgusting to him. So do not be glib in dealing with him. Let him know that there still is such a thing as the virtue of woman that it is still seriously resented by the decent. As to the girl, leave this article where she can see it. I have an idea that she recently wrote me asking a personal reply. Certainly a girl of the same age and from your locality and in the same situation did write me. Her letter revealed utter inability to see her situation as it is—no perception of what the future would mean. I answered her—but this may more deeply impress upon her the real situation of such procedure. Meanwhile do not permit the workings of fate to shatter your control. You have done all that you could. Just stand by.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

SCREENING CHEAPEST MALARIA CONTROL.

DR. C. P. COOGLE appears to have demonstrated that the cheapest, fairly effective way to keep malaria under control in a malarial region is by screening the houses. In an experiment which he has been conducting for three years on people who live in farm cabins in Leflore County, Miss., he has reduced the malaria rate to less than one-third that of people living in nearby unscreened houses.

In 104 unscreened houses there were 84 cases of malaria in a year. In the same number of nearby cabins occupied by about the same number of people there were only 24 cases of malaria in the same space of time.

During the active mosquito season both sets of houses were inspected for mosquitoes twice a month. The average number of mosquitoes caught in each of the screened houses at each inspection was 2.4, while the average in the unscreened houses was 16.5. Some mosquitoes will come down the chimney; some will come in through the doors when they are opened, and there are always a few cracks through which some highly intelligent and very persistent hungry mosquitoes can enter.

The cost of this kind of mosquito protection of the cabin has been estimated down to 42½ cents a window and $2.03 a door. The total average cost per cabin is about $8.50. Since the screen will last three to four years this means a cost per cabin per year of little less than three dollars.

In order to get the cost down to this figure one must know how, and there must be some mass production. Exact detailed information as to what materials to use and how to use them is given by Dr. C. P. Coogle in "Public Health Reports," April 22, 1927. This can be had from the Government Printing Office at Washington, D. C.

To get this kind of result the owner, the manager and the tenant must know what it is all about, what is to be done, how and why. In addition there must be a bi-monthly inspection service by some one who knows the ability of a mosquito to get through a small crack and how to prevent the proposed entrance.

The material used for screening is No. 16 mesh galvanized iron. The mesh must be known to be right. Mosquitoes can pass through the mesh of most of the mosquito screening on the market. The screening must be put on with attention to details. This can be done with unskilled labor. All cracks of every kind must be stopped. This can usually be done with paper.

The cost of screening is less than that of mosquito bars or nets in the long run. It is less than the cost of quinine.

BATHS WHILE MENSTRUATING.
O. K. writes: "I am perfectly healthy to take a hot bath while menstruating."

B says it will affect one in later years if hot bath is taken the second or third days of the period.

A is right.
B is wrong.

CURE FOR MURMURING HEART.
M. G. writes: "I What is a murmuring heart?"

2. How can it be cured?

1. One that leaks. It is similar to a wheezy pump. Among the causes are: Rheumatism; other infections, particularly the infections of childhood; anemia.

2. If the cause can be removed the murmur may stop. Examples: Murmurs due to anemia or to soft muscles.

As a rule, murmurs as such call for no treatment except to live right and especially to get just enough exercise and manual labor. Murmurs with broken compensation call for the most careful treatment of the broken compensation.

Claribel Writes of Charming Costumes

DEAR EVE—I must know what you think of this fervid rejuvenation of the scarf for sports and neo-sports. What do you think of it? Is it popular? And in what form is it popular? I have sketched at the left the sort I mean. It's long and quite wide and nearly always plaid; it is worn with a white crepe dress by a lady who was engaged in a game of bridge on the clubhouse porch.

The other two are girls that I saw at a wedding that I went to the other day out in Greenwich. One young girl was a sweet flowered white crepe. It was charming and young and the uneven hem-line was unusually treated.

The blouse is quite simple and the neckline is square, carrying out the line of the panel in front, which continues above the waistline like an apron. The fullness in the skirt conceals the effect of a yoke, while at the back of the neck a bow flutters gaily as she dances. The sleeves also were finished with bows at the wrists. The frock was a deeper shade of the same color, and the work of long string of beads. The colors were lovely together, and I hear that semiprecious strings of beads are coming back into style. Is that true?

Love,
CLARIBEL

(Copyright, 1927.)

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

LOVE.
Fame may come in a dozen ways. Wealth is found in a score of trades. Every art to its genius pays.

Skill has various ranks and grades. But soon or late we all come to know. Love is the same for the high and low.

Man finds love in a woman's eyes; Something tender and sweet and true. Be he foolish or be he wise. Sends him out in the world to woo.

A certain woman must whisper "yes" If love is to crown him with happiness.

(Copyright, 1927, Edgar A. Guest.)

Not the Heat But the Hat Is Important.

By Jay V. Jay.

Even under the awning it's a little warm. Not that Mitzi minds the heat. What concerns her is whether this hat of stitched felt with its off-the-face-lure is suitable to the temperature. The temperature can't be changed, but she can do something about the hat.

She did do something about the hat. She changed it for one with a brim—a hat of the lightest summer weight felt with a crinkled brim and the smartest of double-headed hat pins. Unfortunately someone seems to have done something about the weather, too!

It grows hotter and hotter. And it grows more and more difficult for Mitzi to keep appropriately garbed. A felt hat of any description was too heavy at last so she called for her wide brimmed Milan straw and the Goofy obligingly got it. The scooping brim is narrower in back than in front and is split on each side and folded back as you see. It's an extremely smart hat and Mitzi is so pleased with it that she suggests they go out for a little walk—or perhaps it would be nice to do something else? Poor Goofy.

Tomorrow—Lace Frocks and Lace Hats

(All rights protected by the George Matthew Adams Service—Trade Mark Registered U. S. Patent Office)

First to Present!

Patou's bathing costume with killed panties

—and it's the most charming, most care-free, most intriguing bathing suit you've ever seen.

It has Patou's favorite new Vee neckline, the clever combination of light jersey top and dark panties, and it's killed, but you must see it to really appreciate its glorious chic! $10.50.

Jelleff's Sportswear Shop—Second Floor.

Jelleff's
A FASHION INSTITUTION

How Many Can You Answer?

Each question counts ten. If you answer eight correctly, your intelligence rating is 80 per cent. Actual tests reveal that eight out of ten correct is college standard, six out of ten correct is high school standard, four out of ten correct is grammar school standard and less than four correct is uneducated standard.

1. What does the British K. C. B. mean?
2. Which is the largest city in the Rocky Mountain region?
3. Who was Vice President during Roosevelt's full term?
4. What charitable organization employs the saying, "A man may be down but he's never out?"
5. Who served as the first Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court?
6. Who was the Premier of France during the closing days of the World War?
7. Name the chief seaport of Japan.
8. Which eminent English writer was known as Boz?
9. Who won the freshman, junior varsity, and varsity boat races in the annual Yale-Harvard contests this year?
10. Did the Greek Zenophon write the Aeneid, the Anabasis, the Elegiacs, or the Republic?

(Copyright, 1927.)

Mr. Work's Pointer On Auction Bridge

THE pointer for today is: CONTRACT IS INCREASING IN POPULARITY WITH THE COUNTRY. OF 35 FOR NO TRUMP, 30 FOR A MAJOR SUIT AND 20 FOR A MINOR. I have stated in these articles that Contract has been used by certain caterers; and, so that my readers might become familiar with the new game, I explained the two Contract counts that have been used at that time. It has been venturesome to predict which count would be the choice of the Contract players of the country, but now it is evident that those who play Progressive nor with those who do not play for a stake. Its appeal is limited to players with a financial interest in the game, who are looking for a new and thrills, and who are able to size up accurately the trick-taking probabilities of a hand. The Contract is no place for the wild or non-dependable bidder.

Returning to our weekly Bridge contests in which thousands are participating, we offer this week a series of a different character. Four hands are given each day; the previous bidding is the same in all four, and the question in each case is what South should declare on his second turn.

Today's Hands, All Held by South.

NO. 1	NO. 2
♠ A-K-7-6-3	♠ A-K-7-6-3
♥ 9-4	♥ 9-4-2
♦ K-7-4	♦ K-7-4
♣ J-10-8	♣ K-7
NO. 3	NO. 4
♠ A-K-7-6-3-2	♠ A-K-7-3
♥ 9-4	♥ 9-4
♦ K-7-4	♦ 9-4
♣ K-7	♣ 9-7-6-5

The bidding has been South (Dealer) one spade, West pass, North two hearts East pass.

Bridge Answer Slip of July 11.
On the second round South should:
No. 1.....No. 2.....
No. 3.....No. 4.....
(Copyright, 1927.)

Conduct and Common Sense

By ANNE SINGLETON

A BABY'S PARTY

DEAR Miss Singleton: I am planning a little birthday party for my 3-year-old child and I find I do not know so much about the matter as I thought I did. Will you give me the desired information, please?

How shall I send out invitations? What kind of invitations? Do I ask the mothers or the day of the party to the table, and will birthday cake and ice cream be enough refreshments? Should I give each child something? Can you suggest a novel way to arrange the candies besides the old way of putting them in the cake? Shall I allow the children to entertain themselves in the game, who are looking for a new and thrills, and who are able to size up accurately the trick-taking probabilities of a hand. The Contract is no place for the wild or non-dependable bidder.

Most unfortunately this letter reached me the day of the party so I could do nothing to justify my existence as an adviser for the occasion, but perhaps there may be other mothers who may want to ask the same question and will be glad of the answers.

If I were giving a party for very young children I think I would be glad to have some of the mothers come within call. At the same time I should not feel I had to have them from the point of view of etiquette. It would be rather because I thought they would help to look after the children, or because I liked them to amuse them. I would either ask the children by word of mouth or telephone, I think. But, of course, an invitation like a grown-up invitation could be sent out for fun.

Master Robert Singleton requests the pleasure of Miss Mary Lee's company at his birthday party on Monday, July the eleventh at two o'clock.

I should start the party with some kind of general game, or an amateur Punch and Judy, or some simple conjuring. All these interests of my great paper bag full of mottos, suspended from some high place, which they may, in turn, strike at with a stick, helps to amuse them. Children's toys or favors at each place keep them from being jealous of the child who has the birthday cake, but I should not set the table elaborately. Ice cream and cake would be enough unless the men were delayed till supper time. I am in favor of candies on the cake in the classic old way.

(Copyright, 1927.)

Boston Signs Read "Kids Near; Go Slow"

Boston, July 10 (A.P.).—The Boston Automobile Club has discarded the refinements of diction in a new campaign to safeguard lives of children who play in the streets.

The first of 5,000 signs which will be posted mainly in congested residential districts made their appearance today. They read:

"Kids near. Slow down."

The committee which picked the slogan said it had rejected others couched in terms less picturesque in the belief that it would bring more immediate response from motorists.

For those glorious Vacation Days that beckon from afar!

Wherever the summer trail may lead, whether it be by rail, by water or by motor, there is a Hartmann Wardrobe Trunk particularly adapted to both the journey and the destination. To find the style best suited to your needs, at the price you can afford, is an easy matter when the selection is made at Becker's—where a complete stock ever awaits you.

BECKER'S VACATION SPECIAL

—has cushion top, laundry bag curtain, shoe box and four steel-bound drawers secured by Hartmann safety drawer locking device. Washable lining; specially priced at

$44.50

Other Hartmann Models from $39.75 to $375.00

Prepaid Mail Orders

BECKER'S

Telephone Main 4454

1314-16-18 F Street N.W.

Sherwood Forest

Magnificent 18-Hole Golf Course
"Garden Spot of the Severn River"

Daily De Luxe Bus Service to and from Washington

And Now That

Our 250 Bungalows are Filled for the Season—We Turn to the Sale of Building Sites

Let Us Show You What

(With Our 14 Years of Building Experience, a Trained Corps of Workers and a Strong Purchasing Power)

We Can Do for You

For a Very Limited Sum—Payable by You in Monthly Instalments Covering 11 Years

If Not Just Yet Ready to Build

Secure at Once a Good Site on Our Half-Payment Plan

(This commits you to the payment of but 1/2 of cost price of lot until you build and this subject to a ground rent if desired)

SHERWOOD FOREST CO.

And Foster Travel Service

1206 18th St. N.W. Main 7523

Auto route to Sherwood Forest, via Bladenburg and Defense Highway, following signs. Hourly trains on W. & A. met by agent.

WORLD CAMPAIGN BY WOMEN URGED IN CONGRATULATORY TALK

Miss Dorothy Evans, of London, Addresses Convention of U. S. Party.

CARAVAN TO MAKE TRIP TO SEE THE PRESIDENT

Group Will Make Journey to Black Hills in Interest of Equal Rights.

Colorado Springs, Colo., July 10 (A. P.).—A world campaign for equal rights for women was urged before the National Women's party convention by Miss Dorothy Evans, of London, feminist and member of the international advisory council of the party.

"We consider that the time is now ripe for the completion of our world-wide campaign in order to carry out an intensive campaign to bring before international opinion the world-wide demand of women for complete equality with men," she declared.

"The necessity of the moment is for the formation of a more closely knit international alignment of those bodies of women who are concentrating on this issue, to make it a question of immediate political importance in the international arena as we have in every country made it an urgent political issue."

Miss Evans said that the nations are slowly accepting the idea that they must conform to certain principles in accordance with international ideas of civilization. International agreements are becoming of increasing importance in the world of public health, she stated, and also in treatment of prisoners and of dependent peoples.

Great Civilizing Principle.

"There is no civilizing principle of as great importance as the emancipation of women," asserted the speaker. "A world league of people, at present only in its infancy, is a certainty of the future, not as a superstate controlling the nations, but to register a powerful and irresistible world public opinion."

She added that unless the opinion of women carries its full weight in this world opinion, it will not reflect the highest ideals of modern thought and will prove a menace.

The convention reflected Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, New York, president of the party; Alice Paul, New Jersey, advisory chairman; Gail Laughlin, Maine, first vice chairman; Frances Perkins, New York, second vice chairman; Anita Pollitzer, South Carolina, third vice chairman; Margaret Lambie, Washington, D. C., secretary; and Emma Wolf, Oregon, treasurer.

At a business meeting tomorrow noon delegates to compose the presidential caravan, which will visit President Coolidge in the Black Hills, will be elected. The convention will close with a pageant in Monument Valley Park, after which the caravan will set out on its way to South Dakota.

DIED

BEALL—Passed away Sunday, July 10, 1927, at the home of his sister, Mrs. C. H. Beall, 1314 F Street N.W.

BROWN—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, RUTH ROSEN, widow of Milton Brown.

CRISP—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at his residence, 809 E Street northeast, THOMAS H. CRISP, Sr., husband of Elizabeth G. Crisp.

DORRANCE—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 5 o'clock p. m., MISS NELLIE DORRANCE, 1314 F Street N.W.

DOUGLASS—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10 o'clock a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., WILLIAM D. DOUGLASS, aged 70 years five months and one day.

GAYNOR—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 6:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., Mrs. Joseph A. Melner, aged 63 years.

GLASCOX—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., MARGARET C. GLASCOX, aged 63 years.

GORDON—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., WALTER GORDON, aged 63 years.

HESSER—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., HARRY D. HESSER, aged 63 years.

KIRK—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., CHARLES KIRK, aged 63 years.

MACDONALD—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., JAMES MACDONALD, aged 63 years.

MORRISON—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., MORRISON, aged 63 years.

SHERR—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., SHERR, aged 63 years.

TROTT—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., TROTT, aged 63 years.

WILLIAMS—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., WILLIAMS, aged 63 years.

YOUNG—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., YOUNG, aged 63 years.

ZIMMERMAN—On Sunday, July 10, 1927, at 10:30 a. m., at his residence, 1314 F Street N.W., ZIMMERMAN, aged 63 years.

ADDITIONAL FUNERAL DIRECTORS

CHAS. S. ZURHORST

V. L. SPEARE CO.

Gawler Service

Member National Selected Morticians.

ALMUS R. SPEARE

Succeeding the Original

W. R. SPEARE CO.

1623 Connecticut Ave.

POTOMAC 4600

Frank Geier's Sons Co.

1113 SEVENTH ST. N.W.

JAMES T. RYAN

THOS. S. SERGEON

NORVAL K. TABLER

FUNERAL DESIGNS

GEO. C. SHAFFER

EXPRESSIVE FLORAL EMBLEMS

BLACKSTONE'S

Floral "Blanket Sprays"

Funeral Designs

GUDE

AT THE LOCAL THEATERS

KEITH'S PALACE METROPOLITAN

So long ago that even Roland Robbins, manager of Keith's, can not remember, Marion Harris came tripping by way across a vaudeville stage, singing, perhaps, "The St. Louis Blues." This does not mean, of course, that Marion Harris belongs to the remote ages, but she established herself—and she comes back after an absence of several years to headline this week at the popular Fifteenth street playhouse, to headline, too, on a bill that presents as fine an array of talent as local theaters have seen in weeks.

Water McCall, Irish baritone, making his debut at Keith's, audiences bring with him a host of favorite songs from the musical comedies; really from the light operas—"Song of the Vagabonds" and "The Flame Song" from "Song of the Flame," with lullabies of Irish lilt and association. He loses no time in setting himself up as a favorite in this locale.

All told, the Keith bill is well balanced—and there are two comedy acts that are the device of the season. "The Hick and the Chick," brings down the house, as the saying goes, because of the comedy duo, Billy and Elsa Newell, in comedy songs and dances, score heavily, too, with a method of their own. Their act is one of the dearest of the season. Art Frank, the old-timer, playing his perennial old man, has with him Marge Barron.

Spanish stage novelty, introduced this week by Colby Harrison, is very pretty. It introduces Dorothy Wilson, who has a sweet, soft voice. The orchestra, led by a handsome pianist, is something of a novelty. The overture, "Harmony High Spots," is a novelty in itself. The orchestra, led by a handsome pianist, is something of a novelty. The overture, "Harmony High Spots," is a novelty in itself.

At the Palace this week, "Tillie the Toller" is the feature picture. Also Loew's Palace is staging an act composed of 16 pretty, young, graceful, well-costumed "Tiller Girls," who precede the picture.

Marion Davies, starring as Tillie, comes in this picture in a new role—comedienne—but she gives it a seriousness. This is not the best Miss Davies has done. Some of her previous pictures brought out more of her personality. But in "Tillie the Toller," she is not at all disappointing. The story itself can lay little claim to following the comic strip, to which it adheres only in spots—just as a means for plotting the story.

Tillie gets a position in the office of a bookkeeper (George Fawcett), where she is the bookkeeper (Matt Moore) and Whipple (Geo. K. Arthur), the general manager. Tillie goes to lunch with Whipple, meets Penn Rich, the millionaire, and falls in love with him. To provide necessities for her family, she plays up to Rich and gets his proposal of marriage. Mac, in the meantime, has forgotten his "boy friend," and it is not until almost the wedding that true love asserts itself.

Marion Davies has little opportunity to show her acting—more given to Annette, who carries the "Whipple" of the strip well. Fawcett is good.

In the stage feature, the 16 "Tiller Girls" dance in a series of novelties. "Montana," the famous banjoist, strummed himself into instant popularity.

Spanish stage novelty, introduced this week by Colby Harrison, is very pretty. It introduces Dorothy Wilson, who has a sweet, soft voice. The orchestra, led by a handsome pianist, is something of a novelty. The overture, "Harmony High Spots," is a novelty in itself.

At the Little Theater, "The Love Nest," and International News Reel, showing some fine views of the sun's eclipse, and Byrd and his ship, are the additional film scripts.

LITTLE THEATER

Much was written when "Cyrano de Bergerac" was first brought to Washington by the Motion Picture Guild last summer, and much has been said about it since. This week Washington is privileged to see the picture again at the Little Theater, to see a fine and glowing and beautiful version of the great romantic drama of Rostand.

It would seem to be impossible that such a play as "Cyrano" could be as effective and lovely on the screen. But the French have transferred it admirably, with Pierre Magnier, of the Comedie Francaise, in the title role, and have even colored the film by hand, which lends a glorious touch to the swarthy, well-known to American audiences, and intelligent poet, is back again. Cyrano is wearing his graceful way through the picture, exactly where he should be. A fine cast supports the star, and the direction and continuity are splendid.

A compendium of interesting newsreel shots and a good accompaniment of overture and music by the Little Theater Trio. Only motion pictures are shown at the Little Theater, but these pictures are invariably worthwhile.

WARDMAN PARK

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

It was about 1920 when a motion picture was given one private performance at the old Garrick Theater. Critics raved about this film, but it was never shown to the public because there was no motion picture guild at that time. The film was a simple but tremendously gripping and powerful adaptation of a story by George Leitch, and it was to be one of the earliest great pictures. It was "Pelukushka," enacted by the Moscow Art Theater.

It is being shown at the Wardman Park Theater this week, and any one who prides himself on his appreciation of worth-while things should not miss it. The film is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture, and it is a masterpiece of the art of the motion picture.

FLOOD AD SESSION HELD ADVISABLE BY TILSON LEETER

Probably Would Result in Hasty Half-Baked Legislation, Representative Says.

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

"It is a national calamity in the probability of an extra session of Congress to enact flood relief legislation appeared further removed yesterday when Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader of the House, made public a letter he had written Representative Lowrey, of Louisiana, expressing the opinion that a special session probably would result in 'hasty, half-baked legislation.'

At the same time, the floor leader emphasized that he was ready to contribute to any movement that would help the flood sufferers, and would not oppose an extra session if any good could be accomplished.

ERLEBACHER

and Now for the Plunge!

Into the surf of brine and green or into pools or streams all crystal clear—

ERLEBACHER Beach Togs will garb you colorfully in keeping with the gay and rollicking abandon of vacation hours.

BATHING SUITS OF FRENCH JERSEY SURF SATIN and BATHING SUIT SATIN

BEACH COATS IN STRIKING COLOR EFFECTS

BAGS CAPS SHOES

ERLEBACHER

5508 MONEY LOSS IN FOOD

CHAMBERS GAS RANGE CO.

Boulevard Apartments

2121 New York Ave. N.W.

Furnished and Unfurnished Apartments

Forbes Heads Forest Experiment Station

Berlin School Girls Users of Lipsticks

10% Discount

FANS

Including These Famous Brands—Westinghouse, General Electric and Polar Cub.

A. MUDDIMAN & CO.

709 13th St. N.W.

THE 4-M HOTELS

Operated by Maddux, Marshall, Moss & Mallory, Inc.

ARLINGTON HOTEL

CAIRO HOTEL

THE FAIRFAX

HAMILTON HOTEL

The Washington Post.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
 Delivered by Carrier in Washington and Alexandria.
 Daily, Sunday included, one year.....$5.40
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one year.....$4.00
 Daily, Sunday included, one month.....$1.00
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one month.....$0.75
 Daily, Sunday included, one week.....$0.25
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one week.....$0.20

BY MAIL, PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.
 Outside District of Columbia.
 Daily and Sunday.....$5.40
 Daily, Sunday excluded.....$4.00
 Daily, Sunday included, one month.....$1.00
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one month.....$0.75
 Daily, Sunday included, one week.....$0.25
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one week.....$0.20
 District of Columbia.
 Daily and Sunday.....$5.40
 Daily, Sunday excluded.....$4.00
 Daily, Sunday included, one month.....$1.00
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one month.....$0.75
 Daily, Sunday included, one week.....$0.25
 Daily, Sunday excluded, one week.....$0.20

New subscriptions for The Post or renewals will not be accepted unless payment accompanies the order. Remittances should be made by draft, check, postal note, registered letter or express order, payable to The Washington Post Co., Washington, D. C.
 Edward B. McLean, President and Publisher.
 Entered at the Postoffice at Washington, D. C., as second-class mail matter.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
 The Washington Post is a member of the Associated Press, receiving the complete service of the world's greatest news-gathering organization.
 The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not credited to it in this paper, and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representative—PAUL BLOCK, Inc., Park-Lexington Building, New York; Century Building, Chicago; Little Building, Boston; General Motors Building, Detroit; Commonwealth Trust Building, Philadelphia.

Monday, July 11, 1927.

INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTIONS.

For the fiscal year which ended on June 30, 1927, the total of internal revenue receipts from all sources was $2,865,695,509.86, which exceeded the collections for the fiscal year 1926 by $29,695,617.67, as reported by Commissioner Blair on Saturday last.

In spite of the decreased rate of taxation the increase from income taxes was $245,726,873.08. Receipts from miscellaneous taxes under the internal revenue laws fell off $216,031,255.41, due to the revision of the tax laws by the last Congress which eliminated many of the excise taxes and materially reduced others.

The heavy increase in the collections from incomes appears to refute the cries of the calamity howlers who insist that the talk of general prosperity is "all bunk," and that the country is on the verge of a financial collapse because of their inability to persuade Congress to enact into law their many schemes for the benefit of the human race.

That the year which closed June 30 was one of prosperity throughout the United States, notwithstanding the calamitous cries of the farm bloc seems to be very clearly proved by returns from the 65 collection districts of the Internal Revenue office. Of those districts 82 reported increased revenues from income taxes, and in only thirteen was there a decrease from the collections of the year before. Not was it in the purely agricultural States that the decrease in income-tax collections was the most marked. The falling off in collections in the States where the farm bloc is most active, as in the others, is easily accounted for by the fact that the new rates, which exempt small incomes—those under $3,500 for heads of families—from all taxes, were effective for the whole of the fiscal year 1927 for the first time.

The returns show clearly that the prosperity of the United States is not a myth, but on the contrary is a concrete condition throughout the entire Union.

DEGENERATE BOSTON.

"Kids near—slow down." With this phrase, conspicuously posted on 5,000 signs scattered throughout the congested residential section of the Hub City, the Boston Automobile Club expects to cut the mounting child casualty toll. Erudite Boston has gone bourgeois. Who would have thought that the city that claims title to the only remaining pure American idiom would countenance that word "kids"? Can it be that Boston has no right to the distinction it enjoys? Surely the automobile club knows enough about its city to believe that motorists at least will understand the general purport of the phrase. Yet the rest of the United States, had it been forewarned that Boston intended to adopt such a word as this, would have given warning that in all probability those using the streets in the home of the bean would not know what it was all about. Boston is degenerating. It is dropping to the level of other American cities. The phenomenon is both startling and disconcerting.

It seems that the club had a contest to select a slogan, and that the committee in charge cast aside others less picturesque in the belief that the novelty of the one selected would bring about immediate response from motorists. If Boston had to lower its philological standard as far as this, it could not have chosen a more worthy cause than the prevention of juvenile fatalities. Yet, while it was about it, the Hub might just as well have gone the whole hog.

TAMMANY'S HOUSING SCHEME.

Practical Tammany Hall would be righteously indignant should its tendencies be termed socialist. For entirely different reasons the political schemers have as little use for Utopian theories as the veriest bluestocking Tory. Tammany success is founded on the belief that the chosen shall control, provided they belong to the Wigwam, and not that all shall share alike. Nevertheless, the present New York administration put into office by Tammany votes is all but committed to a housing program that is closely akin to socialism.

The purpose is worthy. Elimination of the slums has been the aim of many persons and many parties. It is difficult for the observer, accustomed to sane methods of living, to see how any good can come out of the crowded tenements that shelter so large a portion of New York's population. The fact that inhabitants of those sections continue to push their way out is testimony of the ability of mankind to overcome any obstacle.

The means selected by Tammany to end this situation include condemnation of land under the technical authority granted the city to make street improvements, and tax exemption for the ground dedicated to model tenements. Through these forms of municipal aid the promise is held out of dwelling places which may be rented at the rate of $8 a room, and return 10 per cent upon the investment.

Superficially the goal is one of increased benefits for all concerned.

Proponents of this philanthropic enterprise gloss over the other side of the picture. Condemnation proceedings are in the very nature of things seizure by force of property not willingly surrendered. Tax exemption for the ground upon which the new tenements are to be constructed will bring about a diminution in municipal revenue that must be met by increased rates elsewhere. The competition of $8 a room housing, which obviously can not be met without civic assistance, will affect other values. Although Tammany may not consider its intentions socialistic it certainly means to take something from those that have and give it to those that have not.

THE MAN AND THE ENGINE.

Several days ago Col. Charles Lindbergh put his Spirit of St. Louis into the shop for examination and overhauling of its engine. Following its prior inspection the plane had done about 90 hours of flying. On Friday last the engine was torn down and examined by mechanics of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation, who pronounced it to be in perfect condition. "Not even minor repairs are necessary," the company announced, "and the whole engine has the appearance of having been run only a few hours."

Much of the progress which has been made in aviation is due to recent advances in motor design. The fact that the engine in the Spirit of St. Louis came through its long grind so handsomely demonstrates well that fact. The condition of the motor unquestionably is not only a testimonial to its builder but also to Col. Lindbergh.

An airplane motor is not a foolproof device. Neither is an automobile engine. The aviation motor, however, is even more delicate and sensitive than that which is found under the hood of any motor car. Bad judgment in warming up a plane, bad adjustment of the fuel mixture, or improper handling of any sort will ruin its engine in short order. Lindbergh's motor came through 90 hours of flying in perfect condition, because he knew how to take care of it.

Pilot, mechanic, navigator, born flier, Lindbergh merits well the title of foremost aviator. He knows planes, he knows engines, he has an uncanny sense of direction, and he knows how to coordinate all this diverse knowledge. Add to these his personality and character and it is easy to realize how he happened to be the first to span the Atlantic.

A CAMPAIGN WORTH WHILE.

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association has embarked upon a five-year advertising campaign to acquaint the public with the part which wood has played in the building of a nation. The program involves the expenditure of what is said to be one of the largest sums ever devoted to educational advertising, and will demonstrate, says the association, the advantages of lumber over kindred and substitute materials, and create a better understanding of its uses and possibilities.

There is little doubt that the program will serve more than one useful end. Primarily it should mean better business for the lumber interests, probably more than sufficient to justify the cost. The public, too, by being taught how best to utilize wood will not lose through its newly gained knowledge.

An incidental gain, however, may prove to be the most important of all. If the public is brought to realize the part wood has played in the upbuilding of the Nation and the part it is destined to play in contemporary and future everyday life, it quite probably will gain a new conception of the value of its forest resources. Then it may be that forest conservation will take tremendous strides forward. The American is not profligate with that which he believes to be valuable. Present-day utilization of scrap and waste materials and commercial development of by-products demonstrates that fact. Forest wastage results only from ignorance, and from a nearsighted belief that timber lands are inexhaustible. Make the American realize that wood is extremely valuable, and he will conserve it. The association's educational campaign may do that very thing. If so it will be of paramount national importance.

ANOTHER NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS.

Results of a country-wide ballot circulated among pharmacists make certain that the new national headquarters building of the American Pharmaceutical Association will be located in Washington. Although plans for the structure have not as yet been drawn, it has been decided that the building will include offices for the association, a reference library, a historical museum and a research laboratory in which the standards of drug products will be studied.

Washington is becoming more and more a headquarters city for national associations, a good thing for all concerned. Members of associations have the advantage, when visiting their headquarters, of getting in touch with all the varied interests that center in this Capital. The organizations themselves may be assured of a warm welcome from a city in which are located peculiar facilities and advantages for carrying on their work. Museums, libraries, Federal laboratories and research bureaus will be within beck and call of the pharmaceutical laboratories, just as they are at the constant call of other similar organizations. Washington welcomes the pharmacists, and is sure that they will not regret the establishment of their headquarters here.

SCIENCE IN INDUSTRY.

Until comparatively recently the X-ray was utilized only by physicians for the purpose of exploring the mysteries of the interior of the human body without resorting to the knife, and as a curative agent in the treatment of certain diseases. Ten years ago the science of applying the Roentgen ray to the problems of industry was born, and already the infant art has taken great strides forward. At a meeting of the institute of chemistry held recently at State College, Pa., use of the ray in many different branches of industry was described.

X-rays have enabled industrial scientists to solve many secrets which nature has held through the centuries. The process that goes on in the baking of a loaf of bread, the transformations during the manufacture of carbon articles, the changes in the molecular structure of metals being rolled, and processes in the manufacture of resin, wax, soap, textiles, paper, ink and other substances are inspected constantly through the X-ray, with a result that better manufacturing methods are being constantly evolved.

Formerly, industrial processes were largely hit or miss propositions. The original iron puddler had no scientific background or knowledge upon which to base his mixture. By experimentation processes were improved, of course, despite the fact that actual knowledge of what went on inside the material upon the addition of a new flux was not to be had. Of late years, however, industry has come to call more and more upon science. Laboratories have been set up for the purpose of studying the finished product as well as the raw material. Naturally the X-ray has been brought in for the purpose of studying structural changes and weaknesses and, set down beside the machine itself, to enable human eyes to watch the changes going on during the manufacturing process.

The linking together of science and industry presages well for the future. Better products, manufactured under cheaper processes, are sure to result.

THE EASY PAYMENT PLAN.

Carping critics of Secretary Mellon who find fault with him for arranging the settlement of the British and other foreign indebtedness to the United States in installments running over a period of 62 years have something to think about in the news from Russia. A citizen of the Soviet republic was recently convicted of allowing property of the government committed to his charge to be taken by other citizens of the district. The total value of the property thus feloniously taken was $19,000. The storekeeper receives a salary of $20, which, even in Russia, is not regarded as fabulous. Apparently Nicholas Elistratov, the careless official, has no other income or assets, therefore there was only one way out of the dilemma. That was to permit him to pay for the shortage on the installment plan. The court has entered a decree which requires the delinquent to pay into the Soviet treasury the entire sum in installments of $7.50 each month. If the unfortunate official keeps up his payments and makes satisfactory arrangements by which his heirs, up to the fifth or sixth generation, can be induced to do likewise, the entire indebtedness will have been liquidated after a period of 210 years. Interest is not demanded.

Since the retreat of the French under Napoleon from Moscow, there has been a rather close friendship between Russia and France in matters financial. France has not yet settled her indebtedness to the United States. Some of her statesmen may consider the case of Elistratov as an excellent precedent to invoke when next the subject of her obligations to this country is brought up for discussion.

UNIQUE ROAD SIGNS.

The Genesee country of western New York, which is the most picturesque region of the State, once the home of the great Iroquois Nation, is making strenuous efforts to attract tourists to the natural beauties of the region. Within the past few years the residents have united in an organization, the prime object of which is to increase the attractiveness which nature has provided, and secondly to advertise those attractions to the world.

One of the causes which tourists have to complain about is the general lack of signs giving directions and distances along the most traveled highways. This has been overcome to a considerable extent by designating some of the principal trails by numbers. For instance, the "Susquehanna Trail" can be readily followed for its entire distance because of this marking of the telegraph posts on the route, on which have been painted the route number from its beginning at the Maryland line to the shore of Lake Erie.

The Genesee Country Association has gone a step further by erecting a series of guideposts constructed of steel and in silhouette the form of an aborigine of the region, on bended knee. He carries a bow, the arrow from which is used as a directing sign for the guidance of the traveler. The device is of steel construction and is attractively decorated in several colors. These signposts are not to be permitted to become weather-worn, as contracts have been made under which they will be kept constantly fresh and bright.

There is a population of upward of 10,000,000 within a day's auto ride of the Genesee country, and the association is taking pains to let them know how to get there.

DID JIM DO IT?

No repercussion of Henry Ford's astonishing action—his most recent one—followed a more curious tangent than the observations which see in the cessation of his anti-Jewish attacks a design on his part to capture the Democratic presidential nomination. The premise that Ford aspires to the Presidency can be attributed only to the dearth of actual news. The conclusion that the Democrats would take his candidacy seriously is the most unkind truth that has yet been directed at that much maligned party.

The quality of naivete so abundantly possessed by Ford is certainly not inherent in politicians, not even those of Democratic persuasion. There is not a theory developed by Ford in his highly successful career that could be transferred to politics and please the politicians. Standardized production, the automobile's masterpiece, would of itself be contrary to all known rules of governmental procedure. The only asset Ford possesses, which would prove of the least benefit to party workers, is his cash reserve.

If political motives must attach themselves to what has taken place it would be well not to overlook the benefits that may accrue to a citizen of Missouri who is rather intimately linked with all of the principals who had a hand in Ford's recantation. Senator James A. Reed is both the attorney for Ford and the favorite son of William R. Hearst for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The news of Ford's change of heart was given to the world through Mr. Hearst's agents. Reed claims no credit for the move. It will be easy, however, to bestow the honor upon the Missouriian when it will do the most good. Reed already has obtained the pecuniary reward for his association with Ford. The political prize for having shown the publisher of the Dearborn Independent the error of his ways may be even greater.

Ditched!

PRESS COMMENT.

To End War.

Detroit News: Disarmament is a help, but what the world needs is a history schoolbook that reads the same in all countries.

Harmless Entertainment.

Des Moines Register: Some pedestrians get a kick out of the fact that a lot of motorists always look mad at the traffic lights.

Smolder in Silence.

Atchison Globe: Remaining silent when you are mad is a part of good citizenship. Every man talks like an anarchist if he talks while he is angry.

Which Is What?

Minneapolis Journal: The reason why a chicken crosses the street has been discovered. It is the same reason as that which makes a driver try to beat the train to the crossing.

What Cities Need.

Indianapolis News: One of the city's needs is more signs at dangerous corners; and another is fewer dangerous corners, and a third is more caution at dangerous corners.

Lindy Cocktails.

New York Evening Post: London and Paris have named cocktails after Lindbergh, and if they're made of American liquor it might be a good idea to serve a parachute with each drop.

The President's Vacation.

Brooklyn Eagle: Plenty of strong men would be wholly worn out with the sort of rest that President Coolidge is taking. Wonderful is the stamina of a Vermont constitution.

Still Want More.

Toledo Blade: Women have been given the long ballot and the short skirt. If that isn't liberty, Patrick Henry was a Tory.

The Interested Ones.

Bristol Herald-Courier: Folks who are not certain about their destination hereafter are keenly interested in the efforts of the religious modernists to abolish hell.

Reward for Sapienty.

Fort Wayne News-Sentinel: We would recommend as a recipient of the fanned cross that eminent "medical authority" who has been quoted as having warned the world that "many of the world's ills are directly traceable to poor health."

Out of Its Place.

Columbus Dispatch: The refusal of an inmate of the Warrensville workhouse to accept a legacy of $30,000 arouses the grave suspicion that he is being confined in the wrong institution.

And Make Him Read It.

El Paso Times: While the Gideons are placing their Bibles in El Paso hotels we trust that they will slip a couple to the man who makes the rates.

Control the Coughers.

Philadelphia Inquirer: The English clergyman who, in beginning his sermon, asked the congregation to cough only at the end of sentences, was heard, let up hope, in comparative silence. This idea was a good one, and it is capable of extension. The bronchial audience so often in attendance at operas and concerts might well cough, but it can usually be controlled except in severe cases, by a little will power.

Chinese Dynamite.

Philadelphia Public Ledger: About once every three months the Chinese Eastern Railway appears in the news. Each time it is stated that Chang Tso-Lin, war lord of Manchuria, is going to end the joint Russian-Chinese control of the line and bring it entirely under the Chinese administration—that is, under his own. That hasn't happened yet, in spite of the predictions. Yet it is understandable why this railroad is thus

Matrimony

By ROBERT QUILLEN

WHEN the West was wild, and merely to be a part of it was an adventure, it was not an uncommon occurrence for partners in quest of gold to be snowbound or isolated by some minor disaster.

For months at a time they would be shut off from the world, with nothing to do but eat and sleep and talk. It was the supreme test of their partnership.

Usually boredom made them ill-tempered. They learned to hate one another, and they did not again become friends until they got back to civilization and were free to escape one another.

If they remained friends during the months of their imprisonment, it was not because they were handsome, or rich, or talented, or born of good stock, but solely because they were congenial.

To be married is much like being snowbound. Partners in matrimony are to some extent shut off from the world; they are held together in their isolation, and intimacy is continuous and unavoidable.

When the first fine frenzy of love is gone and the disillusioned partners face the long monotony of their contract, there is a readjustment of values.

Yesterday the man counted himself fortunate because his woman had pretty eyes and a well-turned ankle; because her people ranked high in the community; because she could sing well.

The woman rejoiced because her man had reputation as an athlete; because his income was large; because he could talk well about books and the arts and current events.

But if enforced proximity has brought boredom; if they now irritate one another; if the prosaic monotony of constant companionship has made them both quick to offend and easily offended, the qualities and charms and merits that inspired their love have lost all value. Beauty in one you hate serves only to make you hate the more.

Those happily married are those who "get along well." They may be homely, commonplace, dull and poor; it does not matter. If they are congenial, the venture is a success.

There is the argument for long courtships. You may covet a shoe in a show window, but you must try it on and wear it a while before you can know how it fits your foot.

A shoe that pinches takes the joy out of life, whatever its quality. The pinch doesn't show, but it's the most important part.

"Foolish spending" consists in parting with a dollar and getting only 42 cents' worth of enjoyment.

The frock you intended to buy tomorrow is sold. All of life is like that. You must take a piece of cake when the cake is passed.

Correct this sentence: "Dr. Brown isn't sympathetic," said she, "but he knows his business and women prefer him."

(Copyright, 1927.)

kept under close observation. For the Manchurian situation contains more real dynamite than any other part of the Far East, not excepting China proper, which is so much more in the news. It is realized that the battle between Russian and Japanese imperialism will take place there, and this clash is deemed inevitable, eventually, if not now. As a sort of advance signal, something will happen to the Chinese Eastern Railway. So, whenever this railway is mentioned, every one with any concern in Far Eastern affairs immediately perks up his ears.

Use Motors or Brains.

Greensboro News: This is the season when the luxury of sleeping under a blanket may be obtained by going several hundred miles to sleep—or by going outdoors to sleep.

Explaining Explanations.

Ohio State Journal: The third-term issue is so negligible that we faithful Republicans are now doing considerable explaining about it.

Cooperative Coal.

London Outlook: The Cooperative Wholesale Society has taken an important step by purchasing a large holding of shares in Bridgewater Estates, Ltd., a great coal-producing concern in the Lancashire area. In future the C. W. S. is to become the marketing agent for the coal produced by this group of collieries, the sales being made, of course, to the coal departments of local cooperative societies. This is not the first venture of the C. W. S. into ordinary joint-stock investment, but it is much bigger than any previous transaction of the kind, and may fairly be taken as indicating

The Relative Value.

Baltimore Sun: Army men explain that Col. Lindbergh and Commander Byrd were eligible to honors by virtue of their connection with the Army and Navy, respectively, but that the best rank available to Chamberlin, an ordinary citizen, is that of second lieutenant. This is in the regular Army, but any governor of a State, it appears, can make him a brigadier general of the National Guard. And now it will be interesting to hear from the National Guard on this matter of the moral equivalence of their brigadier generals and the Army's second lieutenants.

Moslem Prohibition.

Philadelphia Record: We trust we are not committing the impropriety of correcting the King of Egypt on a point of Moslem law, but when he is represented as expressing a wish to be served "no alcoholic drink, since this was contrary to the ordinance of Mohammed," we feel confident that some one has made a mistake. We believe that the Prophet of Mecca forbade the use of wine, but many of his followers have felt at liberty to drink raki, or arrack, as it is called in India, because that was not forbidden by Mohammed, being quite unknown to him. It seems to be a fact that alcohol—which is an Arabic word—was first produced by those people to whom their religion forbade wine. This may be a mere coincidence, but it may also possess considerable significance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

The Church and Science.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In the issue of July 2 the Literary Digest has an article on the rapid spread of atheism.

If the statements are true, the churches have but themselves to blame for this condition. Science does not fight and antagonize religion, but the church has had the hammer out for science since the dawn of creation. A scientist may doubt presentations but will not deny the possibility of a supreme power and intelligence. Only ignorance denies a God outright.

What we need are more real churches for the masses, not debt-ridden structures for the elect. Also ministers who will preach, act and think God, Christ and the Bible. Some day we may know more about the future life, and science will get the credit for it. Yet it would seem it should be otherwise.

FRED T. HAFELINGER.

What Do They Want?

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I see by the papers that some women are still clamoring for "equal rights," and propose to go to Congress with an imperative demand that those imaginary "equal rights" be given them. I have been puzzling my brains to discover just what rights they want more than they have. They have been given the right to vote, to sit on juries, to hold office, to have as many divorces as they can pay for, to run autos, to wear just as little clothing as their inclinations lead them to do, and the men have graciously and gallantly given them the right to strap-hang in the street cars.

I have attended a number of the meetings where this clamor for "equal rights" prevailed, but have not been enlightened as to what additional rights they want. Do they want Congress to give them the right to stay home and care for their children? That is one right accorded them by common consent, and it is one right they constantly ignore. They once exercised the right to make a happy home for their husbands. That right they have abandoned. They indulge in all kinds of sport, racing, flying, baseball, football, golf, but up to the present time, have refrained from prize fighting. Is that one of the rights they hunger for? I have mentally traveled the whole range, and prize fighting is the only thing they have not yet adopted.

AN OLD-FASHIONED WOMAN.

Defense of New York and Washington.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I have been reading, with great interest, of a giant dirigible which is reported as being built in this country. This superairship will have a cruising radius of from 12,000 to 15,000 miles and a speed of 100 miles an hour, and will carry six battle-planes and a great number of enormously destructive bombs.

We must not forget, however, that similar giant dirigibles will be built in Europe, and might be used against us by a very possible enemy. A fleet of such airships could easily cross the Atlantic, and be above New York and Washington in thirty hours.

It was conclusively proved, by the experience of London during the war, that the World War, that combats will not hesitate to attack great and populous cities from the air.

I would most respectfully suggest, therefore, to the gentlemen of the War Department at Washington that they should direct their attention to the invention, improvement and perfection of antiaircraft guns of great range, suitable for the destruction of giant dirigibles belonging to the enemy. It would suggest that their shells, upon bursting, should fling out as widely as possible some very clinging and adhesive incendiary composition, possibly containing phosphorus. A zone of antiaircraft guns should protect New York and other great American cities, and, especially, Washington.

Wyoming Cafe

2022 Columbia Road Phone Decatur 2000
Breakfast a la Carte. Four Course Dinner,
$1.00. Monthly rate, Breakfast and Dinner,
$46. Special rates for Dinner Parties.

Thomas, formerly of Emile, is now with us at Roosevelt Hotel Branch

FOR YOUR BEST PERMANENT WAVE

Gimmie's
BEAUTY SALONS

White Cricket
Cloth Trousers
$22.92

Goldheim's
APPAREL FOR GENTLEMEN
1409 H STREET

An Old Saying

It's an old saying but absolutely true about photographs—"the best is cheapest in the end."

Photographs live forever. A good one is a constant joy, while a poor one—

No one need have poor photographs nowadays.

UNDERWOOD &amp; UNDERWOOD

Portraits of Quality
1230 Connecticut Avenue. Telephone Main 4400.

At The Very Peak of Its Greatest TWICE YEARLY

sale!

ARTCRAFT
JULY 11 - 1927

Features a Wonderful Grouping of the Very latest Summer Footwear at Afternoon shoes tailored effects sport models summer novelties

patent leathers
Everything to Complete the Vacation Wardrobe

785

Depleted Size Range Maker of the Height of the Foot to 400
EARLY

With its many unusual features it is conceded generally that
The SHELTON has established an entirely new standard of hotel value, service and comfort.

A refreshing plunge in the swimming pool—enjoy the night on the roof garden.

Try as much as you like, you won't find any other New York hotel so comfortable!

Especially during the summer

The SHELTON has more of the atmosphere of a club than a hotel. Write for descriptive leaflet.

With all the joys of a resort hotel, yet in the very heart of the city. Every conceivable comfort and luxury. Every service and convenience.
The SHELTON unquestionably is the most ideal hotel a visitor to New York can select—any time of the year.

No other hotel in New York provides so much for the pleasure and comfort of its guests.
Besides the swimming pool, and the roof garden, illustrated above, there are

THREE BEAUTIFUL LOUNGES A SOLARIUM
BOWLING ALLEYS LIBRARY GAME ROOMS
GYMNASIUM EXCELLENT DINING ROOMS
BREAKFAST CAFETERIA SQUASH COURTS

Arrange to enjoy your summer trip to the city by stopping at The SHELTON. We will be glad to send you a leaflet describing the many features of the hotel that make it so delightful a place for the out-of-town guest—and to tell you how you can enjoy these luxuries for less than you would pay for just the ordinary "room and bath" accommodations you get in other hotels. Room rentals are from $3 to $6 single—$6 to $9 double.

Out-of-town guests are advised to make reservations in advance when possible.

The SHELTON

49th and Lexington, New York

A few steps from Grand Central Station

AMERICAN GRAVES
IN FRANCE TO BEAR
SOLDIERS' RECORDS

Decorations Among Many of 20,000 Dead Also to Be Indicated.

ITALIANS ARE AWARDED CONTRACT FOR MARKERS

"Known But to God" to Signify Burial Places of Unknown Veterans.

Each of more than 20,000 permanent headstones for graves of American soldiers dead in the eight American cemeteries in Europe will bear the full name of the soldier, rank, regiment, division, state from which he came,
date of death, the War Department announced yesterday.

American decorations he may have received will be indicated by the customary abbreviations, "M. H." "D. S."
"C." and "D. S. M." on the front of the marker below the service inscription.
Headstones for the graves of the unknown will be of two designs, a white cross for those of Christian faith and the star of David for those of Jewish.

Contract for Headstones.
A contract has been entered into with Topetti Brothers, Petrasanta, Italy, for furnishing 14,186 white marble headstones, 14,013 crosses and 173 stars for the following cemeteries:
Suresnes, Paris, 1,506; St. Mihiel,
Thiaucourt, Meurthe, 4,136; Flandres
Field, Waregem, Belgium, 364;
Brookwood, England, 437; Meuse-
Argonne, Romagne-sous-Montfaucon,
Meuse, 7,743.

Delivery of these was started 60 days after signing of contract and another contract has been entered into with the same firm for furnishing within 18 months, 230 star markers for the Meuse-Argonne cemetery. A third contract has been made with the Societa Anonima S. Henaux, Quercet, Commune de Serevaux, province of Lucca,
Italy, for furnishing within 11 months,
8,280 crosses for the same cemetery.

The work, it was explained, must be handled with great accuracy and care, for the required inscription on each headstone, including the name of the soldier who occupies the grave, must be made by the contractor at the time the stone is cut.

Four Years For Project.
The present army force in France in connection with cemeteries is composed of a colonel and captain, eight American caretakers and two assistants. In addition to the clerical force at the headquarters office in Paris. The caretakers and their assistants are all honorably discharged veterans of the world war who served with the A. E. F. in France.

Necessary labor in connection with maintenance and upkeep of the cemeteries, including installation of the headstones, will be employed locally from time to time as required. Work is not being done piecemeal, but each cemetery will be completed before work in another is started, and the entire project should require four years for the 30,750 graves in overseas cemeteries.

It is expected that installation of headstones in Suresnes Cemetery will be completed by the time of the American Legion convention in September.

Society Events

THE Ambassador of Chile, Senor Don Miguel Cruchaga Tocornal, has returned from New York, where he passed several days.

The British Ambassador, Sir Eame
Howard, who has been at the embassy for several days, will prolong his stay here.

The Secretary of the Interior, Dr.
Hubert Work, started yesterday morning for Colorado. He will make a tour of inspection, which will last about six weeks.

The Assistant Postmaster General, Mr.
W. Irving Glover, is on his way to Memphis, Tenn., and Birmingham, Ala., on departmental business.

Mrs. Glover has returned to Atlantic
City to pass ten days with her daughter.

The Minister of the Irish Free State
Mr. Timothy A. Smiddy, is expected to return from Canada today.

The Minister of Sweden, Mr. W. Bostrom, has arrived in Sweden and has joined Mrs. Bostrom at their home near Gothenburg.

The Minister of Haiti and Mme. Price will pass the summer at their cottage at Sherwood Forest. They expect to go there Friday.

Dame Una Pope-Hennessy, wife of Col. L. H. R. Pope-Hennessy, Military Attache of the British Embassy, and their two children have arrived from England and are at Manchester, Mass.

Now in New York.
The First Secretary of the French Embassy, Mr. Jules Henry, is passing a few days in New York.

The Second Secretary of the Belgian Embassy, Mr. Edouard de Sireel, passed the week-end at Lenox, Mass.

The Secretary of the Peruvian Embassy, Senor Gerardo Alvarez de Buena-vista, who has been in New York, expects to return today.

Capt. Hugh Barclay, former Military Attache of the American Embassy at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and Mrs. Barclay are at their summer home in northeast New York for several months. They will be stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., in the fall.

Senor Don Jose A. Sora, the Attache of the Cuban Embassy and secretary to the ambassador, is at Asbury Park,
N. J., for a short time.

Miss Marion Jardine, daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture and Mrs. Jardine, has her guests Miss Alice Houston and her sister, Miss Katherine Houston, of New York. They are the daughters of the former Secretary of Commerce, Mr. Franklin Houston.

Governor General Leonard Wood, of the Philippines, with his wife and daughter, now is at Fort Hoyle, Md., where he plans to remain until tomorrow, when he will return to New York for a short stay. After he plans to pass a few days in the Black Hills with President Coolidge before returning to the Philippines.

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Samuel D. Rockenbach will be entertained this afternoon by Maj. and Mrs. Robert C. F.
Goetz at an informal tea. This will be as a farewell party to Gen. and Mrs.
Rockenbach.

Visit Northern Inn.
Brig. Gen. Samson Lane Faison, U.
S. A., retired, Mrs. Faison and Miss
Eleanor Faison will be at the Haller Inn, Williamstown, Mass.

Mrs. George Cabot Lodge and her daughter, Miss Helena Lodge, who are in England, will return the end of the month. They will pass the remainder of the season at Nahant, Mass.

Mrs. Hampton Gary and her daughter, Miss Helen Gary, will sail in August for Europe. Mrs. Gary is in New York and Miss Gary is visiting in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Whitney are at Sandwich, Cape Cod, Mass.

Mrs. John R. Williams has returned from visiting her daughter, Mrs.
Joseph Leiter, at her summer home,
Edgewater House, at Beverly Farms,
Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cabot Lodge are the guests of Mrs. Lodge's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Henry F. Lodge, at Cove House, their summer home at Chapman's
Corner, in the Berkshires.

Mrs. Isaac T. Mann is at her summer home at Coolidge Point on the North Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Edson Bradley entertained at a luncheon on Saturday at Seaview Terrace, in Newport.

Miss Douglas's Guest.
Miss Maud Marshall Mason is the guest of Miss Adelaide Douglas for a few days before joining her mother at their summer home near Orange, Va.
Miss Mason has been the guest of Mrs.
Arthur Lee at Elkton, Va.

Mrs. Ethel Harriman Russell is expected to arrive in Newport on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin B. Laughlin have arrived at Taylor Villa, at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester P. Barnett, entertained at a tea last week at their summer home.

At Leading Beauty Parlors and Drug Stores

Sunburn doesn't last long with Ensemble
CREAM

FREE
SAMPLE
With the ENSEMBLE MFG. CO.
C. O. for FREE
SAMPLE JAR.

A TREAT
For your Dog or Cat
Bathe With
PET-SOPE
Liquid Soap
Nature's Pure Product
Pleasant, Delightful Odor
Kills fleas as it washes.
Leaves hair soft, fluffy and glossy.
Wonderful shampoo for humans.
No -poisonous humans and animals.
Can be used for poison Ivy, sunburn, ringworm, chiggers, etc.
1-2 pt. can. 35c
At Drug, Pet, Grocery, Hardware and Seed Stores

Woodward &amp; Lothrop

On Sale This Morning

AUTO VACUUM ICE CREAM FREEZERS

1/2 Price

$5 4-qt. size $4 3-qt. size $3 2-qt. size $2.50 1-qt. size

Exceptional indeed is this 1/2 price offering of Auto Vacuum Ice Cream Freezers
at the very height of the Summer season.
The quantity is limited—early choosing is advised.

By special arrangement we are able to offer a limited number of the nationally known Auto Vacuum Ice Cream Freezers at exactly 1/2 prices. These freezers make smooth, firm, velvety ice cream in 45 minutes, without tiresome turning, cranking and other manipulation and will keep it for 8 hours or more.

The Auto Vacuum Freezer is divided into two separate compartments, making it impossible for the salt to seep into the cream mixture, and it is sanitary and easy to clean. There are no paddles or loose parts to adjust or fasten and all sizes are finished in white enamel, making it convenient to serve from the freezer. We could say more, but an inspection will prove much more convincing.

HOUSEWARES SECTION, FIFTH FLOOR.

Annual 20% Reduction
Whittall Anglo-Persian Rugs

For a limited time, once a season, we are authorized by the manufacturer to offer discontinued patterns and floor samples of Whittall's Famous Anglo-Persian Rugs, at a 20% reduction. Now, there are richly colored rugs, in attractive designs in each of the six sizes listed below, but the quantity in each size is decidedly limited, so an early purchase is most advisable.

$119.75	9x12 size	$43.25	4.6x7.6 size
$110.50	8.3x10.6 size	$20	36x63 size
$78	6x9 size	$12.80	27x54 size

RUG SECTION, FIFTH FLOOR.

Nationally Known Makes at Washington's Leading Stores

- |  |  |  |
|--|--|--|
| AA RUB-ONLY ALL-NITE DRUG STOREIN D. C. Annapolis Ph. 11th & B. M. 2220.ALEMITE LUBRICANTS - ALEMITE LU-BRICATOR CO., 2018 12th st. n.w. N. 8376  | GGENERAL ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS—NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO.,1328-30 N. Y. ave. n.w. Main 6800.GENERAL ELECTRIC VACUUM CLEANERS—NATIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO.,1328-30 N. Y. ave. n.w. Main 6800. | NNASH CAR—Dienelt-Nash Co., 2925 M st.n.w.                              |
| BBALCRANK BUMPERS—WATSON STABIL-ATOR CO. OF WASH., 2018 14th st.  | HHAMILTON WATCHES—CHAS. SCHWARTZ& SON, 708 7th st. n.w., 709 14th st. n.w.Large stock in South.   | OOSHKOSH TRUNKS—CASTEN'S, 1314 G st.  |
| CCHRYSLER AUTOMOBILES—H. B. LEARYJR. & BROS., 1602 You st. n.w. Conn. & Q.COPELAND REFRIGERATORS - STEINERT& FLEMING, INC., 2153 Champlain st.COPFORM BRASSIERES—JELLY'S, 1216P st. n.w. Washington, New York, Paris.                   | IILLINOIS WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEW-ELRY. Knap Optical Co., 617 7th st. n.w.   | RROGERS FEET (NEW YORK) CLOTHING—MEYER'S SHOP, 1331 F st. n.w.          |
| DDETROIT JEWEL Gas Ranges, new models—3d floor, KANN'S, 8th st. and Pa. ave.  | JJANTZEN BATHING SUITS—D. N. WAL-FORD, 609 Penn ave.  | SSCANTIES—JELLY'S, 1216-20 F st. Wash-ington, Paris, New York.          |
| EEUGENE—Permanent waves—F st. BeautyShop, R. 2, Woolworth Bldg., 1203 F st. n.w.EUREKA VACUUM CLEANER - POTOMACELECTRIC APPLIANCE CO., 1410 and G   | KKLEEN-HEAT AUTOMATIC OIL HEATER—KLEEN-HEAT SALES CO., 1018 12th st. n.w.KNAPP-FELT HATS FOR WOMEN EXCLU-SIVELY—JELLY'S, 1216-20 F st.  | TTRUBPRUF TIRES - LAMBERT TRUB-PRUF TIRE CO., 2203 14th st.             |
| FFAULTLESS HOSIERY—ASK *FOR THEMAT WASHINGTON'S BETTER STORES.FRIGIDAIRE—ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORWashington Sales Branch, 1312 N. Y. ave.n.w. Complete line of cabinets always ondisplay. Telephone inquiries solicited.Franklin 7157. | LLAUN-DRY-ETTE WASHING MACHINES.RAINBOW AUTOMATIC IRONERS—NA-TIONAL ELECTRICAL SUPPLY CO., 1328-30 N. Y. ave. n.w. Main 6800.   | UUNDERWEAR for Men—DREY-FUSS BROS., 1611 D st. n.w., 617 Pa. ave.       |
| GGARDNER AUTOMOBILES—DONOHUE MO-TOR CO., 1923 Conn. ave.  | MMARIE EARLE BEAUTY PREPARATIONS—EUREKA, 1221 Connecticut ave.MEADOWBROOK HATS—JELLY'S, 1216-20 F st. n.w. Washington, Paris, New York.   | VVACUETTE ELECTRIC CLEANER, 131 11thst. n.w. M. 7365.                   |
|  |  | WWATERMAN FOUNTAIN PENS - HUGHES,1225 E st. n.w. (Natl. Theater Bldg.). |
|  |  | YWILBUR GOOD SHOES FOR WOMEN—FAMILY SHOE STORE, 310-312 7th st. n.w.    |
|  |  | ZWILLYS KNIGHT AUTOMOBILES—STEE-RETT & FLEMING, 2158 Champlain st.      |

STRONG UNDERCURRENT THROUGH CURB TRADING

Public Utilities, and Auto and Tire Shares Are Bid Up;
Rayon Stocks Rise.

RAIL ISSUES ARE HIGHER

New York, July 10 (Associated Press).
Although there were a few periods of hesitancy, an undercurrent of strength ran through the curb market last week, with trading embracing a large number of issues. Oils and public utilities were among the leaders, together with a few specialties, such as the Celanese shares.

Strength of South American petroleum stocks, based on prospects of new developments, resulted in a number of new highs, with Carb Syndicate as the outstanding individual issue. Public utilities moved forward in reflection of good earnings prospects.

Automobile shares were bid up in spite of seasonal falling off in demand, and tire shares were bought freely.
Improving conditions in the rayon industry brought higher prices to that division of the list, but Retail Stores exhibited a mixed trend.

Publishing house securities which have been active through many recent sessions, continued to display firmness, and amusement issues were strong in the face of uncertain conditions in that industry. Tobacco were well supported.

Railroad shares, several of which are recent additions to the list, were in good demand in reflection of strength of such issues on the "big board." Railroad equipments also responded to buying movements, some of them establishing new highs for the year or longer.

The bond division displayed numerous irregularities, with fluctuations running up to 2 points or more in both directions. Warner Brothers 6½s broke over 4 points.

Only four new issues were admitted to trading during the week, including common stock of the Syracuse Washing Machine Co.

Transient advertisers who use Post
Classified Ads enjoy the 3-cent-per-word rate, minimum 45 cents. For economy, call Main 4205.

WE BUY

First and Second trust
notes secured on income producing Washington real estate.

Money available for first mortgages and construction loans in any amounts.
Reserves Over $4,000,000
REAL ESTATE MORTGAGE &
GUARANTY CORPORATION
26 Jackson Place
L. E. BREUNINGER, President

First Mortgage
Loans

Applications Invited at 5½%

On Improved Property Construction Loans
at Minimum Rates

Glover & Flatner
1508 H St. N.W.

LOANS

RESIDENCES
APARTMENT HOUSES
BUSINESS PROPERTIES

In Washington or Nearby
Maryland, in Large or Small amounts at 5½%

WM. H. SAUNDERS
CO., INC.

1433 K St. N.W. Main 1016-17

Loan Correspondent
Provident Mutual Life
Insurance Company

Continental Trust Co.

14th and H Streets
Capital, $1,000,000.00

Checking Accounts
Savings Accounts
Time Deposits
Foreign Exchange
Commercial Credits
Travelers' Credits
Travelers' Cheques
Acceptance Credits
Collections
Real Estate Loans
Collateral Loans
Investment Securities
Corporate Trusts
Individual Trusts
Administrator, Executor
Safe Deposit Boxes

Continental Trust Co.

14th and H Streets
Wade H. Cooper, President
Capital, $1,000,000.00

I Will Sell at a
10% Discount

1,300 Shares 8% Preferred Stock
($10 Par) of the Capital Stock of
The United States Security Corporation
H. L. HENDERSON
M. 6058 Southern Bldg.

INTERNATIONAL PAPER COMPANY

New York, June 29, 1927.
The Board of Directors have declared a quarterly dividend of Sixty Cents (60c)
a share on the Common Stock of this Company, payable August 15, 1927, to Common Stockholders of record at the close of business August 1st, 1927.
Checks will be mailed. Transfer books will not close.

OWEN SHEPHERD, Vice-President, Treasurer

Our First Mortgage
Notes

—are secured on Improved
Real Estate in the Nation's Capital. The loans on these properties are made only after rigid analysis by our Appraisal Committee of specialists.

ACCURED
ANNUAL RETURN

SHANNON & LUCH

1435 K Street N.W.
Main 2345

MORTGAGE MONEY LOANED At Low Interest Rates

TYLER AND RUTHERFORD
Loan Correspondents of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.
1520 K St. N.W. Main 475

FOR SALE

1040 shares Preferred Stock and 832 shares Common Stock

Real Estate Mortgage
and Guaranty Corp.

$1,250.00 per unit of 100 shares preferred and 80 shares common.
Room 903, Southern Bldg.

EQUITABLE

Co-Operative Building
Association
Organized 1879

4TH YEAR COMPLETED
Assets ..... $5,171,451.53
Surplus ..... $1,446,881.04
SYSTEMATIC SAVING SPELLS SUCCESS

Join the Equitable and save systematically. Our plan will meet with your approval.

Subscription for the
93d Issue of Stock

Being Received
Shares, $2.50 Per Month
EQUITABLE BUILDING

915 F ST. N.W.
JOHN JOY EDSON, President.
WALTER S. FRATT, Jr., Secretary.

Telephone: Main 2040

DEAN, ONATIA & CO.

MAIN FLOOR CORRIDOR

WOODWARD BUILDING

Washington, D. C.

A. HARMER REESIDE,
Manager

MEMBERS OF THE
NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE
CHICAGO STOCK EXCHANGE
CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE
NEW YORK CURB MARKET

7% Mortgage
Bonds

Write for Circular
FEDERAL SECURITY AND MORTGAGE CO.
Capital and Surplus, $750,000.00
Main 1960 1412 K St.

FIRST DEED OF TRUST NOTES

On Hand
Bearing 6½ Per Cent and 7 Per Cent Interest
In Amounts of $250.00 Up
See WELCH, Realtor
18th St. and New York Ave.
Main 4564
Established 1896
No loss to an investor in 27 years.

When You Need a Loan Think of Welch, Realtor

LOAN SPECIALIST
Money to Loan
At 5½% & 6% Interest
Before Placing or Renewing Your 1st or 2nd Trust
GET WELCH'S FIGURES
Reasonable Charges (No Extras)
1878 & N.Y. AVE. MAIN 4564-4567

7%
MORTGAGE Investments.

Write for Circular.
POTOMAC SECURITIES CO.
Investment Bldg.
Main 2008, Washington, D. C.

UNIFICATION OF
NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY
AND
GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY

TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY AND GREAT NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY:

Applications for authority to take the steps necessary to carry out the Unification Plan were filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission on July 8, 1927, and it is anticipated that hearings thereon will commence shortly after the middle of September.

Copies of the proposed leases from Northern Pacific Railway Company, Great Northern Railway Company and Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railway Company, respectively, to the New Company as filed with the Commission may be obtained at the offices of the Depositaries and of Northern Pacific Railway Company and Great Northern Railway Company.

Deposits of stock will be received by the Depositaries until further notice. Those who have not deposited their shares are requested to do so promptly.

Certificates of deposit, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, will be issued for all stock deposited under the Plan. All dividends collected on deposited stock will be paid to the holders of record of certificates of deposit representing such stock.

All deposits of stock will be without expense to depositors.

GEO. F. BAKER, Chairman
ARTHUR CURTISS JAMES, Deputy Chairman
J. P. MORGAN
LOUIS W. HILL
HOWARD ELLIOTT
Committee

Francis T. Ward, Secretary
23 Wall Street, New York

Walker D. Hines,
Davis Polk Wardwell Gardner & Reed, Counsel.

Depository for Stock of Northern Pacific Ry. Co.
J. P. MORGAN & CO.
23 Wall Street, N. Y.

Depository for Stock of Great Northern Ry. Co.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK
2 Wall Street, N. Y.

July 11, 1927.

1853 1927

STEIN BROS. & BOYCE
Established 1853
6 S. CALVERT STREET
BALTIMORE

We take pleasure in announcing the opening of a branch office in the

ROBERT E. LEE HOTEL
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

STEIN BROS. & BOYCE
BALTIMORE, MD.
WASHINGTON, D. C. RICHMOND, VA.
WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.

MEMBERS
New York Stock Exchange
Baltimore Stock Exchange

NEW ISSUE

$750,000

Chamberlin-Vanderbilt Hotel
Old Point Comfort, Va.

First Mortgage 6½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

To be issued by Old Point Comfort Hotel Corporation

To be dated July 1, 1927 To mature July 1, 1942

Company will agree to refund, on timely and proper application, in whatever State held and in the District of Columbia, Personal Property Taxes (or, in lieu thereof, all State Income Taxes) up to five and one-half mills.

It is expected that application will be made in due course to list these Bonds on the Baltimore, Richmond and Washington Stock Exchanges.

Maryland Trust Company, Baltimore, Trustee

OLD POINT-VANDERBILT CORPORATION—organized by Mr. Walton H. Marshall and associates (who control and operate the Vanderbilt Hotel, New York City; Bon Air-Vanderbilt Hotel, Augusta, Georgia; and Condado-Vanderbilt Hotel, San Juan, Porto Rico)—has contracted to operate this property under the terms of a 21-year lease with renewal privilege for an additional 21 years, and will pay semi-annually a rental to the Trustee, covering interest on these bonds and in addition thereto a Sinking Fund which will be at a rate sufficient to retire the principal of this loan within the original 21-year period of the lease.

The Company: Incorporated to erect, own and operate or lease for operation, a modern hotel on the United States Military Reservation at Old Point Comfort, Virginia. It will supply an urgent public demand for up-to-date hotel accommodations among the various communities served as well as from a large transient patronage, including automobile and other tourists, and the friends and families of Army and Navy officers.

Location: The site comprises approximately three and one-fourth acres, immediately upon the water front of historical Hampton Roads. It has been granted—free of ground rent and Federal taxes (subject only to local land tax) and without any objectionable restrictions or provisions—by the Secretary of War, as authorized by a special Act of Congress and also approved by Special Act of General Assembly of Virginia, for a period of fifty years and renewable, in the discretion of the Secretary of War, for another fifty years.

The Hotel, now in course of erection, is most desirably and advantageously located at the terminus of the State concrete highway from Washington, D. C., Richmond and the West. The several lines of excellent passenger steamers from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington land daily at the dock, less than two hundred yards from the Hotel. It is on the Chesapeake &
Ohio Railway, East and West, and the Pennsylvania Railroad, North and South, the latter connecting by ferry from Norfolk to Cape Charles, Virginia. Good roads afford necessary facilities for automobile travel.

Capitalization:

	Authorized	Outstanding
First Mortgage 6½% Bonds, due 1942 (this issue) . . .	$1,000,000	$750,000
7% Income Debenture Bonds, due 1947 (cash paid at par) . .	350,000	350,000
Common Stock, par value $100 (cash paid at par) . .	700,000	410,000

Capital Stock of Operating Company:

8% Non-Cumulative Preferred stock, par value $100 (fully subscribed at par) . .	250,000	250,000
No Par Value Common Stock	2,500 shs.	2,500 shs.

Practically all of the railroads and other public transportation companies approaching Old Point Comfort,

Architect: Marcellus E. Wright, Richmond, Va.
Consulting Architects: Warren & Wetmore, New York

Authorized $1,000,000. To be presently outstanding $750,000. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500, negotiable as to principal. Callable as a whole, or in part, on any semi-annual interest period upon sixty days' notice, at 105 and accrued interest up to and including July 1, 1930, with a reduction of 1% in premium each succeeding three years until maturity of these bonds. Interest payable January 1 and July 1.

We Recommend These Bonds for Investment

Price: 100 and accrued interest—To yield 6½%

When, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel. All plans, specifications and proceedings, subject to approval by Secretary of War. All legal details pertaining to this issue will be passed upon for the Bankers by Messrs. Venable, Baetjer & Howard, Attorneys, Baltimore; for the Old Point Comfort Hotel Corporation by Mr. E. Scater Montague, Attorney, Hampton, Virginia, and for the Old Point-Vanderbilt Corporation by Messrs. Morris & McVeigh, Attorneys, New York. It is expected that temporary bonds, later exchangeable for definitive Coupon Bonds, will be ready for delivery on or about July 15, 1927.

Washington Representative
GEORGE THOMAS
501 National Metropolitan Bank Bldg.

Robert Garrett & Sons
Established 1840
Baltimore

Central Bank for Agriculture, Germany

$30,000,000

Deutsche Rentenbank-Kreditanstalt Landwirtschaftliche Zentralbank

Farm Loan Secured 6% Gold Sinking Fund Bonds

Dated July 15, 1927.

Due July 15, 1960

Cumulative Sinking Fund commencing December 6, 1927, sufficient to pay or redeem entire issue by maturity. Redeemable in whole or in part, on any interest date prior to maturity, at 100.

THE NATIONAL CITY BANK OF NEW YORK, Trustee.
REICHSBANK, Berlin, German Supervisory Trustee.

The Central Bank for Agriculture (Deutsche Rentenbank-Kreditanstalt) was organized in 1925 to act as the central bank for existing German agricultural credit organizations, some of which have been in operation more than one hundred years, and through such existing organizations to use its own resources and loans obtained at home or abroad in making loans or granting credits for the promotion of agricultural production in all its branches. The need of such an institution, which should supply German agriculture with the credits urgently needed to remedy its deficiency of working capital, was pointed out by the organization committee appointed under the Dawes Plan to recommend detailed provisions in regard to the new German bank of issue (the Reichsbank).

The paid-up capital of the Central Bank for Agriculture amounts to $73,809,524. Bond issues are authorized up to six times the paid-up capital, but may be increased to eight times with the consent of the upper house of the German Parliament.

The business operations and policies of the Central Bank for Agriculture are under the supervision of the German Government. The Governing Board includes eleven members appointed by the German Reichsrat and two appointed by the Government.

The Bonds of this issue will be secured by an equivalent amount of mortgages (or cash in lieu thereof), constituting direct liens on German agricultural, forestal and horticultural lands to an amount which together with all existing prior liens (as defined in the Trust Indenture) shall not exceed in the aggregate 40% of their assessed value. Temporary security of equivalent nature is provided for a limited period.

The purpose of this issue is to provide funds designed to increase the productivity of German agriculture. This is expected to exert a favorable influence on German national economy and on the potential balance of payments available to creditor nations.

The foregoing information is summarized from a letter from the Managing Directors, copies of which may be had upon application to the undersigned and to which reference should be made for fuller information.

Application will be made to list these Bonds on the New York Stock Exchange

Price 95 and interest, yielding over 6.36%

Over $11,000,000 aggregate principal amount of these Bonds have been reserved for sale in various European markets, including $3,000,000 to be publicly offered in the Netherlands by the Amsterdamsche Bank, De Twentsche Bank, Lippmann, Rosenthal & Co., R. Mees & Zoonen, and Internationale Bank; and $1,750,000 in Sweden by the Stockholms Enskilda Bank.

We offer the balance of these Bonds if, as and when issued to and received by us, subject to the approval of our counsel, Messrs. Shearman & Sterling, New York City, and Dr. Ernst-Wolff, Berlin. Delivery in temporary form is expected on or about July 27, 1927.

The National City Company

Harris, Forbes & Co.

Lee, Higginson & Co.

The above information has been obtained, partly by cable, from official statements and statistics and from other sources which we consider reliable. We do not guarantee, but believe it to be correct. German Reichsmarks have been translated into U. S. dollars at the parity of 4.20 Reichsmarks to the dollar.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE

Seventh Street Savings Bank

At Washington, in the District of Columbia, at the close of business on June 30, 1927.

RESOURCES.
1. Loans and discounts, including redemptions, acceptances of other banks and foreign bills of exchange or drafts sold with indorsement of this bank.	$1,472,271.48
2. Overdrafts, secured, $205,137.17; unsecured, $30,000.00.	235,137.17
3. U. S. Government securities owned (including premiums, if any).	1,800.00
4. Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc., owned.	210,800.00
5. Real estate owned.	50,108.11
6. Cash in vault and amount due from national banks.	67,713.38
7. Amount due from State banks, bankers and trust companies in the United States (other than included in item 10).	10,377.74
8. Exchanges for clearing house.	33,630.02
9. Total of items 10, 11, and 12.	$115,833.14
10. Miscellaneous cash items.	146.75
Total.	$1,836,140.87

LIABILITIES.
19. Capital stock paid in.	$100,000.00
20. Surplus fund.	100,000.00
21. Undivided profits.	6,000.00
22. Reserved for taxes, interest, etc.	6,000.00
23. Certified checks outstanding.	1,346.49
24. Cashier's checks outstanding.	5,289.00
25. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	36,675.83
26. Individual deposits subject to check (payable within 30 days).	895,092.80
27. Certificates of deposit due in less than 30 days (other than for money borrowed).	8,019.35
28. Dividends unpaid.	3,963.00
29. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	$707,106.95
30. Time deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice, and postal savings).	841,748.76
31. Other time deposits.	61,280.02
32. Total of time deposits subject to reserve.	$1,509,329.53
33. Savings deposits.	$1,509,329.53
Total.	$1,836,140.87

Attest: J. AGOSTE H. PLUGGE, President of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Attest: J. AGOSTE H. PLUGGE, President.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of July, 1927.

(Seal.) MORIS JACOB, Notary Public.

Correct-Attest: JOHN R. KATZMAN, JOHN R. WRIGHT, MICHAEL O'HANLON, Directors.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE

Northeast Savings Bank

At Washington, in the District of Columbia, at the close of business on June 30, 1927.

RESOURCES.
1. Loans and discounts, including redemptions, acceptances of other banks and foreign bills of exchange or drafts sold with indorsement of this bank.	$553,985.80
2. Overdrafts, secured, $62,837.17; unsecured, $30,000.00.	92,837.17
3. U. S. Government securities owned.	130.64
4. Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc., owned.	553,706.00
5. Real estate owned.	130,000.00
6. Cash in vault and amount due from national banks.	91,121.81
7. Amount due from State banks, bankers and trust companies in the United States (other than included in item 10).	23,197.64
8. Exchanges for clearing house.	14,389.54
9. Total of items 10, 11, and 12.	$130,888.90
10. Miscellaneous cash items.	15,432.00
Total.	$1,542,496.90

LIABILITIES.
19. Capital stock paid in.	$100,000.00
20. Surplus fund.	60,000.00
21. Undivided profits.	$59,711.35
22. Reserved for taxes, interest, etc.	42,871.00
23. Certified checks outstanding.	15,432.00
24. Cashier's checks outstanding.	1,854.00
25. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	1,773.51
26. Individual deposits subject to check (payable within 30 days).	379,913.38
27. Dividends unpaid.	3,820.00
28. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	133.33
29. Time deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice, and postal savings).	754,280.79
30. Other time deposits.	223,770.36
31. Total of time deposits subject to reserve.	$978,051.15
32. Savings deposits.	$978,051.15
Total.	$1,542,496.90

Attest: W. R. LEWIS, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Attest: W. R. LEWIS, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of July, 1927.

(Seal.) C. D. RATCLIFFE, Notary Public.

Correct-Attest: M. R. READY, J. H. NAUSEFELD, J. H. EBLEY, Directors.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE

International Exchange Bank

At Washington, in the District of Columbia, at the close of business on June 30, 1927.

RESOURCES.
1. Loans and discounts, including redemptions, acceptances of other banks and foreign bills of exchange or drafts sold with indorsement of this bank.	$497,430.62
2. Overdrafts, secured, $104,000.00; unsecured, $104,000.00.	208,000.00
3. U. S. Government securities owned.	814.00
4. Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc., owned.	148,028.58
5. Real estate owned.	18,031.68
6. Cash in vault and amount due from national banks.	105,854.90
7. Amount due from State banks, bankers and trust companies in the United States (other than included in item 10).	7,652.15
8. Exchanges for clearing house.	11,370.79
9. Total of items 10, 11, and 12.	$120,077.02
10. Miscellaneous cash items.	1,312.00
11. Other assets, if any.	24,630.52
Total.	$911,004.54

LIABILITIES.
19. Capital stock paid in.	$100,000.00
20. Surplus fund.	18,031.68
21. Undivided profits.	3,617.60
22. Reserved for taxes, interest, etc.	3,180.12
23. Amount due to State banks, bankers and trust companies.	5,272.10
24. Certified checks outstanding.	1,062.00
25. Cashier's checks outstanding.	1,062.00
26. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	14,867.33
27. Individual deposits subject to check (payable within 30 days).	258,830.71
28. Dividends unpaid.	110.70
29. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	83,192.38
30. Time deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice, and postal savings).	352,376.40
31. Other time deposits.	352,376.40
32. Total of time deposits subject to reserve.	$704,752.80
33. Savings deposits.	$704,752.80
34. Other assets, if any.	320.00
Total.	$911,004.54

Attest: F. J. KAUFMAN, Jr., Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Attest: F. J. KAUFMAN, Jr., Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of July, 1927.

(Seal.) HERMAN F. CARL, Notary Public.

Correct-Attest: J. SCHIAYONE, HUGO J. DONALDSON, JAMES H. DADEN, ALFONSO TANA, FRANCIS L. NEUBERG, Directors.

REPORT OF CONDITION OF THE

Security Savings and Commercial Bank

At Washington, in the District of Columbia, at the close of business on June 30, 1927.

RESOURCES.
1. Loans and discounts, including redemptions, acceptances of other banks and foreign bills of exchange or drafts sold with indorsement of this bank.	$4,472,134.48
2. Overdrafts, secured, $205,137.17; unsecured, $30,000.00.	235,137.17
3. U. S. Government securities owned.	1,800.00
4. Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc., owned.	210,800.00
5. Real estate owned.	50,108.11
6. Cash in vault and amount due from national banks.	67,713.38
7. Amount due from State banks, bankers and trust companies in the United States (other than included in item 10).	10,377.74
8. Exchanges for clearing house.	33,630.02
9. Total of items 10, 11, and 12.	$115,833.14
10. Miscellaneous cash items.	146.75
Total.	$4,824,988.65

LIABILITIES.
19. Capital stock paid in.	$500,000.00
20. Surplus fund.	300,000.00
21. Undivided profits.	$20,815.45
22. Reserved for taxes, interest, etc.	20,815.45
23. Certified checks outstanding.	1,346.49
24. Cashier's checks outstanding.	5,289.00
25. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	36,675.83
26. Individual deposits subject to check (payable within 30 days).	895,092.80
27. Certificates of deposit due in less than 30 days (other than for money borrowed).	8,019.35
28. Dividends unpaid.	3,963.00
29. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	$707,106.95
30. Time deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice, and postal savings).	841,748.76
31. Other time deposits.	61,280.02
32. Total of time deposits subject to reserve.	$1,509,329.53
33. Savings deposits.	$1,509,329.53
Total.	$4,824,988.65

Attest: J. AGOSTE H. PLUGGE, Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

Attest: J. AGOSTE H. PLUGGE, Cashier.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of July, 1927.

(Seal.) VINCENT P. BOURDRE, Notary Public.

Correct-Attest: LAWRENCE MILLS, DAVID J. JONES, JOHN R. KATZMAN, JOHN R. WRIGHT, MICHAEL O'HANLON, Directors.

David F. Houston has New Position. David Franklin Houston, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., former Secretary of Agriculture in the Cabinet of President Wilson, later Secretary of the Treasury, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board and chairman of the Federal Farm Loan Board, will succeed Charles A. Peabody as president of the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York, it is announced.

Man Injured by Spoon in Fight. Wielding a large metal spoon in the course of a fight at their home, 509 Second street northwest, yesterday, John Berry, colored, police report, crashed the weapon over the head of Lawson Payne, also colored. The boy, 14, was taken to the hospital for scalp lacerations, while the spoon wielder was taken into custody by Sixth precinct police.

OUTLOOK FOR TRADE

SOUND AS YEAR'S

SECOND HALF OPENS

Review of First Six Months Finds Many Lines Are Behind 1926 Figures.

FLOODS, BAD WEATHER

FELT BY INDUSTRIES

Freight Loadings Ahead of Totals Recorded for a Year Ago.

New York, July 10 (Associated Press).—American business entered the second half of the year with numerous favorable signs partially offset by seasonal declines in various industries. The situation generally continued to indicate the fundamental soundness of commerce in this country.

Reviewing the first half of 1927, it is found that many lines of business are somewhat behind their advanced position in the corresponding period of last year. This was attributed to a number of factors, chief among which was the devastating flood in the Mississippi Valley and the consequent temporary suspension of the purchasing power of the common stock of many of the companies in that section.

Added to this, successive periods of unfavorable weather in different sections exerted retarding influences and the strike of miners in the bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania was not without effect.

Steel Output Slacks.

Operations in the steel industry continued to recede gradually, owing to the summer slackness in demand. Production of pig iron was sharply curtailed in June, but the output for the first six months was only a little under that of the year before. Buying went on at a steady, though not rapid rate, and prices remained practically unchanged from the preceding period.

Revealing signs of increasing in demand, however, were the increase in the output of steel for the first half of the year, and the fact that the output for the first six months was only a little under that of the year before.

Oil Production Increases.

New production records were again set in the oil industry. Seminole field continued to present a serious problem with its mounting output, new wells and the striking of gushers. Called together by Ray Collins, umpire over the field, prominent oil men will meet tomorrow to consider further measures for the restriction of the flow of petroleum. The meeting will be held under the auspices and direction of the Oklahoma corporation commission.

Some signs of improvement were in evidence during the week in the railroad equipment field, despite the contraction of Baldwin locomotive operation.

What's Behind Your Stock

Eaton Axle &amp; Spring

At Washington, in the District of Columbia, at the close of business on June 30, 1927.

RESOURCES.
1. Loans and discounts, including redemptions, acceptances of other banks and foreign bills of exchange or drafts sold with indorsement of this bank.	$1,472,271.48
2. Overdrafts, secured, $205,137.17; unsecured, $30,000.00.	235,137.17
3. U. S. Government securities owned (including premiums, if any).	1,800.00
4. Other bonds, stocks, securities, etc., owned.	210,800.00
5. Real estate owned.	50,108.11
6. Cash in vault and amount due from national banks.	67,713.38
7. Amount due from State banks, bankers and trust companies in the United States (other than included in item 10).	10,377.74
8. Exchanges for clearing house.	33,630.02
9. Total of items 10, 11, and 12.	$115,833.14
10. Miscellaneous cash items.	146.75
Total.	$1,836,140.87

LIABILITIES.
19. Capital stock paid in.	$100,000.00
20. Surplus fund.	100,000.00
21. Undivided profits.	6,000.00
22. Reserved for taxes, interest, etc.	6,000.00
23. Certified checks outstanding.	1,346.49
24. Cashier's checks outstanding.	5,289.00
25. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	36,675.83
26. Individual deposits subject to check (payable within 30 days).	895,092.80
27. Certificates of deposit due in less than 30 days (other than for money borrowed).	8,019.35
28. Dividends unpaid.	3,963.00
29. Demand deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days).	$707,106.95
30. Time deposits (other than bank deposits) subject to reserve (payable after 30 days, or subject to 30 days or more notice, and postal savings).	841,748.76
31. Other time deposits.	61,280.02
32. Total of time deposits subject to reserve.	$1,509,329.53
33. Savings deposits.	$1,509,329.53
Total.	$1,836,140.87

The Eaton Axle & Spring Co. was incorporated in 1916 under the name of the Torben Axle Co. Although the original organization took place in 1911, in 1917 control of this corporation was acquired by the Republic Motor Truck Co. and the company continued as a subsidiary of that corporation until 1922. In 1923 the name was changed to the Eaton Axle & Spring Co. Earnings have never been very large, the best report being that of 1926 which indicated per share earnings on the common stock of $3.84 as contrasted with a report of $2.32 for 1925 and one of 85 cents for 1924.

WALL STREET BRIEFS

New York, July 10 (A.P.).—Organization of the International Germanic Trust Co., under New York State banking laws, has been undertaken by a group of bankers and business men. Authorized capitalization will consist of $30,000,000 and provide a capital of $3,000,000 and a surplus of $2,700,000. The trust company will develop relations both with Americans of German descent and with business and banking institutions in Germany. The organizers are headed by C. E. Albright, Milwaukee, director of the first Wisconsin National Bank; Harold G. Aron, president National American Bank; C. Marcus Daly, director of Montana Power Co.; Oscar Dresler, president Continental Textile Co., and E. Roland Harriman, of E. H. Harriman & Co.

European purchases of Cuban Sugars

European purchases of Cuban Sugars of about 130,000 tons in the last ten days, have operated in the last week to create a much stronger tone in the United States market. Buying from this quarter developed unexpectedly due to a shortage in remaining supplies of domestic sugar, and increasing consumption abroad.

BIG REINVESTMENT FUND AIDS THE BOND MARKET

Readjustment of Prices Is Restoring Confidence in Recent Issues.

OVERSUPPLY IS REDUCED

New York, July 10 (Associated Press).—A more comfortable atmosphere than has been present in many weeks surrounded the bond market last week as dividends and interest disbursements poured into the money reservoir, contributing to easier credit conditions and creating a new reinvestment fund. Improvements were particularly noticeable in the market for high grade issues, many of which had declined to a level at which they were once more reasonably attractive to investors.

Tending to discount in a measure the drag on the market effected by the un## derlying issues, the dissolution of several syndicates, which had been supporting various new bonds at high ## levels, brought sharp recessions in prices here and there. Since there had been widespread contention that the quotations on recently issued securities was too high, this readjustment has added to the confidence which had been somewhat shaken prior to the first of the month. Signs that buyers and sellers were approaching the point of getting together were abundant, and a number of dealers reported that the over-the-counter movement of investment bonds has been considerably more brisk than the flow of issues through the listed market.

That a complete cure for the current period of indigestion is in immediate prospect is a hope held out by only a few bond circles. Nevertheless there are many who believe that relief is not only in sight, but here, and that the stagnation of the last few weeks is being supplanted by more normal activity.

An enormous amount of money is required, however, to absorb the unprecedented volume of new offerings which has inundated the market since the new year, of which estimates run as high as $4,000,000,000 and more. Conservative dealers predict that complete liquidation of this colossal amount of new material can not be expected before the year is near its close.

If present indications are borne out, an opportunity for gradual absorption of the oversupply of bonds will be possible during the last half of 1927. A few new issues of major proportions are in sight, but the number and aggregate is not alarmingly formidable. The loan to Poland, to amount to $60,000,000 more, is nearing consummation, and pending its completion, the Polish government by a New York bond issue of $15,000,000 has been granted the corresponding period of last year. The holiday, of course, was in part responsible for the small total of the week.

Tending to discount in a measure the drag on the market effected by the un## derlying issues, the dissolution of several syndicates, which had been supporting various new bonds at high ## levels, brought sharp recessions in prices here and there. Since there had been widespread contention that the quotations on recently issued securities was too high, this readjustment has added to the confidence which had been somewhat shaken prior to the first of the month. Signs that buyers and sellers were approaching the point of getting together were abundant, and a number of dealers reported that the over-the-counter movement of investment bonds has been considerably more brisk than the flow of issues through the listed market.

That a complete cure for the current period of indigestion is in immediate prospect is a hope held out by only a few bond circles. Nevertheless there are many who believe that relief is not only in sight, but here, and that the stagnation of the last few weeks is being supplanted by more normal activity.

An enormous amount of money is required, however, to absorb the unprecedented volume of new offerings which has inundated the market since the new year, of which estimates run as high as $4,000,000,000 and more. Conservative dealers predict that complete liquidation of this colossal amount of new material can not be expected before the year is near its close.

If present indications are borne out, an opportunity for gradual absorption of the oversupply of bonds will be possible during the last half of 1927. A few new issues of major proportions are in sight, but the number and aggregate is not alarmingly formidable. The loan to Poland, to amount to $60,000,000 more, is nearing consummation, and pending its completion, the Polish government by a New York bond issue of $15,000,000 has been granted the corresponding period of last year. The holiday, of course, was in part responsible for the small total of the week.

Tending to discount in a measure the drag on the market effected by the un## derlying issues, the dissolution of several syndicates, which had been supporting various new bonds at high ## levels, brought sharp recessions in prices here and there. Since there had been widespread contention that the quotations on recently issued securities was too high, this readjustment has added to the confidence which had been somewhat shaken prior to the first of the month. Signs that buyers and sellers were approaching the point of getting together were abundant, and a number of dealers reported that the over-the-counter movement of investment bonds has been considerably more brisk than the flow of issues through the listed market.

That a complete cure for the current period of indigestion is in immediate prospect is a hope held out by only a few bond circles. Nevertheless there are many who believe that relief is not only in sight, but here, and that the stagnation of the last few weeks is being supplanted by more normal activity.

An enormous amount of money is required, however, to absorb the unprecedented volume of new offerings which has inundated the market since the new year, of which estimates run as high as $4,000,000,000 and more. Conservative dealers predict that complete liquidation of this colossal amount of new material can not be expected before the year is near its close.

If present indications are borne out, an opportunity for gradual absorption of the oversupply of bonds will be possible during the last half of 1927. A few new issues of major proportions are in sight, but the number and aggregate is not alarmingly formidable. The loan to Poland, to amount to $60,000,000 more, is nearing consummation, and pending its completion, the Polish government by a New York bond issue of $15,000,000 has been granted the corresponding period of last year. The holiday, of course, was in part responsible for the small total of the week.

Tending to discount in a measure the drag on the market effected by the un## derlying issues, the dissolution of several syndicates, which had been supporting various new bonds at high ## levels, brought sharp recessions in prices here and there. Since there had been widespread contention that the quotations on recently issued securities was too high, this readjustment has added to the confidence which had been somewhat shaken prior to the first of the month. Signs that buyers and sellers were approaching the point of getting together were abundant, and a number of dealers reported that the over-the-counter movement of investment bonds has been considerably more brisk than the flow of issues through the listed market.

That a complete cure for the current period of indigestion is in immediate prospect is a hope held out by only a few bond circles. Nevertheless there are many who believe that relief is not only in sight, but here, and that the stagnation of the last few weeks is being supplanted by more normal activity.

An enormous amount of money is required, however, to absorb the unprecedented volume of new offerings which has inundated the market since the new year, of which estimates run as high as $4,000,000,000 and more. Conservative dealers predict that complete liquidation of this colossal amount of new material can not be expected before the year is near its close.

If present indications are borne out, an opportunity for gradual absorption of the oversupply of bonds will be possible during the last half of 1927. A few new issues of major proportions are in sight, but the number and aggregate is not alarmingly formidable. The loan to Poland, to amount to $60,000,000 more, is nearing consummation, and pending its completion, the Polish government by a New York bond issue of $15,000,000 has been granted the corresponding period of last year. The holiday, of course, was in part responsible for the small total of the week.

Tending to discount in a measure the drag on the market effected by the un## derlying issues, the dissolution of several syndicates, which had been supporting various new bonds at high ## levels, brought sharp recessions in prices here and there. Since there had been widespread contention that the quotations on recently issued securities was too high, this readjustment has added to the confidence which had been somewhat shaken prior to the first of the month. Signs that buyers and sellers were approaching the point of getting together were abundant, and a number of dealers reported that the over-the-counter movement of investment bonds has been considerably more brisk than the flow of issues through the listed market.

That a complete cure for the current period of indigestion is in immediate prospect is a hope held out by only a few bond circles. Nevertheless there are many who believe that relief is not only in sight, but here, and that the stagnation of the last few weeks is being supplanted by more normal activity.

An enormous amount of money is required, however, to absorb the unprecedented volume of new offerings which has inundated the market since the new year, of which estimates run as high as $4,000,000,000 and more. Conservative dealers predict that complete liquidation of this colossal amount of new material can not be expected before the year is near its close.

If present indications are borne out, an opportunity for gradual absorption of the oversupply of bonds will be possible during the last half of 1927. A few new issues of major proportions are in sight, but the number and aggregate is not alarmingly formidable. The loan to Poland, to amount to $60,000,000 more, is nearing consummation, and pending its completion, the Polish government by a New York bond issue of $15,000,000 has been granted the corresponding period of last year. The holiday, of course, was in part responsible for the small total of the week.

_____

THE GUMPS

The ever-popular opera "Carmen" will be the offering of the National

Daily Cross - V

July 21.

---

Miss Griggs, Petersburg, Bride. to The Washington Post.

---

Petersburg, Va., July 10.—In the of the Rev. Olin Ray, pastor of Street Methodist Episcopal last, yesterday afternoon, Miss Cecil Griggs, of this city, was married
Thomas Nathaniel Huntress, of

GASOLINE ALLEY

WE GOT YOU OUT WITHOUT A LAWYER, BUT IT'LL TAKE A GOOD ONE TO KEEP YOU OUT! THERE'S A FAMOUS ONE HERE NAMED U.S. GYSTONE WHO TAKES CASES FREE IF THEY'RE DESERVING ENOUGH!

HE'S NO LAWYER - HE'S A PUBLIC SERVICE! LET'S GO TO SEE HIM!

By Bill Conselman and Charlie Plumb

M SORRY. HANKS MR. STONE CAN'T TAKE YOURS - HERE IS FOR $25,000 TAINING FEE BACK!

OBBESGSH! IF HE WON'T TAKE $25,000, HE'LL TURN ME DOWN SO HARD THAT I'LL BOUNCE! ALL I CAN OFFER HIM IS MY PRAYERS!

DON'T GIVE UP - YOU MAY NOT HAVE TO!

WILL HE TAKE HER CASE? JEB STONE IS YOUR CHAMPION OF THE DOWN-TRODDEN SILVER-TONGUED ORATOR SCOURGE OF SUCKERS OF EVERY KIND - WILL HE?

© C. Copyright 1987, New York, N.Y.

MEANWHILE KEENE HAS GONE TO THE FREAKS TENT AND STATIONED HIMSELF BEHIND THE PLATFORM OF MME. VYPA, THE SNAKE-CHARMER, TO WHOM BEN MAMMON HAD ONCE BEEN ENGAGED —

I'LL STAND BACK OF THIS CURTAIN FOR A WHILE!

WELL, QUIT YOUR...

I DON'T YOU SUGAR - I'M SO NERVOUS - FEATHERS!

DON'T WORRY DEARIE - THIS IS MY LAST SEASON WITH IT!!

SUDDENLY THE TATTOOED MAN RUSHES EXCITEDLY INTO THE TENT FROM A SIDE ENTRANCE

500 LBS.

MIGOSH, FREAKS HAVE YA HEARD THE LATEST ?? THE JINX HAS GRABBED OFF ANOTHER VICTIM !!

DON'T MISS TOMORROW'S STARTLING EPISODE!

Eight-Day, 19-Inch
Mahogany Finish

Antel Clock
(American Make)
of Mahogany Finish

andlesticks

To Match

0c sk $8.75

ARX JEWELRY
COMPANY
101 7th St. N.W.

HORIZONTAL		VERTICAL
1—Guide's first note	50—Lady in King Arthur's court; "Idylls of the King"	1—Into prominence	8—Sun god of Egypt
2—Cessation		2—Second defeat of the British by Washington	9—The upper air
3—Second musical note	52—City of London	3—December 26, 1776, and January 1, 1777	10—Vertebral
4—State of not having the mind on the subject in hand	53—Wager	4—Defense of the prefix "hav-	11—Plural suffix
5—Transgress	44—United into a mass or whole	5—Perplex	12—Period
6—Printer's measure	55—One who scorches	6—Congealed liquid	14—Compound resulting from electrical decomposition
7—Choleric	56—The Coldent	7—Something shaped like a half moon (Fr.)	15—Auriferous
8—Piles	59—River in Czechoslovakia	8—Congealed liquid	16—Mineral spring
9—Liable to punishment		9—Something shaped like a half moon (Fr.)	17—Bakers in the vessel's record book
10—Liable to punishment		7—Periods of prosperity	24—Inquire
			25—X
			26—Other
			30—Behold!

SOLUTION OF PRECEDING PUZZLE.

34	Accure	uni.
35	From money
36	Prices used
37	Chase
38	Expression of disgust
39	Makes over
40	Gain
41	Amusement
42	Lab
43	Nothing
44	Replicas
45	Working stove
46	Change
47	Malicious
48	Chance
49	Your dentist
50	Conjunction
51	And (Pfr. or
52	Maiden turned into a heifer
53	The pelvis

1	APC	2	GRAND	3	ICE
4	FL	5	RUMOR	6	NOR
7	STA	8	TM	9	NA
10	YAN	11		12
13	SHAMPR	14	AGNATE	15
16	EN	17	EP	18	IP
19	ASTERS	20	AGENT	21
22	OR	23	TED	24	ONE
25	AM	26		27
28	CAAT	29	ATREAS	30
31	AM	32	TM	33
34	GAAGA	35	GAAGA	36
37	AGC	38	AG	39	AGC
40	AT	41	JOLAN	42	JAT
43	AT	44	AGAMO	45	AGT

A Hot Weather
Special!

*Eight-Day, 19-Inch
Mahogany Finish*

Mantel Clock
*(American Make)
And Mahogany Finish*

Candlesticks
To Match

Pay 50c
a Week

$8<sup>75</sup>

MARY JEWELRY
COMPANY
701 7th St. N.W.

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER

I'M GOIN' TO A SWELL PLACE FOR MY VACATION!

SAY, THAT REMINDS ME - WHEN DO WE GET OUR VACATIONS?

THAT'S RIGHT. IT'S ABOUT TIME WE WHEN WE OUR FRIST'

Forgive and Forget

SUBURBAN FOR SALE

DO YOU PLAN TO BUILD?

If you plan to build your own home, save money at the outset by buying a home site in "Greenway Downs" near Falls Church, Va., where no lot offered for sale at the opening price is above $1,000. We will build and help finance your home.

RUBY LEE MINAR, INC.
 • 1405 N. Y. Ave.      Main 1145.

LOTS WANTED

WANTED to buy suburban lots; from 10
100; must be north, northwest or northeast price must be low; consider small acre-owners preferred. Address all letters
P. O. box 140, Va. Beach, Va. 01

ACREAGE WANTED

ACREAGE WANTED
WANTED—Acreage for subdivision. Will in payment new detached brick houses a subject to one trust or could deliver clear a each cash. Will accept acreage at a p not to exceed double its borrowing capaci
 Will deliver our houses on the same val
 tion. Fulton M. Gordon, 1105 Continen
 Trust Building, Main 8361.

INVESTMENT PROPERTY
For Sale.
THREE small bricks, aw., rented for $35 each.
Will sell for $2,800 each. Main 4475. "12

HOUSES FOR SALE
CORNER HOUSE in Burleigh by service off being transferred; also lot in Battery "12

2322 19th St. N.W.
Located just north of Kalorama road... in the prime Washington

Heights section. Contains ten rooms and three baths (including servant's quarters), screened sleeping porch, roomy two-car brick garage. An especially compact, well arranged house in excellent order. Priced low, under $20,000. Easy terms arranged. Your smaller house considered in part payment.

L. E. F. PRINCE
 214 Investment Bldg.

MUST BE SOLD
FOUR-BEDROOM DETACHED HOME IN
CHEVY CHASE
For $12,500.
The lot is 60x150 feet. The home contains reception hall, living room, dining room, kitchen and large covered front porch and

10-ROOM BRICK ON PENNSYLVANIA AVE

RUBY LEE MINAR, INC.
603 NEW YORK AVE. MAIN 12

DOWNTOWN CORNER
$9,750.
 Near 22d and Penna. avenue—a valuable dwelling of nine rooms and two bathrooms, hot-water heat and electricity. Owned by a lady. Must sell.
STONE & FAIRFAX
 104 17th Street Main 242

OFFER at big sacrifice 3-room, 2 bath semi-detached brick in upper section; property just redecorated throughout; deep lot, 1 page; wonderful buy; vacant. People's Home Ins. Bldg., Room 200; Main 7671. Teed 78

REAL ESTATE LOANS

MONEY GIVEN AT ONCE

ST. 2d and 3d trusts; lowest rates.
H. J. COLEMAN, Franklin 5300
1410 G St. NW. tu29-309

---

QUICK MONEY
LEND. 2D AND 3D TRUSTS. $3000
ON MARYLAND AND D. C. HOMES
DAYS TO COMPLETE TRANSAC
COURTEOUS SERVICE.
C. F. WARING,

116 F ST. NW. • MAIN 9172-
198-909

money to loan in any amount for 3 or more to be secured upon first mortgage in District of Columbia. Installment loans in Washington and nearby Maryland and Virginia on the 10-year monthly installment plan providing for cancellation of the mortgage in case of death of the borrower.

E. QUINCY SMITH, INC., 909 15th. N.E.
1614-22

FROM TO $200,000. Immediately available for first-trust loans. 5 1/2% and 6%. Reasonable charges. Geo. W. Linkins, 1733 De Sales St., Jacksonville 14-307.

321 Connecticut ave. nw. Main Wf fe24-12
QUICK SERVICE.
 Second and Third Trusts. Lowest rates
 REALTY LOAN CO., INC., 106 14th st. nw., Room 206. Main 9411.
 au31
TYLER & RUTHERFORD

Loans at Lowest Rates.
320 E. st. nw. Main 478.
7424-r

LOWEST RATES.
Second and Third Trusts. Prompt service.
DISTRICT LOAN PROCUREMENT CO.
35 14th st. nw., Room 206. Main 4438.
au57

---

MONEY TO LOAN

WNS on autos and trucks procured; 6 percent interest, appraisal and broker's fees; delay. Monk, 421 N. Y. ave. n.w., Fr. 6900
Jell-501

WNS on autos, trucks; bring bill of sale today while you pay; open evenings and today; no delay; confidential. Main 1497
Franklin 7787. SUTTON, 449 E. st. n.w. Jell-501

PROPOSALS

COMMISSIONERS, D. C. WASHINGTON
 July 11, 1927. Sealed proposals will be received at room 300, District Building, until CLOCK P. M., AUGUST 1, 1927, for furnishing One Air Compressor Unit-Painting Machine and Accessories. Specifications and information at room 320, District Building.

13

COMMISSIONERS, D. C. WASHINGTON
 July 11, 1927. Sealed proposals will be received at room 300, District Building, until CLOCK P. M., AUGUST 1, 1927, for furnishing One Air Compressor Unit-Painting Machine and Accessories. Specifications and information at room 320, District Building.

at room 509, District Building, until 3
LOCK P. M., JULY 28, 1927, for furnishing Iron Water Pipe and Special Castings
Specifications and information at room 330,
District Building. 13

OPPORTUNITIES FOR CONSTRUCTION. OFFICE
Constructing Quartermaster, Washington.
Sealed proposals will be received here
11 a. m. JULY 15, 1927, and then opened the construction of East and West their connecting corridors to Administration Ridge, Walter Reed General Hospital.

STEAMSHIPS

A Little Cruise

Bel. Washington & Baltimore attractive & Enjoyable—Excellent Service Historic & Picturesque Scenery
Mr. One-way Trip, Leaving Washington on Wed., Sat., & P. M. Leaving on Same Days, 4:00 P. M. Leaving for Further Information & Tickets
BALTIMORE & VIRGINIA STEAMSHIP CO. in 2022

FOURTEENTH STREET LEADS TO MOST TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Has Average of 26 Monthly; Pennsylvania Avenue Next With 21 Mishaps.

INTERSECTIONS SHOWN AS MOST DANGEROUS

Relatively Few on Sixteenth Street Held to Prove Value of Signal Lights.

Traffic accidents are more common on Fourteenth street northward than on any other street in Washington, a survey made by officials of the Traffic Bureau disclosed. Out of 6,482 accidents in Washington last year, 807 occurred on Fourteenth street, an average of nearly 26 accidents a month.

Second among the main traffic arteries of Washington in number of accidents is Pennsylvania avenue northward, with 586 accidents last year, an average of a little more than 21 a month.

There is, however, a vast difference in the amount of traffic passing the length of the street on Pennsylvania avenue and on Pennsylvania avenue northward. According to the recent traffic count, between 4 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon as many as 4,163 vehicles passed on Pennsylvania avenue as a point near the intersection of the intersection of the avenue between Seventh and Thirteenth streets had the heaviest traffic in the city.

The highest traffic at any point on Fourteenth street was 2,270 vehicles. Cross Traffic Big Cause.

There is another explanation for the number of accidents than traffic volume passing the length of the street. According to M. O. Eldridge, traffic director, the cause is probably cross traffic and mixed traffic.

The street car traffic on Fourteenth street is heavy and there is a great deal of traffic on the street. However, according to Mr. Eldridge, probably the chief cause is traffic crossing the street. The cross-street traffic on Fourteenth street is unusually heavy.

The length of the street is another consideration in the number of accidents. Although Pennsylvania avenue is short compared with a number of other streets and avenues, it has a business district almost continuous from B street to beyond Columbia Heights.

The number of accidents on Fourteenth street northward was almost as great as that occurring on Pennsylvania avenue northward and southeast combined. On Pennsylvania avenue southeast, 77 accidents occurred, bringing the total for the entire avenue to 333, an average of 28 a month.

393 Accidents on Entire Length.

However, there are 86 accidents on Fourteenth street southwest, bringing the total for the entire length of Fourteenth street to 419, an average of nearly 35 a month. Besides having a much greater volume of traffic passing the length of the street, Pennsylvania avenue is entirely continuous, undoubtedly has a longer continuous business section. The belief that cross-street traffic is to blame for the fact that Fourteenth street has the greatest number of accidents is given further credence by this comparison.

Last year 44 accidents occurred on Fourteenth street in March. October was lowest, with fifteen accidents. March was also the peak month for accidents on Pennsylvania avenue northward, 41 occurring. May was the lowest month with eight accidents.

Care Needed at Intersections.

The fact that Fourteenth street is outstanding in the number of accidents brings up the problem of cross-street traffic, and the necessity of greater care on the part of the automobile driver at intersections. It emphasizes the fact that safety of adherence to regulations.

Safety Hint

The motorist should remember that intersections are places at which automobiles turn from one street into another. Remembering that, he should not try to pass another car in an intersection.

The law forbids it. In obeying the law, the motorist protects his own life as much as that of his neighbor. In trying to pass another car, he is likely to be struck by the car which he is trying to turn.

seven accidents a month, G street an average of eight accidents a month, and H street an average of nine accidents a month, during the year.

Alcantara Caravan's Itinerary Is Outlined

The itinerary of the seventh annual cruise and outing of Alcantara Caravan No. 12, Order of the Alhambra, beginning September 8, was announced yesterday by Lewis A. Payne, chairman.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following day. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other novel features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

$475,450 Contract Given for Barracks

Award has been made by the quartermaster general's office to R. R. Richardson, Inc., Norfolk, Va., for construction of six barracks buildings at Fort Humphreys, Va., the amount involved being $475,450. Work will be started immediately and must be completed in 180 days.

There were 25 bidders on the general project which consists of modern fireproof barracks, each with two stories, floors and frames, tile and brick walls, and slate roof. Buildings will include dormitories, mess hall, kitchen, modern lavatories, storerooms, recreation rooms and the usual barracks facilities.

MANOR PARK CHURCH ANNIVERSARY SERVICE

Founding of Evangelical Sunday School Year Ago Is Commemorated.

Special services were held at the Evangelical Church of Manor Park, Fourth and Rittenhouse streets northwest, yesterday morning in observance of the first anniversary of the Sunday school of the church. The Sunday school held its first session the second Sunday in July, 1926.

Five scholars who attended the first session of the Sunday school took part in the program yesterday. They were Everett Bryant, Alice Hall, Lois Hall, Mary Johnson, Ruth Stevenson and Mildred Small. The Rev. G. E. Schnabel, pastor, and Everett Jester, teacher of the Sunday school, also took part in the services.

The program consisted of special music and addresses by the scholars and Dr. Schnabel and Jester. The services were held in the first completed part of the new $100,000 church unit being built by the Evangelical Churches of this country.

POSSE SEEKS HIT-RUN AUTOIST IN VIRGINIA

Bus Passenger, Who Lost Arm in Crash, Is in Critical State.

While Police Sgt. William Douglas, of Potomac, Va., led a posse in search of a negro hit-and-run driver yesterday, Charles Duerr, 55 years old, of Alexandria, Va., his left arm amputated above the elbow, lay in Alexandria General Hospital in a critical condition, the victim of the motorist.

While riding in a bus Saturday night, Duerr's arm literally was torn off at the elbow when a stolen car, driven by the negro, alighted the bus and fled into the darkness. Amputation was deemed necessary to prevent blood poisoning, hospital physicians decide.

TRIP AROUND WORLD BY AUTO ALMOST COMPLETED

AN AUTO TRIP AROUND THE WORLD from England has been almost completed by Miss Violet Cordery, second from left, who arrived in New York recently. Others, left to right, are R. W. Sprague, observer; Miss Eleanor Simpson, Miss Cordery's companion, and Ernest Hatcher.

HIBERNIANS WILL HOLD HUGE OUTING TOMORROW

3,000 Irish-Americans Are Expected to Attend Chesapeake Beach Affair.

Seven organizations will hold their annual outings at Chesapeake Beach this week. The Ancient Order of Hibernians and its ladies' auxiliary and four ladies' auxiliaries of the Knights of St. John will hold their outing tomorrow.

OTHERS DURING WEEK

Three thousand Irish-Americans will go to the beach with the Ancient Order of Hibernians, it is expected. Daniel M. Stanton heads the general excursion committee, Thomas McGrath is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and Daniel Hassett is in charge of athletic events.

Other organizations which will visit the beach during the week are the Employees Beneficial Association of the Washington Gas Light Co. Wednesday; the State Council of the Daughters of America, Thursday; the Ladies Aid Society of the Brookland Baptist Church, Friday; and A. R. Talbot Camp, No. 11,912, Modern Woodmen of America, Saturday.

Screaming Sisters Frighten Away Men

Accosted by two white men while walking in Minnesota avenue near Pennsylvania avenue southeast last night, three young sisters screamed for help and frightened the pair away. The girls were Gertrude Howard, 16 years old; Dorothy Howard, 15 years old; and Edna Howard, 13 years old, all of 1440 Anacostia road southeast.

The sisters were returning to their home from a store when the men drove up in an automobile. After making futile efforts to lure the girls into the machine, one of the men jumped out, the sisters said, and grabbed them, attempting to force them into the car. When the girls screamed, the men jumped into the automobile and disappeared.

Store Owner Charged With Dry Violation

Raiding a cigar store at 409 H street northeast yesterday, police of the Ninth Precinct confiscated one pint of alleged whiskey and arrested Harry Foster, 38 years old, owner of the store on charges of illegal possession and sale of intoxicants.

Foster alleged that police destroyed a number of dishes and broke a soft drink bar in his establishment. Lieut. Gustav Lauten, leader of the raiding squad, said that the bar was fastened to the floor and fell over when some one brushed against it.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond High, 29, 207 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at 10:15 p.m. at 1113 Florida avenue northeast. Both were treated at Gallatin Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

18 ARE INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

tree on Park road, near the entrance to Rock Creek Park.

The injured are Rudolph H. Tushak, 40 years old; Frank Miller, 39 years old, Mrs. Miller's husband, and their 3-year-old son, Francis, all of Baltimore. They had driven to Washington for a day's sight-seeing.

Tushak, who was driving, said he averted from the road in an effort to avoid hitting another automobile. All four occupants were taken to Garfield by W. L. Payne, 804 Tenth street.

When two automobiles crashed and one overturned at Wisconsin and Massachusetts avenues northwest, Herman Esworth, 20 years old, and Mrs. Ruth Esworth, both of Germantown, were severely injured.

Esworth was treated at Georgetown University Hospital for a broken shoulder and face cuts, and Mrs. Esworth was cut about the legs. According to police the other automobile was driven by Orville Penwick, 7 Drummond avenue, Chevy Chase, Md.

Bradford R. Glascock, 27 years old, 220 Twelfth street southwest, driver of the car, lost the tip of his nose when the automobile crashed into a tree at Sixteenth and Q streets northwest.

The body of the car, which was a 1926 Eighteenth street northwest, his companion in the car, suffered a broken bone in her foot and a lacerated ankle in the collision, which occurred, police say, after Glascock's automobile was in collision with two other cars at Twenty-seventh and Q streets.

Edna Shepherd, 25 years old, of 1299 Eighteenth street northwest, his companion in the car, suffered a broken bone in her foot and a lacerated ankle in the collision, which occurred, police say, after Glascock's automobile was in collision with two other cars at Twenty-seventh and Q streets.

Capital Woman Injured In Baltimore Auto Crash

Baltimore, July 10.—Two persons were summoned to Traffic Court for reckless driving today, following an automobile accident at Aqueduct street and North avenue, in which one car was overturned and one of its occupants, Mrs. Sally Smith, of Washington, was injured.

Mrs. Smith was pinned beneath the car, receiving lacerations of the left arm and possible fracture of the left rib. After treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital, she was allowed to return home.

Mildred Timmerman, 27 years old, of Relay, Md., who was driving south on Aqueduct street, and Leroy Gailer, driver of the westbound Washington machine, according to the police, were given the summons.

What's Your Rating? Here Are the Answers.

1. Knight Commander of the Bath.
2. Denver, Colo.
3. Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana.
4. The Salvation Army.
5. John Jay (1745-1829).

Likewise Jay was secretary for foreign affairs under the Confederation, and continued to act in that role, at the request of President Washington until Thomas Jefferson could arrive to take up his duties as Secretary of State in the first Cabinet. He closed his active political life by serving as governor of New York (1795-1801).

6. Georges Clemenceau.
7. Yokohama.
8. Charles Dickens.
9. Yale won the freshman and junior varsity races. Harvard won varsity contest by three-quarters of a length.
10. The Anabasis.

Patrolman Cleared In Fatal Auto Crash

Patrolman Joseph A. Oldfield, of the Montgomery County police force, was exonerated of blame in the death of John Sherry, 32 years old, of Friendship Heights, Md., yesterday, by the verdict of a coroner's jury of Rockville, Md.

Sherry was fatally injured Saturday by an automobile driven by Oldfield. He died in Georgetown University Hospital, Justice of the Peace John Jones, of Rockville, acting as coroner, presided at the trial before a judicial commission of the Washington presbytery, governing body of the church. The commission will meet today at the Washington Presbyterian Church for what is expected to be the final session.

The commission was appointed at the meeting of the presbytery on June 13, and was empowered to conduct the trial of the pastor and render a final decision. For the past two weeks the body has been holding a series of public hearings on the case. A final testimony was offered Friday.

Dr. Wallace Radcliffe, chairman of the commission, has conducted the trial behind closed doors and has sworn each witness to secrecy. Dr. Radcliffe refused to discuss the proceedings other than to declare that until the decision is reached no information will be made public.

At the morning service approximately 300 members of the congregation attended. After the service, which was entitled "Points," Dr. Barrows administered communion. In the evening more than 300 heard the pastor preach on "Whom I Serve." The pastor had a reception in the vestibule of the church following both services.

The supporters of the pastor are confident that he will be acquitted, while the dissenters, led by Alfred C. Calvert, who is conducting the prosecution, is equally confident that he will be found guilty.

BROTHER OF MILLS GRILLED BY POLICE

Continued from page 1.

screams. When asked how he knew it was two minutes after 6 o'clock, when he saw the man running across the farm and the pike, Dr. Worthing said he looked at his watch thinking the man was an employee of the farm late for work.

The diversified groups investigating the slaying of Mills were in agreement last night that the man running across the farm was not the man who was one of them would withdraw from the investigation to satisfy the demands of the others.

The friction among the various investigating groups which is causing protest from the citizens of Rockville, who think that the case is being handled in a haphazard manner, has been settled days ago, it is pointed out, and has thus far resulted in failure to develop a single definite lead in the investigation to the identification of the mysterious "man in black" who calmly walked up to Mills in his field about 5 o'clock, and then walked into the woods.

Detective Lieutenant James A. Manning, of Baltimore, who is cooperating with the Rockville police, said last night that while he had questioned several persons during the day he had been able to make but little progress. He said that he was furnished with some information of a general nature in connection with the case, he said, and he had spent the day running down the information. The information was furnished by the Rev. H. H. Nicoll, of Traylor, the Mills' pastor, who, since the murder, has taken an active part in the investigation.

Manning would not divulge the exact nature of the information, which the clergyman had given him, but said that it was rather indefinite.

Commenting on the demands from certain quarters in Rockville that he retire from the case, Manning declared that he would remain in Rockville working on the murder until he had run out every possible clue. He said that this had not been done yet, although scores of fruitless tips had been followed.

Stanley Gilling, former deputy sheriff, was here yesterday, and the Mills family to aid in the search for the slayer, took the same attitude. He questioned several persons during the day but would not comment on the information obtained.

Police Are Active.

In the meantime the Rockville police headquarters were active during the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that the case will be solved and that it will not join the already long list of unsolved homicide cases which adorn the record of Montgomery County.

There were reports in the little city throughout the Sabbath which had the effect of stirring the populace to further investigation. The case was quite largely to a discussion of the case, small groups gathering at the courthouse and various other public places to hold an open forum on the slaying. Everyone in the community seems to "know" who committed the murder, but no one has any definite information to give the investigators. The probe has continually complained that while they are surfeited with information it is of no general interest and that nothing can be done with it.

U. S. S. Allen in Two Days of Maneuvers.

Washington and Baltimore naval reservists aboard the U. S. S. Allen, the day under the direction of Chief Alva Moxley. Several persons were brought into the station and queried on various aspects of the case. Chief Moxley said that the police are confident that

FOURTEENTH STREET LEADS CITY IN MOST TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

Has Average of 26 Monthly;
Pennsylvania Avenue Next
With 21 Mishaps.

INTERSECTIONS SHOWN AS MOST DANGEROUS

Relatively Few on Sixteenth Street Held to Prove Value of Signal Lights.

Traffic accidents are more common on Fourteenth street northwest than on any other street or avenue in Washington, a survey made by officials of the Traffic Bureau discloses.

Out of 6,485 accidents in Washington last year, 307 occurred on Fourteenth street, an average of nearly 26 accidents a month.

Second among the main traffic arteries of Washington in number of accidents is Pennsylvania avenue northwest, with 256 accidents last year, an average of a little more than 21 a month.

There is, however, a vast difference in the amount of traffic passing the length of the street on Fourteenth street and on Pennsylvania avenue northwest.

According to the recent traffic count, between 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon as many as 4,163 vehicles passed on Pennsylvania avenue at a point near Tenth street. The section of the avenue between Seventh street and Thirteenth street had the heaviest traffic in the city.

The highest count at any point on Fourteenth street was 2,279 vehicles.

Cross Traffic Big Cause.

There is another explanation for the number of accidents than traffic volume passing the length of the street. According to M. O. Eldridge, assistant traffic director, the cause is probably cross traffic and the heavy traffic on the street.

The street car traffic on Fourteenth street is heavy, and there is a great deal of traffic on the street. However, according to Mr. Eldridge, probably the chief cause is traffic crossing the street.

The cross-street traffic on Fourteenth street is unusually heavy.

The length of the street is another consideration in the number of accidents. Although Fourteenth street is short compared with a number of other streets and avenues, it has a business district almost continuous from B street to beyond Columbia Heights.

The number of accidents on Fourteenth street northwest was almost as great as that occurring on Pennsylvania avenue northwest in the same section.

On Pennsylvania avenue southeast, 77 accidents occurred, bringing the total for the entire avenue to 333, an average of 28 a month.

393 Accidents on Entire Length.

However, there were 86 accidents on Fourteenth street southeast, bringing the total for the entire length of Fourteenth street to 393 accidents, an average of nearly 33 accidents a month.

March was also the peak month for accidents on Pennsylvania avenue northwest, 41 occurred. May was the lowest month with eight accidents.

Care Needed at Intersections.

The fact that Fourteenth street is outstanding in the number of accidents brings up the problem of cross-street traffic and the need for greater care on the part of the automobile driver at intersections. It emphasizes the necessity of strict adherence to regulations.

The majority of the accidents at intersections are in each case the fault of one of two persons. In case a pedestrian is struck, either the pedestrian or motorist was in the wrong. In case a collision, one of two motorists was careless. This is not always true, but it is the general rule. Very often a motorist will try to dash ahead of a street car after the manner of the great number who have found their fins by trying to beat fast passenger trains to crossings. The result is that the street car is not a few, but many people are endangered. The intersection is the great danger point. It is the point at which cooperation among drivers is most essential, and selfishness, willfulness and carelessness are most dangerous. All this is emphasized by Fourteenth street's record in accidents.

Mishaps Heaviest in January.

The greatest number of accidents occurring on Sixteenth street was 27, in January. The lowest number was six, in November. The average number a month was 13. The recent traffic count gave Sixteenth street 2,616 vehicles, passing at one point within the two hours. This exceeds by more than 300 vehicles the largest count made at any point on Fourteenth street.

It is a fact that better organization of the traffic and more orderly movement of the signal lights, is extremely important in reducing the number of accidents. The car was stolen from John T. Nelson, 2844 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

With an average of 26 accidents a month, Fourteenth street is the most dangerous intersection in the city.

The peak month for accidents on Fourteenth street was January, with 32 accidents. The lowest number was six, in November. The average number a month was 13. The recent traffic count gave Sixteenth street 2,616 vehicles, passing at one point within the two hours. This exceeds by more than 300 vehicles the largest count made at any point on Fourteenth street.

It is a fact that better organization of the traffic and more orderly movement of the signal lights, is extremely important in reducing the number of accidents. The car was stolen from John T. Nelson, 2844 Wisconsin avenue northwest.

With an average of 26 accidents a month, Fourteenth street is the most dangerous intersection in the city.

The peak month for accidents on Fourteenth street was January, with 32 accidents. The lowest number was six, in November. The average number a month was 13. The recent traffic count gave Sixteenth street 2,616 vehicles, passing at one point within the two hours. This exceeds by more than 300 vehicles the largest count made at any point on Fourteenth street.

Safety Hint

The motorist should remember that intersections are places at which automobiles turn from one street into another. Remembering that, he should not try to pass another car in an intersection.

The law forbids it. In obeying the law, the motorist protects his own life as much as that of his neighbor. In trying to pass another car, he is likely to be struck by the car which he is trying to turn.

seven accidents a month, G street an average of eight accidents a month, and H street an average of nine accidents a month, during the year.

More Headlight Testing.

The division of the number of accidents according to streets is being continued by the Traffic Bureau. The results during 1927 match fairly well with the results last year. The American Automobile Association, in cooperation with the Police Department, will resume the testing of automobile headlights tonight. The testing continues from 8 o'clock to 11 o'clock.

Tests are made at the following places: The Police Department testing station, 1409 E street northwest; on Broadway square southeast, between Pennsylvania avenue and Fifth street; on G street northeast, between Fourteenth street and Maryland avenue; on E street northwest, between Sixteenth street and H street; on M street northwest, between Twenty-seventh street and Twenty-eighth streets; and on Maryland avenue southwest, between First and Second streets.

Alcantara Caravan's Itinerary Is Outlined

The itinerary of the seventh annual cruise and outing of Alcantara Caravan No. 12, Order of the Alhambra, beginning September 3, was announced yesterday by Lewis A. Payne, chairman.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

The boat will leave Baltimore the Saturday before Labor Day, arriving at Old Point Comfort the following morning. Norfolk will be the first stop, where those making the trip will be given the opportunity of visiting historic points. Virtually all of Labor Day will be spent at Yorktown, Va., where a bathing beauty contest and several other notable features will be given. The return to Baltimore will begin that evening.

TRIP AROUND WORLD BY AUTO ALMOST COMPLETED

AN AUTO TRIP AROUND THE WORLD from England has been almost completed by Miss Violet Cordery, second from left, who arrived in New York recently. Others, left to right, are R. W. Sprague, observer; Miss Eleanor Simpson, Miss Cordery's companion, and Ernest Hatcher.

HIBERNIANS WILL HOLD HUGE OUTING TOMORROW

3,000 Irish-Americans Are Expected to Attend Chesapeake Beach Affair.

Others During Week

Seven organizations will hold their annual outings at Chesapeake Beach this week. The Ancient Order of Hibernians and its ladies' auxiliary and four ladies' auxiliaries of the Knights of St. John will hold their outing tomorrow.

Three thousand Irish-Americans will go to the beach during the week. The Ancient Order of Hibernians, it is expected, Daniel M. Stanton heads the general excursion committee. Thomas McGraw is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and Daniel Hasset is in charge of athletic events.

More than 1,500 persons will attend the outing of the auxiliaries of the Knights of St. John. The arrangements committee is composed of Miss Katherine Shea, Mrs. George B. Warren, Mrs. Peter B. Burke and Miss Bernice Knott.

Other organizations which will visit the beach during the week are the Employers Beneficial Association of the Washington Gas Light Co. Wednesday, the State Council of the Daughters of America, Thursday, the Ladies Aid Society of the Brooklyn Baptist Church, Friday, and A. R. Talbot Camp, No. 1,191, Modern Woodmen of America, Saturday.

The body of Hall was taken to the District morgue, where an autopsy was performed. Hall is survived by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Reed, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Albert Johnson and Miss Margaret Hall. Hall's records reveal, was arrested April 7, 1926, on the charge of taking an automobile without consent of the owner.

BAPTIST PREACHER
UNDER INVESTIGATION

Commission Studies Charges
Against Lawson, of Maryland Avenue Church.

A commission of five men, its activities veiled in secrecy, is investigating charges against the Rev. H. M. Lawson, pastor of the Maryland Avenue Baptist Church, and when its investigation is completed, members of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, local governing body of the church, will hold sessions and determine the fate of the pastor.

The Rev. Henry O. W. Millington, executive secretary of the association, declared last night that no meetings would be held until the investigation is completed. He said: "It may be weeks and it may be months before the investigation is finished."

Dr. Lawson is accused by deacons of his church of attempting to drive a young woman and an officer of his church from the congregation. At a meeting in the Calvary Baptist Church, June 29, the disension was formally reported and Dr. Lawson, it is said, defended himself, declaring the couple guilty of misconduct and that he was attempting to reform them. Following the meeting, the commission of five men was appointed to investigate the charges. Dr. Millington declared that the commission is investigating every angle of the case.

Pocketbook Snatched From Woman.

Miss Alice Wood, 1424 Euclid street northwest, had a pocketbook containing $17.87 snatched from her hand while she was walking in Park road near Ziazi place northwest last night, she said. The robber, a young white man, ran up behind her and snatched the pocketbook.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention, but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond Bligh, 32, 927 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at Seventh and I street northeast, early yesterday. Both were treated at Gallinger Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention, but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond Bligh, 32, 927 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at Seventh and I street northeast, early yesterday. Both were treated at Gallinger Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention, but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond Bligh, 32, 927 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at Seventh and I street northeast, early yesterday. Both were treated at Gallinger Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

POLICEMAN SHOTS YOUTH IN AUTO

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

J. Smith, of the hospital staff, declared him dead upon arrival.

Relieved of his equipment, Campbell was detained at the Tenth Precinct pending the outcome of the inquest, which Dr. J. Ramsey Nevitt, District coroner, ordered to be held in the District morgue at 11 o'clock today. Buchanan was permitted to remain on duty.

Lieut. Jerry Sullivan and Detective Dennis J. Murphy, of the Tenth Precinct, conducted the police investigation. They found that the automobile was a stolen car, taken Saturday night from in front of the home of David Samakow, 2101 New Hampshire avenue northwest, the owner. Samakow was unaware that the car was stolen until notification by police after the shooting.

Policeman Has Good Record.

Davis and White were questioned by Lieut. Sullivan and Detective Murphy, and both pleaded ignorance to the identity of the man, who escaped. They told police that Hall and the unidentified man, who was driving the car, met them on Georgia avenue late Saturday night. They signed statements declaring that a quantity of liquor was purchased and consumed by them during the night. Both told police that they could not remember how the shooting occurred and did not realize the car was stolen.

Campbell has been on the Metropolitan police force for more than two years and has a good record. Maj. Edwin B. Hesse, chief of police, declared, He is attached to the Tenth Precinct as a motorcycle policeman.

The body of Hall was taken to the District morgue, where an autopsy was performed. Hall is survived by his mother, Mrs. Catherine Reed, and three sisters, Mrs. Mary Taylor, Mrs. Albert Johnson and Miss Margaret Hall. Hall's records reveal, was arrested April 7, 1926, on the charge of taking an automobile without consent of the owner.

BAPTIST PREACHER
UNDER INVESTIGATION

Commission Studies Charges
Against Lawson, of Maryland Avenue Church.

A commission of five men, its activities veiled in secrecy, is investigating charges against the Rev. H. M. Lawson, pastor of the Maryland Avenue Baptist Church, and when its investigation is completed, members of the Columbia Association of Baptist Churches, local governing body of the church, will hold sessions and determine the fate of the pastor.

The Rev. Henry O. W. Millington, executive secretary of the association, declared last night that no meetings would be held until the investigation is completed. He said: "It may be weeks and it may be months before the investigation is finished."

Dr. Lawson is accused by deacons of his church of attempting to drive a young woman and an officer of his church from the congregation. At a meeting in the Calvary Baptist Church, June 29, the disension was formally reported and Dr. Lawson, it is said, defended himself, declaring the couple guilty of misconduct and that he was attempting to reform them. Following the meeting, the commission of five men was appointed to investigate the charges. Dr. Millington declared that the commission is investigating every angle of the case.

Pocketbook Snatched From Woman.

Miss Alice Wood, 1424 Euclid street northwest, had a pocketbook containing $17.87 snatched from her hand while she was walking in Park road near Ziazi place northwest last night, she said. The robber, a young white man, ran up behind her and snatched the pocketbook.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention, but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond Bligh, 32, 927 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at Seventh and I street northeast, early yesterday. Both were treated at Gallinger Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention, but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond Bligh, 32, 927 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at Seventh and I street northeast, early yesterday. Both were treated at Gallinger Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

Police were unable to determine the cause of the fight. Daniels, at first, refused hospital attention, but finally allowed physicians to dress a deep cut over his right eye.

Men to Hospital Following Fight

Jessie H. Daniels, 27 years old, 1113 Florida avenue northeast, and Raymond Bligh, 32, 927 Ninth street northeast, police report, engaged in a fight at Seventh and I street northeast, early yesterday. Both were treated at Gallinger Hospital for severe cuts and bruises.

18 ARE INJURED IN AUTO MISHAPS

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1.

tree on Park road, near the entrance to Rock Creek Park.

The injured are Rudolph H. Tushek, 40 years old; Frank Miller, 39 years old, L. Miller's husband, and their 3-year-old son, Francis, all of Baltimore. They had driven to Washington for a day's sight-seeing.

Tushek, who was driving, said he swerved from the road in an effort to avoid hitting another automobile. All four occupants were taken to Galliford by W. L. Payne, 804 Tenth street.

When two automobiles crashed and one overturned at Wisconsin and Massachusetts avenues northwest, Herman Esworth, 20 years old, and Mrs. Ruth Esworth, both of Germantown, were severely injured.

Esworth was treated at Georgetown University Hospital for a broken shoulder and face cuts, and Mrs. Esworth was cut about the legs. According to police the other automobile was driven by Orline Fenwick, 7 Drummond avenue, Chevy Chase, Md.

Bradford R. Glascock, 27 years old, 220 Twelfth street southwest, driver of what police declared to be a "hit-and-run" car, lost the tip of his nose when the automobile crashed into a tree at Sixteenth and Q streets northwest.

Edna Shepherd, 25 years old, 1929 Eighteenth street northwest, his companion in the car, suffered a broken bone in her foot and a lacerated ankle in the collision, which occurred, police say, after Glascock's automobile was in a meeting of the executive committee of the Young Men's Christian Association.

At Emergency Hospital they were treated for shock, in addition to other injuries. Glascock declared the automobile left the scene after the crash.

Unidentified for more than an hour while he lay unconscious at Georgetown University Hospital. Arthur Boucher, 63 years old, of Somerset, Md., was suffering yesterday from cuts and bruises received when he was struck by a street car.

Police say that Boucher was crossing Wisconsin avenue and Chesapeake street northwest, when he was hit by a car operated by Paul J. Boring.

Suffering from an injured nose and forehead, John Fulk, 24 years old, of Boyds, Md., who was hurt yesterday in an automobile accident near Clarking, was reported recovering last night at the Frederick City Hospital, at Frederick, Md.

The automobile he was driving was in collision with a car operated by John F. Hargett, of Germantown, Md. Hargett and two occupants of his automobile were slightly injured.

Run down on Dix street near Sixteenth street northeast, by an automobile, the driver of which jumped from the vehicle and ran, Howard Shorter, colored, 33 years old, of Takoma Park, Md., was treated for cuts last night at Freedmen's Hospital. Police are searching for the driver of the "hit-and-run" car.

Crossing the thoroughfare in front of 1017 Thirteenth street northwest, Mabel King, colored, 20 years old, 1331 Kingman place northwest, walked into an automobile driven by Walter Cox, 1000 O street northwest. She was treated at Freedmen's Hospital for injuries to the scalp and cuts on the legs.

Struck by an automobile that police say was driven by Ethel Holland, 30 years old, 3507 Eleventh street northwest, Roy Burwell, colored, 25 years old, 1449 P street northwest, suffered minor injuries. He also was treated at Freedmen's Hospital.

Capital Woman Injured
In Baltimore Auto Crash

Baltimore, July 10.—Two persons were injured today, following an automobile accident at Asquith street and North avenue, in which one car was overturned and one of its occupants, Mrs. Sally Smith, of Washington, was injured.

Mrs. Smith was pinned beneath the car, receiving lacerations of the left arm and possible fracture of the left ribs. After treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital, she was allowed to return home.

Mildred Timmerman, 27 years old, of Relay, Md., who was driving south on Asquith street, and Leroy Guler, driver of the westbound Washington machine, according to the police, were given the summons.

Enlarging the American Division

THE REORGANIZATION INCREASED THE RATIO OF ARTILLERY REGIMENTS TO INFANTRY, TO CONFORM TO THE DEMANDS OF MODERN WARFARE. IN THE OLD DIVISION ORGANIZATION THERE WERE THREE ARTILLERY REGIMENTS TO NINE OF INFANTRY. THE NEW DIVISIONS HAD THREE ARTILLERY REGIMENTS TO FOUR OF INFANTRY.

ON ADDITION, EACH DIVISION WAS EQUIPPED WITH 416 MACHINE GUNS. LESS THAN TWO YEARS BEFORE THERE HAD NOT BEEN 200 MACHINE GUNS IN THE ENTIRE AMERICAN ARMY. LEARNING FROM THE EXPERIENCE OF THE ALLIES, THE ARMY WAS TO GO INTO THE FIELD BETTER EQUIPPED THAN THE ARMY OF ANY OTHER NATION.

Enlarging the American Division

What's Your Rating? Here Are the Answers.

1. Knight Commander of the Bath.
2. Denver, Colo.
3. Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana.
4. The Salvation Army.
5. John Jay "1745-1829".

Likewise Jay was secretary for foreign affairs under the Confederation, and continued to act in that role, at the request of President Washington until Thomas Jefferson could arrive to take up his duties as Secretary of State in the first Cabinet. He closed his active political life by serving as governor of New York (1795-1801).

6. Georges Clemenceau.
7. Yokohama.
8. Charles Dickens.
9. Yale won the freshman and junior varsity races. Harvard won varsity contest by three-quarters of a length.
10. The Anabasis.

(Copyright, 1927.)

Patrolman Cleared In Fatal Auto Crash

Patrolman Joseph A. Oldfield, of the Montgomery County police force, was exonerated of blame in the death of John Sherry, 52 years old,